Novato Board Breaks Off With Smith

Novato Unified School District trustees early today broke off negotiations with Supt. William J. J. Smith on a new contract.

The break came at 1:20 a.m. by the same 3-to-2 vote which on Dec. 26 accepted Smith's resignation. It ended a session attended by about 100 persons, many of whom spoke for and against re-hiring the superintendent.

Winding up the third session of discussions with Smith since the resignation, trustee Marett B. Boissevain Jr. moved negotiations be continued at an executive session next Tuesday night. Trustees Leonora M. Dougherty seconded the motion. But chairman Earl Marshall and trustees William Kirk and Joseph Sereda voted "no."

APPARENTLY ENDS IT

This appeared to end the possibility of Smith being superintendent beyond next June 30.

The action came as no surprise to the crowd. Both Marshall and Kirk had indicated on questioning from the audience that they would not negotiate further. Sereda had said he would like to see an outside person carry on negotiations.

Tempers flared once during the night when Kirk accused Boissevain of "putting friendship before civic duty." Both apologized before the discussion ended.

Earlier, Smith presented the board with a written 2,000-word statement giving his answers to 13 points raised by Marshall at last week's session.

'WAS' NOT 'IS'

Marshall said that the points were presented as "was" not "is" because he had already stated that he personally was through with negotiations.

Boissevain said he had understood Smith was to come to the meeting prepared to give his views on the points. Smith's statement was not read.

The board accepted, without public reading, letters from school administrators and teachers at Hill, West Novato, Marion, Olive and Novato High schools. The number of signatures on each letter in support of Smith was not indicated. Teachers in the audience said that it was a big majority.

RESTATES STAND

Marshall restated his stand that he broke off negotiations with Smith when the school administrators tried to get the school board association to interfere with the Novato board.

He had a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the Marin County School Boards Assn., stating that the association would not take any position in the Novato affair. She reported the California School Boards Assn. would consider any local situation "in light of full information about the situation with the local district."

Smith sat quietly through the meeting.

Highlights of Smith's answers on the 13 points—presented by not read—were:

1. On the right of teachers to approach the board, "I subscribe to good communication between board members and teachers."

2. On public relations: "The hard facts of school operation must be faced whether pleas-

Two Sausalito Councilmen Face Recall

Action Touched Off By Recent Police Demands

Sausalito insurance broker Russell S. Reagan said today he will begin circulating petitions within a few days to put the recall of Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and City Councilman Michael Harris on the April 10 Sausalito ballot.

The reason, he said, is "misuse of office."

If Reagan qualifies his petitions — which would require 833 signatures—four of the five city council posts would be at stake. Terms of Councilmen Marjorie Brady and George E. Kenney expire this year.

Reagan said he would not ask recall of Councilman Howard Sievers, whose term has two years to run, because "we feel Sievers has tried."

"Recall has been in a lot of people's minds for some time," said Reagan, but action was touched off by dissatisfaction with the council's response at its Jan. 9 meeting to demands for better police protection.

Reagan, who lives at 1 Edwards Avenue, said he has "a substantial number of obligations from supporters—enough to ask for a recall."

Charles E. Finney brought up the recall rumor at last night's city council meeting. He said he is willing to bet "the person starting the petition would be the same type who would object if someone came to his business and told him how to run it." He said operations of the police department should be considered by the city council.

Councilmen made no comment.

The council heard a report made by Harris on police recommendations and voted unanimously, Councilman Keeney absent, as follows:

1. Authorized City Manager Charles A. Brown to hire immediately a clerk typist-matron to relieve a policeman for outside duty. (The council yesterday hired Robert Ward, formerly a reserve officer, as an additional police officer, authorized Jan. 9).

2. Authorized a State Department of Justice study of the department's office procedures and its full range of operations, cost to be about $100.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR HOSPITAL JOB

Temporary Repair Work To Begin Next Week For May 1 Deadline

Strengthening the Marin County Hospital buildings to safeguard occupants for the next two years is expected to start sometime next week as result of award of a contract yesterday to Richard Zoellner of Ross.

Zoellner's figure of $79,757 was lowest among five bidders. He recently constructed additions to the county's juvenile hall.

The County Board of Supervisors made the award yesterday afternoon and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham promised to hurry through all formalities.

As an all-day session to reach hospital policy decisions opened this morning, Chairman Walter R. Castro said the temporary repair job on two Lucas Valley structures should get under way before the end of next week and finish well before the state-set May 1 deadline.

The supervisors nearly cancelled today's meeting last night on learning of the continued indisposition of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, but finally agreed to go ahead because of the many notifications sent to hospitals, architects, department heads and other interested parties.

The four supervisors present could gather information and let decision await presence of a full board, it was agreed.

Castro announced that after initial presentation by Administrator Alan Bruce, presentation would be heard from Marin General Hospital and other hospitals, the Marin Medical Society, private groups and others, followed by statements from department heads concerned.

July 1, said Bruce, is the date for final decision and call for bids if the county is to build its own new facility.

Though the county has on hand $130,000 worth of plans for a two and one-quarter million-dollar facility, Bruce said, these are "probably of a scope more extensive than is now needed."

Among factors in this Bruce cited the possibility of federal medical care under social security.

Presentations of the various possibilities to be sorted out by the supervisors led off with reading of a statement on behalf of Marin General Hospital analyzing its resources and possibilities for cooperation with the county, by Mrs. Mar-

Vote Approves Annexation Of Novato Area

Not many persons voted but the majority in the Novato Unified School District yesterday approved annexation to the Marin Junior College District.

County Clerk George S. Jones announced the semi-official totals as:

Yes, 619; no, 46.

This is a ratio of nearly 14 to 1 in favor of the annexation, which will make Novato property owners subject to the junior college district tax but allow Novato students to attend College of Marin without paying tuition.

It will also make legally possible construction of a second campus for College of Marin in the Novato area, which college district trustees have said is contemplated.

Voting at the various polling places was: High School, 109 yes, 3 no; Hill School, 96 yes, 10 no; West Novato School, 103 yes, 6 no; Lu Sutton School, 116 yes, 7 no; Marion School, 96 yes, 8 no, and Olive School 99 yes, 12 no.

Latin America 'Neighbors' Tour Is Off

The Independent-Journal's "good neighbor" tour to South America — scheduled to depart Feb. 15 — was indefinitely postponed today.

Jack Starks, sales reprsentative of Pan American World Air ways, said the postponement was the result of an insufficient number of confirmed reservations.

He said Redwood Travel Advisors reported wide interest in the projected tour and that it probably will be rescheduled next fall, affording prospective participants more time to make arrangements.

There were indications that the Sausalito Committee for the People-to-People — the group that conducts sister city relationships with Vina Del Mar, Chile would possibly participate in a fall tour to Latin America.

San Anselmo Attorney Will Run For Assembly

Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of 10 Green Valley Court, San Anselmo, a lawyer practicing in San Francisco, announced last night that he is a candidate for the Seventh District state assembly seat now held by William T. Bagley, San Rafael Republican.

His announcement was made at a meeting of the Marin County Council of Democratic Clubs in the courthouse in San Rafael, following a recent sounding of opinion among various Democratic clubs of the county. The district Goldstein seeks to serve includes both Marin and Sonoma counties.

TWO CHILDREN

Goldstein is 35, married and has two children. Born in St. Louis, Mo., he came to California in 1958. At one time he was assistant district attorney in New York where he successfully prosecuted Johnny Dio, a labor racketeer.

Goldstein charged in an announcement statement that his district is "beset with problems and the present representation is unprepared or unwilling to cope with them."

He pictured Marin and Sonoma counties as "spectators at the passing parade of new industry, new jobs, new schools, additional classrooms, rapid transit, mental hygiene facilities, up-to-date medical and hospital services, aid for retarded children, consumer protection and a multitude of other community services made possible through competent representation in the legislature."

SEEKS REFORMS

Goldstein said the "administrative anarchy" has been created by splitting problems among semi-autonomous government agencies with entrenched officials busy protecting their own authority. He said that the legislature must provide reforms and reorganization.

He blamed "pettiness, provincialism and bickering" for such things as Marin's failure to get Short-Doyle Act benefits, depression of Sonoma's egg and poultry industry with no replacement in sight, "the absurd position of Marin and Sonoma representatives on the

Pt. Reyes Park Vote Is Changed

Bill Now Before Congress

Supervisor William Gnoss switched his vote of the previous week yesterday to put the Marin County Board of Supervisors on record in favor of the Point Reyes National Seashore Bill now before Congress.

When the issue was debated last week by desire of new Supervisor Peter Behr, a resolution by Behr to support the pending seashore bill, calling for 26,000-acre effective size, won support only from Supervisor Walter R. Castro for a 2-2 tie in the absence of Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

This became 3-1 yesterday due to Gnoss's action.

EXPLAINS VIEW

He spoke up without preliminary to read a statement which first explained his opposition previously as because he "favored further negotiations with the ranchers and therefore opposed the Point Reyes Bill until such time as an amicable agreement could be reached."

Gnoss said that he has known the ranchers for years "and felt, and still feels, that they need every protection available." But he went on:

"I have found that everything is being done for the ranchers which we could hope for under the particular circumstances today.

NOVATO FAVORS

"On the other hand I have found that the people of my district, which includes the fast-growing city of Novato, are in favor of the establishment of the Point Reyes Park. It is my desire to represent the majority opinion in my district while protecting all special interests insofar as is practical."

Behr promptly seconded Gnoss's motion to change his vote.

"I'm still going to vote no," said Supervisor George Ludy in whose district the proposed seashore lies, "but I respect Bill's position and don't hold anything against him for changing his vote."

Behr said he had "great respect for anyone who has the flexibility to reconsider."

Still ailing at his home, Fusselman last night said he'd still stand with Ludy to make the board position 3-2 for the project.

Present form of the bill sets the over-all park dimension at 53,000 acres but lets the ranchers keep on ranching, plus some other reservation of private interest, to limit public use to 26,000 acres.

It Was Cold But Warmer

It was cold again this morning in Marin, but not quite so cold as yesterday.

Judge Frees Van Doren After He Says He Lied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charles Van Doren pleaded guilty today to lying about his appearances on rigged television shows and received a suspended sentence from a judge who said he could "read the humiliation on your face."

Van Doren, 35, the former Columbia University instructor who won $129,000 on the show, "Twenty One," five years ago, changed his plea to guilty to the perjury charge when he appeared before special sessions court Justice Edward F. Breslin.

Van Doren spoke only the word "guilty" as he appeared, gaunt and sober faced, along with 10 other former contestants on television quiz shows. All were charged with getting the answers in advance.

The second degree perjury charge carried a possible maximum sentence of one year imprisonment and a $500 fine.

Also in court today were Hank Bloomgarden, who won $98,500 on "Twenty One" and Elfrida Von Nardoff, 36, who won $220,500 on the same show.

Both Bloomgarden and Miss Von Nardoff also changed their pleas to guilty and received suspended sentences.

Van Doren said outside the courtroom that he had not been working regularly lately but had a couple of "job offers for teaching — one of them definite."

"I'd like to go back to teaching," he said. "As a matter of fact, I would like to drop out of sight altogether. I'm sorry I ever got into all this."

Van Doren's appearance took less than five minutes. Attorney Carl Rubino told the court Van Doren wanted to change his plea to guilty and "throw himself on the mercy of the court."

With Knight Out, 3 Still Running In GOP Contest

Ex-Governor Forced Out Of Race By Illness; Brown Raps Opponents

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's sudden withdrawal from the governor's race left three Republicans today to challenge incumbent Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Knight, 65, quit the campaign after a two-month bout with hepatitis. His withdrawel left these Republicans in the race: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, former Lt. Gov. Harold Powers, and Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles, who is running as an avowed conservative.

Brown said after he learned of Knight's action that "his withdrawal means that the moderates voting in the Republican Party apparently are left without a candidate."

The governor described both Nixon and Shell as "to the right of center." In his initial statement, he overlooked the announced candidacy of Powers. When he was reminded of that, Brown said:

"Well, Knight's action will leave Mr. Powers to carry the burden of the moderates."

Nixon appeared to be surprised by the suddenness of Knight's departure from the campaign. He expressed his sympathy and best wishes to Knight and said it was "a difficult blow to a tireless and vigorous campaigner."

Shell said he was "sorry that Governor Knight has suffered so serious an illness. I am sure that with rest and care he will receive, he will soon be himself again.

"As far as I am concerned, while I regret Mr. Knight's illness, it of course does not change my political position.

"As I have said on innumerable occasions, and will continue to say whenever the question is asked, I am in the race for the Republican nomination for governor to stay," Shell concluded.

Knight made his announcement in a terse statement which did not reveal to whom he would throw his support in the Republican gubernatorial primary June 5.

In past years, he has had his political differences with Nixon, particularly in 1958 when he backed out of the campaign for governor and ran unsuccessfully for the U.S. Senate.

That same year, Brown swept into office by beating Republican William F. Knowland by more than one million votes.

All Knight said in his brief announcement was:

"It is with the greatest reluctance that I now follow the advice of my doctor. I shall not file as a candidate for governor in March.

"This reluctance is inspired by the sincere devotion and friendship of many Californians who have so unselfishly supported me for governor of California. I shall never forget their loyalty."

Before the news broke late yesterday that Knight was pulling out of the campaign, Brown made a speech to a group of union leaders in nearby Sherman Oaks in which he said Nixon probably was the No. 1 candidate for the GOP nomination.

In his address, Brown said the election campaign would be a "hard, tough contest."

Referring to Nixon's statement that he would beat Brown to a pulp, the governor served notice that if Nixon wanted a bare knuckle fight, he will get one.

"I have no intention of being a nice guy in this campaign if he isn't a nice guy," Brown told his audience. "I want to campaign on the issues but if he wants it otherwise, I'll give it to him."

Train Derailed

DE SOTO, Mo. (UPI) — Two locomotive units and 14 cars of a 20-car Missouri Pacific passenger train derailed here last night, injuring three persons and leaving the railroad's main line blocked today.

One passenger remained hospitalized for possible injuries. The train crew escaped injury, although the engineer was pinned in his cab and rescuers used shovels to scoop up a mound of dirt and snow to free him.

'Little Summit' Set

LONDON (UPI) — Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani and Foreign Minister Antonio Segni have arranged to confer with top British officials in the latest of a series of Western bilateral "Little Summit" meetings.

The little summit is centered on the common market, Berlin, the future of the United Nations and East-West relations in Germany. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's recent talks with President John F. Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer also formed part of the proposed exchange of views.

Orbit Shot Off

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The "magic date" for America's first manned rocket flight into orbit has slipped to Jan. 24 —but the new target date is shaky at best.

The rocket launching that will send 40-year-old astronaut John W. Glenn Jr. on a three-orbit trip around the globe will not come sooner than one week from today, and chances are it will skid at least a few more days on the calendar.

Scientists on the 400 million dollar Mercury "man-into-space program are having troubles with a balky capsule.

Artist Of West Dies

WINSLOW, Ariz. (UPI)—Centenarian Warren Rollins, well-known American artist, died yesterday in the Prairie Haven Rest Home.

Rollins was a noted painter. Among his works were "Calamity Jane," a Hopi scene entitled "Altar of the Gods," and one depicting a ship in San Francisco Harbor.

Crosby Released

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Singer Bing Crosby, jolly but a little wobbly, was released from the hospital here yesterday after a 16-day confinement.

The singer wisecracked with photographers and said he hoped to attend his golf tournament at Pebble Beach.

Jets For Red China

LONDON (AP) — Overriding American objections, Britain will go ahead with sales of six Viscount jet airliners to Red China, government officials report.

Laos Resistance

GENEVA (AP) — Pro-Western Prince Boun Oum stiffened his resistance to an agreement with Laos' other two political princes last night, and it appeared a Geneva conference of the princes would not even meet unless the United States could pressure Boun Oum to the table.

Boun Oum, premier of the conservative royal government in Vientiane, (1) refused to address the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos because it had also asked pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong to speak; (2) repeated that he would not agree to giving the defense and interior ministries in a coalition government to neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma's faction; (3) said again he would not hold formal negotiations here with the other two princes on formation of a coalition government.

Church Dynamited

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Dynamite explosions at three Negro churches—the first such violence involving churches here in three and a half years —damaged the buildings and nearby houses last night.

No one was in any of the church buildings at the time and no injuries were reported by nearby residents.

White House Opera

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Metropolitan Opera studio will sing Mozart's comic opera "Cosi Fan Tutte" in English at the White House for foreign embassy children Feb. 7.

It is the second in a series of musical programs for youth sponsored by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

Molotov Gets Another Roasting For Stubborness Against Nikita

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today accused former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of waging dogmatic and stubborn opposition to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence.

The attack in the Soviet Communist party newspaper was the first propaganda blast against the old Bolshevik since the Soviet government announced Jan. 8 that he would return to his former post as permanent Soviet representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

The blast was so strong that foreign observers in Moscow felt the battle against Molotov and his so-called anti-party group could still be under way.

"Lenin's views on questions of foreign policy," said Pravda, "and above all on problems of war, peace and peaceful coexistence are being distorted not only by bourgeois ideologists but also by people who slip from the living and creative Marxist-Leninist position to the path of dead dogmatism.

"This refers directly to the anti-party group headed by Molotov, Lazarus M. Kaganovich and former Premier G. M. Malenkov. As is known, Molotov, in his dogmatic stubbornness, slips down to making statements alleging that Lenin never and at no time spoke about coexistence of states with different social systems."

Molotov, now 71, returned home from Vienna Nov. 12 to fight a move to expel him from the Communist party.

The announcement that he was returning to Vienna aroused immediate speculation in diplomatic quarters that Khrushchev had suffered a setback.

The Foreign Ministry at first said Molotov already was en route to the Austrian capital. Later that week the ministry said it did not know when he was going back.

Let's Forget United Nations, Goldwater Tells Students

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he would like to see the United States pull out of the United Nations.

He also criticized anew the Kennedy administration, but the Arizona conservative said last night he has no intention of running for the presidency.

Goldwater said, "There are too many extremists or people on the left in government. There are never any on the extreme right in government."

The Republican senator spoke to an audience at Miami University.

As for the United Nations, he said, "Let's forget the whole thing and join up with our allies and induce the neutrals to join us.

"The world isn't ready for the United Nations."

Personality Key Found In Voice

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A new tool in medical and psychological research is offered by mechanized measurement of voice characteristics.

This was reported to the American Assn. fof the Advancement of Science by an investigator from the University of California Medical Center at San Francisco.

Dr. John A. Starkweather, associate professor of medical psychology, claimed that a speaker's vocal behavior, as determined from the sound of his voice, can carry information about his personality.

Africans Seek U.N. Action Over Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African delegates sought today to draft a U.N. demand for Angola's independence acceptable to the major Western powers.

"It doesn't matter much whether the resolution is a strong one calling for punitive steps against Portugal or a mild one limiting itself to condemnation," said a veteran African delegate. "The only way to get the Portuguese out of Angola is to drive them out the way India drove them out of Goa."

Most African delegates acknowledged, however, that force was out of the question at present and that even a call for economic penalties against the Lisbon government—as the Soviet bloc is demanding—would fall flat.

They said the North Atlantic Alliance would hardly impose sanctions on one of its members.

The 50-nation Asian-African group is expected to come up with a proposal before the end of the week omitting any reference to penalties.

The resolution will condemn Portugal for alleged terrorism in Angola and reaffirm Angola's right to determine its own political future.

Such a resolution is expected to win support from the United States, which reportedly believes too harsh a proposal might drive Portugal still farther into isolation.

Massacre Report In Congo Varies

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The United Nations displayed concern today over reports of the massacre and mutilation of from 18 to 20 Roman Catholics by bands of Congolese troops and youths at Kongolo, in North Katanga.

Reports received by the U.N. said 20 European priests were killed. Vatican representatives said, however, 17 European priests and a lay brother were the victims.

Neither the United Nations nor the central Congolese government could confirm the report of an African seminarian who fled from Kongolo after the attack.

But in passing the account on to Premier Cyrille Adoula the United Nations noted that the story was told under oath in the presence of the Roman Catholic bishop from Kivu Province.

The seminarian said the troops were inflamed against the Roman Catholic priests because they were "poisoning the minds" of young people in the area.

The priests—believed all Belgians—were lashed, the report said, and shot by the troops; their bodies mutilated by the youth groups; then thrown into a nearby river by young seminarians who had been arrested by the soldiers and forced to assist.

Power Tie-In Cost Set At $10 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pacific Gas and Electric Co., and the Pacific Power and Light Co., are planning a 10-million-dollar transmission tie-up designed to have an eventual voltage capability larger than any now in commercial operation in the United States.

The new line, to be the third between the systems of the two companies, will extend 110 miles from Klamath Falls, Ore., to Round Mountain, in Shasta County, Calif.

The circuit is to be planned for initial operation at 230,000 volts with circuits designed for conversion to at least 500,000 volts eventually.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"
New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity
As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.
Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).
(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unique rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.
COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

With Knight Out, 3 Still Running In GOP Contest

Ex-Governor Forced Out Of Race By Illness; Brown Raps Opponents

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's sudden withdrawal from the governor's race left three Republicans today to challenge incumbent Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Knight, 65, quit the campaign after a two-month bout with hepatitis. His withdrawel left these Republicans in the race: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, former Lt. Gov. Harold Powers, and Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles, who is running as an avowed conservative.

Brown said after he learned of Knight's action that "his withdrawal means that the moderates voting in the Republican Party apparently are left without a candidate."

The governor described both Nixon and Shell as "to the right of center." In his initial statement, he overlooked the announced candidacy of Powers. When he was reminded of that, Brown said:

"Well, Knight's action will leave Mr. Powers to carry the burden of the moderates."

Nixon appeared to be surprised by the suddenness of Knight's departure from the campaign. He expressed his sympathy and best wishes to Knight and said it was "a difficult blow to a tireless and vigorous campaigner."

Shell said he was "sorry that Governor Knight has suffered so serious an illness. I am sure that with rest and care he will receive, he will soon be himself again.

"As far as I am concerned, while I regret Mr. Knight's illness, it of course does not change my political position.

"As I have said on innumerable occasions, and will continue to say whenever the question is asked, I am in the race for the Republican nomination for governor to stay," Shell concluded.

Knight made his announcement in a terse statement which did not reveal to whom he would throw his support in the Republican gubernatorial primary June 5.

In past years, he has had his political differences with Nixon, particularly in 1958 when he backed out of the campaign for governor and ran unsuccessfully for the U.S. Senate.

That same year, Brown swept into office by beating Republican William F. Knowland by more than one million votes.

All Knight said in his brief announcement was:

"It is with the greatest reluctance that I now follow the advice of my doctor. I shall not file as a candidate for governor in March.

"This reluctance is inspired by the sincere devotion and friendship of many Californians who have so unselfishly supported me for governor of California. I shall never forget their loyalty."

Before the news broke late yesterday that Knight was pulling out of the campaign, Brown made a speech to a group of union leaders in nearby Sherman Oaks in which he said Nixon probably was the No. 1 candidate for the GOP nomination.

In his address, Brown said the election campaign would be a "hard, tough contest."

Referring to Nixon's statement that he would beat Brown to a pulp, the governor served notice that if Nixon wanted a bare knuckle fight, he will get one.

"I have no intention of being a nice guy in this campaign if he isn't a nice guy," Brown told his audience. "I want to campaign on the issues but if he wants it otherwise, I'll give it to him."

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A new tool in medical and psychological research is offered by mechanized measurement of voice characteristics.

This was reported to the American Assn. fof the Advancement of Science by an investigator from the University of California Medical Center at San Francisco.

Dr. John A. Starkweather, associate professor of medical psychology, claimed that a speaker's vocal behavior, as determined from the sound of his voice, can carry information about his personality.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"
New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity
As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.
Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).
(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unique rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.
COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

SAVED FROM 30-FOOT PLUNGE

Saint Julian Pulley Jr. was helped to safety from his precariously perched car after it crashed through a Washington, D.C., freeway guard rail early today. The left front wheel, balanced on a narrow steel girder, was all that kept the automobile from plunging about 30 feet to the street level. Pulley, who lives in nearby Arlington, had to stay in the car for half an hour before a rescue squad was able to free him. (AP Wirephoto)

Convict Asks For Disability Checks

A San Quentin convict, serving time for burglary, appealed to Marin Superior Court today to make the State Department of Employment give him $264 in disability checks which he says he earned before going to jail.

Richard P. Weinfurtner, 43, sent to prison for forgery in San Francisco in June of 1959, filed a hand written application for a writ of mandate against the state Division of Disability and Hospital Benefits.

In March and April of 1959, Weinfurtner says, he was confined to Mount Zion Hospital and filed for disability checks. A few days after his release, San Francisco police arrested him and put him in jail. While he was in jail, Weinfurtner says the disability checks were mailed to an address other than the San Francisco Jail.

As a result, says Weinfurtner, someone else got the check, forged his name, and got the cash. He wants to be reimbursed.

The state contends that the checks were endorsed and cashed, and the endorsements are in Weinfurtner's handwriting.

2 Last-Ditch Appeals Fail To Save Slayer

Elbert Lynden Carter died in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber today as his lawyer filed briefs in two separate courts in a last-ditch effort to stave off the execution.

Less than 30 minutes before the 24-year-old killer of a Stockton policeman was scheduled to enter the gas chamber, his attorney, Milton McGhee, asked the State Supreme Court for a stay of execution so he might petition the U. S. Supreme Court for a review of yesterday's refusal by the state court to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

The execution, scheduled to take place at 10 a.m., was delayed for 12 minutes while the State Supreme Court considered, then denied the plea, according to Warden Fred R. Dickson.

Dickson said Carter entered the death chamber at 10:13 a.m., the lethal pellets were dropped at 10:14 a.m., and he was pronounced dead at 10:22 a.m.

Carter was convicted of kidnaping and shooting Stockton policeman George Woehrle on April 22, 1960. He had sought a stay on the basis that Negroes were systematically excluded from his trial jury.

Larkspur Council Meeting Tonight On Marina Vista

A public hearing on the Marina Vista Assessment District will be held by the Larkspur City Council tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The council will consider bids for the Marina Vista Road improvement and possibly award a contract.

Scheduled for final adoption are rezoning to commercial a strip of land on the west side of Magnolia Avenue, now to residential, and adoption of the uniform building, plumbing and electrical codes.

Oldest Convict Marks Birthday

San Quentin Prison's oldest inmate celebrated his 87th birthday, the 42nd behind prison walls, with a birthday cake and trimmings today at the prison hospital.

Antonio Di Tardo, given a life sentence in 1920 for the fatal shooting of his wife in San Jose, entered San Quentin the same year. Last November, he made his 28th annual appearance before the California Adult Authority and rejected parole—as he has done since 1931. He said that he preferred to remain in prison.

Driverless Truck Rolls Down Hill

A driverless dump truck rolled down a San Rafaael hill late yesterday and dumped itself less than a block from where a band of irate housewives had earlier barricaded their street against dump trucks.

Witnesses said a truck belonging to Merz Brothers, excavating contractors of 49 De Luca Place, San Rafael, landed on its wheels in the middle of Glen Park Avenue between Myrtle Avenue and Hacienda Court. The truck had rolled down the hill above the street from the scene of an excavation project at about 4:30 p.m.

Monday, housewives of the neighborhood had erected a barricade in front of the home of Mrs. Joseph Serna of 115 Myrtle Avenue to prevent entry of the dump trucks onto Glen Park, a one-way street where neighborhood children play.

When San Rafael Police Patrolman Wade R. Powell arrived at the scene of the reported accident, the truck had been removed.

Three witnesses told police they saw the men remove the truck.

San Rafael police said at noon today the accident had not been reported by the owners of the truck.

Golf Pro Shop Plan Approved In Mill Valley

New plans for the Mill Valley golf pro shop have been approved by the Parks and Recreation Commission and will go to the city council tonight for its approval.

Plans, designed by architect J. Lubicz-Nycz of Mill Valley, call for two rest rooms and a deck to be added, the rest rooms to face south and be screened. Cost was estimated as over $2,000 by Lubicz-Nycz.

Mrs. John Broman of 272 Buena Vista Avenue, who had protested to previous plans, said she favored the new one, subject to adequate planting.

Dr. P. R. Danford was seated as chairman of the commission to succeed Joseph C. Brewster for a one-year term. Dr. Robert E. Moeller became vice chairman. Commissioner William E. Lovvorn announced that he was resigning from the commission, after having served two years.

SAVED FROM 30-FOOT PLUNGE

Saint Julian Pulley Jr. was helped to safety from his precariously perched car after it crashed through a Washington, D.C., freeway guard rail early today. The left front wheel, balanced on a narrow steel girder, was all that kept the automobile from plunging about 30 feet to the street level. Pulley, who lives in nearby Arlington, had to stay in the car for half an hour before a rescue squad was able to free him. (AP Wirephoto)

Convict Asks For Disability Checks

A San Quentin convict, serving time for burglary, appealed to Marin Superior Court today to make the State Department of Employment give him $264 in disability checks which he says he earned before going to jail.

Richard P. Weinfurtner, 43, sent to prison for forgery in San Francisco in June of 1959, filed a hand written application for a writ of mandate against the state Division of Disability and Hospital Benefits.

In March and April of 1959, Weinfurtner says, he was confined to Mount Zion Hospital and filed for disability checks. A few days after his release, San Francisco police arrested him and put him in jail. While he was in jail, Weinfurtner says the disability checks were mailed to an address other than the San Francisco Jail.

As a result, says Weinfurtner, someone else got the check, forged his name, and got the cash. He wants to be reimbursed.

The state contends that the checks were endorsed and cashed, and the endorsements are in Weinfurtner's handwriting.

2 Last-Ditch Appeals Fail To Save Slayer

Elbert Lynden Carter died in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber today as his lawyer filed briefs in two separate courts in a last-ditch effort to stave off the execution.

Less than 30 minutes before the 24-year-old killer of a Stockton policeman was scheduled to enter the gas chamber, his attorney, Milton McGhee, asked the State Supreme Court for a stay of execution so he might petition the U. S. Supreme Court for a review of yesterday's refusal by the state court to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

The execution, scheduled to take place at 10 a.m., was delayed for 12 minutes while the State Supreme Court considered, then denied the plea, according to Warden Fred R. Dickson.

Dickson said Carter entered the death chamber at 10:13 a.m., the lethal pellets were dropped at 10:14 a.m., and he was pronounced dead at 10:22 a.m.

Carter was convicted of kidnaping and shooting Stockton policeman George Woehrle on April 22, 1960. He had sought a stay on the basis that Negroes were systematically excluded from his trial jury.

Larkspur Council Meeting Tonight On Marina Vista

A public hearing on the Marina Vista Assessment District will be held by the Larkspur City Council tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The council will consider bids for the Marina Vista Road improvement and possibly award a contract.

Scheduled for final adoption are rezoning to commercial a strip of land on the west side of Magnolia Avenue, now to residential, and adoption of the uniform building, plumbing and electrical codes.

Mrs. Gertrude I. Hopkins, 67, of 642 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, died last night at a local hospital after a month's illness.

She was the widow of Edward D. Hopkins, a produce merchant, who died in 1953.

A native of Santa Cruz, Mrs. Hopkins lived in San Francisco for about 30 years, then moved to Challenge in Butte County before coming to Marin in 1950.

She leaves two sons, Daryl Hopkins of Santa Venetia, coordinator of special education for the county schools superintendent, and James E. Hopkins of Corte Madera; a brother, Jack J. Loomis of San Francisco; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

Novato Will Ask For Federal Help In Aerial Mapping

Council Approves Proposal For Getting U.S. Assistance

Novato city councilmen last night decided to ask for federal aid to get $82,250 worth of aerial maps and city planning data at a cost to the city of about $15,000.

After three hours of discussion and some arguments, the city council approved a three-point proposal, on which the city can apply for a federal planning assistance grant. The proposal was presented by B. D. Dobbs, principal planner in the county planning department.

If federal aid is approved, the government would provide some $47,000, and three other local agencies have pledged $20,700 to help pay for the aerial maps. This would leave Novato with a bill of about $15,000.

The proposal, presented by Dobbs and approved with a few changes, is as follows:

1. A partial land use master plan costing $11,050, one-third to be paid by Novato and two-thirds by federal aid. The city's share would be $3,683, and federal aid $7,367. City fathers approved this with little argument.

2. Special studies — zoning ordinance revision, subdivision ordinance revision, future street width plan and ordinance, capital improvement program, civic center studies, and a commercial study of the northwest quadrant (between Grant and Olive Avenue and First and Sixth Streets).

Dobbs estimated these special studies would cost $30,650, with the city paying $10,217. By 3-2 votes, however, councilmen deleted civic center studies and commercial study of the northwest quadrant, thus lopping $11,500 from the total.

$4,000 ADDED

Instead, the councilmen added $4,000 for a recreational facilities plan and $12,000 for a master storm drainage plan. This brought the total cost of special studies to $35,150. The city share would be $11,700.

3. Aerial mapping — total cost $47,100. All councilmen were in favor of this program. Maps on the scale of one-inch to 300 feet would be provided for the entire Novato watershed (about 55 square miles), and maps scaled one-inch to 100 feet would be provided for the urban areas.

Novato Sanitary District, County of Marin, and North Marin Water District have agreed to contribute a total of $20,700 for the maps. Federal aid would come to about $23,500, leaving about $3,000 for Novato to pay.

The whole three-point program should be completed within two years after a contract is signed for federal aid, said Dobbs. He said he would begin immediately to apply for federal aid.

SHARP CONFLICT

Sharpest conflict among councilmen developed over whether the "civic center studies" and "capital improvement plan" should be included among the special studies.

Councilman John Angeloni said a citizen committee could come up with studies on a civic center site. Councilman Charles R. Johnson argued that technical studies are needed to project into the future so that the city can plan.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack pointed out that a capital improvement plan gives direction to the master plan. Modesto, for example, was going in all directions until it got a capital improvement plan to guide it in one direction, said the mayor.

'GO SLOW'

M. E. Silva urged the city to go slow. "Modesto took 40 to 50 years to become a model city. Here in the second year, we're trying to do big things. We ought to crawl before we walk," said Silva.

Everett Pozzi said he is disturbed by the fact that the city is going ahead with new plans when the master plan is not yet completed. "I'd like to see the master plan, then go ahead from there," he said.

Johnson and Womack lost their fight to include the civic center studies. However, Pozzi joined them in asking for a study of the capital improvement program, which passed 3-2.

County Money For Lease Of RR Site Asked

Money from Marin County was requested yesterday to lease railroad property on the Tiburon waterfront and thus preserve it for public use.

This new approach to an old question, currently entangled in the still-unsettled problem of a possible new "open area" zoning regulation, was put before the Marin County Board of Supervisors by Mrs. Constance Field, head of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League.

On motion of Supervisor Peter H. Behr, the board once more referred the question to County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, this time to check both legal possibilities and the chance of getting a lease since private interests have asserted lease claims previously.

MIGHT LEASE

"We ask this board to put up the money to lease from the (Northwestern Pacific) railroad," said Mrs. Field. "Our understanding is that the railroad doesn't wish to sell but is agreeable to lease so we want you to ask if any private lease is still effective, and if not if the county could lease."

Mrs. Field called attention to an offer of ferry commute service between Marin County and San Francisco by the Lewis Excursion Service of Sausalito. Vada G. Lewis distributed notices offering two trips daily, morning and evening, between the San Francisco Ferry Building and Tiburon. Proposed price would be $1.25 a round trip.

William H. Rafter, representing the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce, said a committee has been organized to investigate possibilities of "creating a special district for accomplishment of what Mrs. Fields is attempting." He said the lease issue is "still a large mystery."

'NEED OBVIOUS'

Proposing a referral to county counsel for report in two weeks, Behr said he felt that "the need is very obvious" for some form of public acquisition of Tiburon waterfront property and that the only question was one of private rights.

Supervisor William Gnoss thought the matter should be taken up by the county Parks and Recreation Commission but Behr said this could come later.

The supervisors also:

1. Appointed Robert W. Scheiner deputy sheriff at $440 monthly.
2. On motion of Supervisor George Ludy, who last year joined in effort to eliminate the county administrator, appropriated $250 monthly rent through the present fiscal year for the administrator's suite to which he returned this week.
3. Approved renewal of agreement between the county fire department and the Mount Tamalpais Army radar installation firemen for joint efforts.
4. Halted to let Chairman Walter R. Castro introduce new Supervisor Peter H. Behr to "Mr. Senior Citizen," Manny Charnow, who told Behr that "now you legally can proceed."
5. Heard an opinion from county counsel that the county can buy foreign automobiles only if they are "unique" and unprocurable from domestic makers.
6. Accepted sole bid of E. D. Jones of San Francisco of $3,493 for a "voycall" communication system for juvenile hall, enabling use of minimum supervisory personnel on night duty.
7. Appointed Edward W. Culver, San Rafael plumbing contractor and ex-mayor, and county structural engineer Harold Engle to a board of appeals on building code.
8. Corrected minutes of last week to allow Mary A. Lord to apply once more to county planners for rezoning to apartments (denied by planners and supervisors) if access to Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley, can be negotiated. This obviates necessity to wait two years for reapplication.

Sailor Jailed After Car Cuts Down Link Fence On Francisco Boulevard

A Southern California sailor was jailed on a drunken driving charge last night after his car mowed down 45 feet of chain link fence at the south entry to San Rafael and overturned on Francisco Boulevard, injuring his two passengers.

Marion Roylston Brown, 19, of National City, San Diego County, a sailor from the Fort Marion, refused hospitalization for minor cuts and bruises and was booked by the California Highway Patrol at the county jail.

His two passengers, also from the Fort Marion, were treated at San Rafael General Hospital, then transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital. They are Gerald Ray Stuart, 18, of Hemet, Riverside County, who suffered possible concussion and multiple cuts, and Gary Roy Shore, 20, no home address given, who suffered a cut thumb and bruises.

The highway patrol said Brown was northbound at 8:20 p.m. on Highway 17 where it connects with Highway 101 at the south edge of San Rafael. The car went out of control, skidded left, then swerved right, mowing down the fence between the highway and Francisco Boulevard and taking two reflector signs along. It then overturned on the edge of Francisco Boulevard.

Carpenter Injured In Scaffold Fall

A 22-year-old carpenter's apprentice from Fairfax received a severe electric shock yesterday when he fell from a scaffold in San Rafael while operating an electric drill.

Eugene Clark Kaysen of 93 Dominga Avenue was taken to San Rafael General Hospital from a construction job in the 900 Block of C Street. Kaysen was employed by Williams Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Kaysen was held overnight for observation following treatment for electric shock. He received only minor bruises from his fall from the four-foot scaffold.

Drunken Driver Given 15 Days

An Oakland teamster, who said he cannot pay a fine, drew 15 days in jail yesterday for drunken driving.

Charles Cecil Simmen, 47, was sentenced by Judge Harold J. Haley for driving while intoxicated along San Quentin Road last Dec. 6.

He had a prior drunken driving conviction in Nebraska in July of 1960. However, Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles L. Convis moved that the prior record be dismissed since the offense occurred outside the state.

Hilarita Rezoning Rejected

Requested rezoning of the 15-acre site of the Hilarita Housing Project on the Tiburon Peninsula for apartments was unanimously rejected yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, upholding earlier decision of the county planning commission.

Heavy opposition was in evidence, including an 82-name petition from the Rolling Hills area plus announcement that Tiburon Coordinating Council members were "unanimously opposed."

So much point was made that the Tiburon Master Plan calls for one-family homes in this area that, after turndown of the Housing Authority petition, Supervisor Peter Behr put through a resolution asking the county counsel to draft a new ordinance incorporating the master plan provisions "so that no one can be confused."

Attorney Howard K. Morehouse of San Rafael, on behalf of the Housing Authority, said to rezone for apartments "would simply make effective what has existed for almost 20 years."

It was subsequently brought out that the reason for wishing multiple rezoning was to get top price in sale of the property.

TRAPPED IN FREEZER, GIRL, 16, KEEPS COOL

PORGER, Tex. (UPI)—If you ever get trapped in a big freezer, keep walking around, warm your hands on the light bulb, and count things to pass the time.

That is how 16-year-old Sandra Posey saved her life yesterday.

She was trapped by a thief in a freezer in a restaurant. She was almost frozen when rescued seven hours later, but is recovering at a hospital.

Sandra said she once saw a TV drama about the plight of a girl locked in a freezer. She said the girl kept moving around.

Sandra said she walked around in the freezer, put her hands around a light bulb to warm them, and counted limes.

"There are 598 limes in that freezer," she said.

Public Works Exam Set In Corte Madera

A written examination for superintendent of public works in Corte Madera has been scheduled for Feb. 17 at 9 a.m. in the town hall, Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow announced today.

The vacancy resulted from resignation of Robert L. Bartram last Oct. 17. Frank Halbe, assistant superintendent of public works, has been temporarily filling the position.

Brandow said the salary range would be from $587 to $714 a month. Starting salary would be determined by the person's experience.

The test is made up by the State Cooperative Personnel Services, Brandow said. Applicants must be 25 or older. An oral examination will be given to those who pass the written exam.

Novato Will Ask For Federal Help In Aerial Mapping

Council Approves Proposal For Getting U.S. Assistance

Novato city councilmen last night decided to ask for federal aid to get $82,250 worth of aerial maps and city planning data at a cost to the city of about $15,000.

After three hours of discussion and some arguments, the city council approved a three-point proposal, on which the city can apply for a federal planning assistance grant. The proposal was presented by B. D. Dobbs, principal planner in the county planning department.

If federal aid is approved, the government would provide some $47,000, and three other local agencies have pledged $20,700 to help pay for the aerial maps. This would leave Novato with a bill of about $15,000.

The proposal, presented by Dobbs and approved with a few changes, is as follows:

1. A partial land use master plan costing $11,050, one-third to be paid by Novato and two-thirds by federal aid. The city's share would be $3,683, and federal aid $7,367. City fathers approved this with little argument.

2. Special studies — zoning ordinance revision, subdivision ordinance revision, future street width plan and ordinance, capital improvement program, civic center studies, and a commercial study of the northwest quadrant (between Grant and Olive Avenue and First and Sixth Streets).

Dobbs estimated these special studies would cost $30,650, with the city paying $10,217. By 3-2 votes, however, councilmen deleted civic center studies and commercial study of the northwest quadrant, thus lopping $11,500 from the total.

$4,000 ADDED

Instead, the councilmen added $4,000 for a recreational facilities plan and $12,000 for a master storm drainage plan. This brought the total cost of special studies to $35,150. The city share would be $11,700.

3. Aerial mapping — total cost $47,100. All councilmen were in favor of this program. Maps on the scale of one-inch to 300 feet would be provided for the entire Novato watershed (about 55 square miles), and maps scaled one-inch to 100 feet would be provided for the urban areas.

Novato Sanitary District, County of Marin, and North Marin Water District have agreed to contribute a total of $20,700 for the maps. Federal aid would come to about $23,500, leaving about $3,000 for Novato to pay.

The whole three-point program should be completed within two years after a contract is signed for federal aid, said Dobbs. He said he would begin immediately to apply for federal aid.

SHARP CONFLICT

Sharpest conflict among councilmen developed over whether the "civic center studies" and "capital improvement plan" should be included among the special studies.

Councilman John Angeloni said a citizen committee could come up with studies on a civic center site. Councilman Charles R. Johnson argued that technical studies are needed to project into the future so that the city can plan.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack pointed out that a capital improvement plan gives direction to the master plan. Modesto, for example, was going in all directions until it got a capital improvement plan to guide it in one direction, said the mayor.

'GO SLOW'

M. E. Silva urged the city to go slow. "Modesto took 40 to 50 years to become a model city. Here in the second year, we're trying to do big things. We ought to crawl before we walk," said Silva.

Everett Pozzi said he is disturbed by the fact that the city is going ahead with new plans when the master plan is not yet completed. "I'd like to see the master plan, then go ahead from there," he said.

Johnson and Womack lost their fight to include the civic center studies. However, Pozzi joined them in asking for a study of the capital improvement program, which passed 3-2.

County Money For Lease Of RR Site Asked

Money from Marin County was requested yesterday to lease railroad property on the Tiburon waterfront and thus preserve it for public use.

This new approach to an old question, currently entangled in the still-unsettled problem of a possible new "open area" zoning regulation, was put before the Marin County Board of Supervisors by Mrs. Constance Field, head of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League.

On motion of Supervisor Peter H. Behr, the board once more referred the question to County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, this time to check both legal possibilities and the chance of getting a lease since private interests have asserted lease claims previously.

MIGHT LEASE

"We ask this board to put up the money to lease from the (Northwestern Pacific) railroad," said Mrs. Field. "Our understanding is that the railroad doesn't wish to sell but is agreeable to lease so we want you to ask if any private lease is still effective, and if not if the county could lease."

Mrs. Field called attention to an offer of ferry commute service between Marin County and San Francisco by the Lewis Excursion Service of Sausalito, Vada G. Lewis distributed notices offering two trips daily, morning and evening, between the San Francisco Ferry Building and Tiburon. Proposed price would be $1.25 a round trip.

William H. Rafter, representing the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce, said a committee has been organized to investigate possibilities of "creating a special district for accomplishment of what Mrs. Fields is attempting." He said the lease issue is "still a large mystery."

'NEED OBVIOUS'

Proposing a referral to county counsel for report in two weeks, Behr said he felt that "the need is very obvious" for some form of public acquisition of Tiburon waterfront property and that the only question was one of private rights.

Supervisor William Gnoss thought the matter should be taken up by the county Parks and Recreation Commission but Behr said this could come later.

The supervisors also:

1. Appointed Robert W. Scheiner deputy sheriff at $440 monthly.
2. On motion of Supervisor George Ludy, who last year joined in effort to eliminate the county administrator, appropriated $250 monthly rent through the present fiscal year for the administrator's suite to which he returned this week.
3. Approved renewal of agreement between the county fire department and the Mount Tamalpais Army radar installation firemen for joint efforts.
4. Halted to let Chairman Walter R. Castro introduce new Supervisor Peter H. Behr to "Mr. Senior Citizen," Manny Charnow, who told Behr that "now you legally can proceed."
5. Heard an opinion from county counsel that the county can buy foreign automobiles only if they are "unique" and unprocurable from domestic makers.
6. Accepted sole bid of E. D. Jones of San Francisco of $3,493 for a "voycall" communication system for juvenile hall, enabling use of minimum supervisory personnel on night duty.
7. Appointed Edward W. Culver, San Rafael plumbing contractor and ex-mayor, and county structural engineer Harold Engle to a board of appeals on building code.
8. Corrected minutes of last week to allow Mary A. Lord to apply once more to county planners for rezoning to apartments (denied by planners and supervisors) if access to Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley, can be negotiated. This obviates necessity to wait two years for reapplication.

HAPPY TO BE BACK IN WEST

Two California youths released by East Berlin Communists after four months in jail pose happily with their parents in West Berlin. They are (left to right) Mrs. Mary Ferrey, her son Gilbert, 20, Victor S. Pankey, 20, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pankey. The young pair, both from Tustin, had been sentenced to two years each after attempting to smuggle a girl out of East Berlin in their car last Sept. 8, the day before they planned to leave for home. BARD'S BIRTH SWITCHED BY SAUSALITANS

The birthday of the Bard of Avon will be celebrated early this year in Sausalito.

The city council decided last night to move Shakespeare's birthday from April 23 to Jan. 30 to correspond with the date it will honor the retiring City Atty. John B. Ehlen, a Shapespeare scholar.

Dinner committee for the event, to be at the Alta Mira Hotel, Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said, will be former Mayor Robert M. Gunn, Robert Goshen and Stuart Rose. Councilman Michael Harris moved that "this year Sausalito celebrate Shakespeare's birthday Jan. 30."

Ehlen said "there will be a feast and free flow of souls."

'Sister City' Fete Set For Sausalito

Sausalito will have a three-day celebration in March in honor of its sister city in Chile.

Councilman Marjorie Brady announced at last night's Sausalito City Council meeting that March 2, 3 and 4 have been set aside by the Sausalito People-to-People Committee for an observance of the anniversary of the founding of Vina del Mar, the "sister city."

The council set up specifications for rental of the concession in the new Greyhound bus depot being built by the city on Bridgeway near Bay Street. Rental will be at $20 per month on a one-year basis, with concessionaire to pay for utilities. The concessionaire will be permitted to sell newspapers, magazines, post cards, cigarettes and tobacco as well as bus tickets.

The city council also:

1. Heard that planning consultant William E. Spangle Jr. will meet Feb. 5 with Marinship Property Owners to discuss planning for Marinship. Both the council and planning commission have been invited to attend.

2. Upheld planning commission approval of a variance from a height limitation and of a use permit to allow Perego, Harney and Teague, Inc., to construct a nine-story apartment building in Buena Vista Heights.

3. Adopted a resolution favoring enforcement of the housing code by Marin County Health Department for abatement of substandard housing in Sausalito.

4. Adopted an emergency ordinance making it unlawful to park at any time on the north side of Atwood Avenue between Josephine and North streets.

5. Approved $6,000 worth of work, previously approved in budget, to resurface San Carlos Avenue from Spencer to Central avenues; resurface Booker Avenue and place a curb and gutter on Marion Avenue, and place a culvert from Marion to Sausalito Boulevard.

6. Adjourned to Jan. 23.

Udall Urges California Development

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall urged Congress today to authorize construction of the 267-million-dollar Auburn-Folsom South Reclamation Development in California.

Udall sent Congress a feasibility report on the unit, which would be a part of the Central Valley Project. He said "a broad objective look at this entire proposal makes it clear that it should be built as soon as possible and should be constructed by the federal government."

MANY ENDORSEMENTS

He said the state, numerous organizations, municipalities and other state agencies have endorsed the plan and that agencies have been formed to take water from the project. He added he expects no difficulty in obtaining contracts for any water that becomes available.

The unit, involving additional development of the American River basin, would provide water for irrigating more than 400,000 acres, largely on a supplemental basis, as well as water for municipal and industrial use in the four-county area of Placer, El Dorado, Sacramento and San Joaquin.

POWER PLANT

There also would be a 155,000-kilowatt hydroelectric power plant and flood control protection for the Sacramento metropolitan area and other American River basin and delta areas.

"Service to the Folsom-Malby and the Forest Hill Divide areas logically can and should be combined with and made a part of the Folsom South and Auburn units," Udall said.

The Reclamation Bureau's plan for development proposes construction of a 515-foot high dam and reservoir at Auburn, to form a one million acre-foot reservoir on the North Fork of the American River. The power plant would be at Auburn Dam.

There also would be a smaller dam and a 16,500 acre-foot reservoir to regulate flow of Shirttail Creek and a 900-acre reservoir on Deer Creek.

The bureau found that total benefits would be in excess of total costs by a ratio of more than three to one.

State Enters Case Of Boy In School Blaze

CHICAGO (AP) — The state's attorney's office has taken over the investigation of a 13-year-old boy who allegedly confessed he started the fire at Our Lady of the Angels School which killed 92 children and three nuns in 1958.

State's Atty. Daniel Ward said the boy will be brought into Family Court and a delinquency petition is expected to be filed.

The boy is not under arrest or police guard. No charges have been filed against the youth and authorities have declined to disclose his name.

The boy, now an eighth-grade public pupil in suburban Cicero, was in the fifth grade in the Chicago Roman Catholic school at the time of the fire, Dec. 1, 1958.

Ward declined to disclose the substance of the delinquency petition, saying he did not want to comment on the case because it might prejudice the interests "of the people or the boy."

The Chicago Tribune, in a copyright story yesterday, said the boy admitted setting the school fire to John E. Reid, who runs a lie detection service, last Friday. But neither Reid nor Ward would say whether the boy has made a confession.

GOP State Of Union Message Proposal Is Tossed Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House Republican leaders have quietly vetoed National Chairman William E. Miller's effort to write a GOP state of the union message.

Miller circulated among party chieftains a 4,000-word document vigorously criticizing the Kennedy administration's record and proposing a series of political stands to be taken by Republicans in the new session of Congress.

Miller predicted 10 days ago the issuance of such a statement. He said the idea was to advance "affirmative programs" which Republican candidates could cite in the campaign as being more effective than President Kennedy's proposals.

The Republican leaders in the Senate and House, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, declined to go along with the idea.

They put the project in mothballs for possible consideration later in the year of some statement of broad principles on which a majority of Republicans could agree.

Dirksen and Halleck will continue to lay down Republican tenets in their weekly "Ev and Charlie" news conference, uninhibited by any guidelines Miller wanted defined in advance.

The first of their 1962 news conferences is scheduled for Thursday.

Dirksen and Halleck in the past have discomfited some colleagues by pronouncements the more liberal GOP members regarded as entirely too conservative. But most of these liberals look on Miller as even more conservative — and often more impulsive — than the congressional leaders.

Halleck and Dirksen were reported to believe that some of Miller's proposals would prompt an outburst of dissenting statements which would bring out for a public airing the split of opinion within the party.

They were said to have shied away, particularly, from Miller's suggestion that the GOP consider the possibility of proposing a new organization of nations which would operate without the veto power contained in the United Nations.

Civil Defense Policy Sought In Lagunitas

Lagunitas School District trustees last night continued discussions on civil defense measures for the district and announced they hope to agree on a policy by the Jan. 25 meeting at 8 p.m. at the Lagunitas School.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye announced the eighth grade will attend a session of the State Assembly in Sacramento sometime next month. Enrollment in the district is 398 as compared to 378 at this time last year, Frye said.

A class of student teachers from San Francisco State College will visit the district next Wednesday, Frye announced. Warrants in the amount of $5,348 were approved for payment. A financial report indicated the district has $34,188 in the treasury.

Longtime ICC Member Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clyde B. Aitchison, 86, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission for 35 years before he retired in 1952, died last night.

An Oregon Republican, Aitchison was appointed to the ICC by President Wilson in 1917. He was reappointed by succeeding presidents.

He engaged in private law practice here after his retirement from the commission.

San Rafael Building Permit Value: $587,300

Twenty-two building permits issued for the week ending Jan. 12 by the San Rafael Building Inspection Department had a total valuation of $587,300.

Of the 22 permits issued, the largest was for a $270,000 40-unit apartment to be constructed at 195 Nova Albion Way by Baker and Rystad. Of the total permits, 11 were issued for new construction.

Ex-Indonesia Premier, Other Leaders Jailed

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Former Premier Sutan Sjahrir, a pioneer in Indonesia's struggle for independence, has been arrested along with a dozen other leaders of dissolved political parties, informed sources said today.

The arrest of Dr. Sjahrir, former Foreign Minister Mohammed Roem and others took place early yesterday, apparently on orders from President Sukarno, sources said.

All those reported taken into custody were leaders or associates of the Socialist party or the right-wing Masjumi Moslem party.

There was speculation that the arrests were due to political tension in the country generated by the clash with the Netherlands over West New Guinea.

Bitter 40 Below Weather Reported In Parts Of U.S.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The temperature plummeted to 40 below zero in Minnesota today in the latest cold wave of a cruel and bitter winter season.

The nation's lowest temperature was recorded at Bemidji, Minn., and an unofficial 56 below was reported 10 miles north of town. Elsewhere in frozen Minnesota, it was 38 below at International Falls, 22 below at Minneapolis-St. Paul, 27 below at St. Cloud, and 37 below at Detroit Lakes.

Temperatures were below freezing in most of the nation, and were below zero from the Northern Rockies to the Western Great Coast and southwest border areas and scattered frost was predicted for northern Florida tonight.

Alameda Supervisor To Run For Congress

HAYWARD (AP) — Alameda County supervisor Francis Dunn of Hayward yesterday announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the new Ninth District in the June 5 primary.

Dunn served six terms in the State Assembly prior to becoming supervisor. The new congressional district embraces part of Santa Clara County and the southern part of Alameda County — that portion represented by Dunn when he was in the Assembly.

Pickets Protest Birch Speech Blasting U.S. Foreign Aid

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Pickets paraded in front of a downtown hotel last night where the founder of the right-wing John Birch Society told a capacity audience the American foreign aid program has taken this country down the road to Communism.

Robert Welch, a former New England candy manufacturer, told an audience of about 2,000 that foreign aid has done some good, but said "the total net gain has been tremendous help for communism."

The pickets left soon after the Birch speech began.

They carried signs reading, "Democracy Forever, Welch and Birch Never," and "Negro, Jew, Black and White, We Will Picket Welch Tonight."

Ted Hooker, a safety engineer, said he organized the pickets because "Robert Welch represents what Hitler represented to pre-Nazi Germany."

Demo Committee Members Named

Two new appointments were made to the Marin County Democratic Central Committee at a meeting held Monday night in the County courthouse.

Wyman Hicks of Sausalito was named to the committee from the third supervisorial district to replace Felix M. Warburg, who has moved to Ross. Warburg in turn becomes a committee member from the second supervisorial district to succeed Charles DeWitt, who resigned last month.

Nancy Swadesh, vice chairman, presided at the meeting

Electric Lamp Topples Into Bath—Child Dies

MODESTO (AP)—One of three youngsters in a bathtub was electrocuted last night when a lamp toppled from a medicine cabinet shelf into the water.

The dead child was Robert Rhodes, 7. Firemen from a station across the street used a resuscitator to revive the other two children, David William Cantrell, 3, and Evelyn Johnson, 9.

The fire department gave this account:

The children had been sent to bathe by Mrs. Florence Puckett, 48, grandmother of the two boys and mother of Evelyn.

She said she went into the bathroom to quiet the children. The electric lamp apparently was jarred from the shelf as she closed the door behind her on leaving.

NEW PRESCRIPTION • PRICES •

Save Money On New Prescriptions. The Listed Prices Are Only Examples of An Added Drake Pharmacy Savings Program.

Still another savings aid has been added to the Drake Pharmacy program to lessen the high cost of hardship caused by illness necessitating use of prescription drugs.
We find, after careful study, that the cost of handling new prescriptions is fractional. Therefore, why not charge according to our cost and regular reasonable profit margin?
The listed drugs will give you an example of the new savings on this type of prescription. This, in no way, alters our other prices. They are still the same and differ minutely according to service rendered.
So we are offering this new service in good faith and urging you to ask our pharmacists any questions about this new program.

WEATHER-WISE FOR 30 DAYS

These maps, based on information released in Washington, D.C., by the U.S. Weather Bureau, show the temperature and precipitation outlook for the next 30 days. The Bay Area looks like it will have above normal precipitation along with below normal temperatures.

Ex-Indonesia Premier, Other Leaders Jailed

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Former Premier Sutan Sjahrir, a pioneer in Indonesia's struggle for independence, has been arrested along with a dozen other leaders of dissolved political parties, informed spurces said today.

The arrest of Dr. Sjahrir, former Foreign Minister Mohammed Roem and others took place early yesterday, apparently on orders from President Sukarno, sources said.

All those reported taken into custody were leaders or associates of the Socialist party or the right-wing Masjumi Moslem party.

There was speculation that the arrests were due to political tension in the country generated by the clash with the Netherlands over West New Guinea.

Bitter 40 Below Weather Reported In Parts Of U.S.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The temperature plummeted to 40 below zero in Minnesota today in the latest cold wave of a cruel and bitter winter season.

The nation's lowest temperature was recorded at Bemidji, Minn., and an unofficial 56 below was reported 10 miles north of town. Elsewhere in frozen Minnesota, it was 38 below at International Falls, 22 below at Minneapolis-St. Paul, 27 below at St. Cloud, and 37 below at Detroit Lakes.

Temperatures were below freezing in most of the nation, and were below zero from the Northern Rockies to the Western Great Coast and southwest border areas and scattered frost was predicted for northern Florida tonight.

Alameda Supervisor To Run For Congress

HAYWARD (AP) — Alameda County supervisor Francis Dunn of Hayward yesterday announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the new Ninth District in the June 5 primary.

Dunn served six terms in the State Assembly prior to becoming supervisor. The new congressional district embraces part of Santa Clara County and the southern part of Alameda County — that portion represented by Dunn when he was in the Assembly.

The world's longest national anthem is the Greek, with 158 stanzas.

Pickets Protest Birch Speech Blasting U.S. Foreign Aid

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Pickets paraded in front of a downtown hotel last night where the founder of the right-wing John Birch Society told a capacity audience the American foreign aid program has taken this country down the road to Communism.

Robert Welch, a former New England candy manufacturer, told an audience of about 2,000 that foreign aid has done some good, but said "the total net gain has been tremendous help for communism."

The pickets left soon after the Birch speech began.

They carried signs reading, "Democracy Forever, Welch and Birch Never," and "Negro, Jew, Black and White, We Will Picket Welch Tonight."

Ted Hooker, a safety engineer, said he organized the pickets because "Robert Welch represents what Hitler represented to pre-Nazi Germany."

Three million patents have been granted since the Patent Office opened its doors in 1836. The three millionth was for a magnetic check-processing device.

Some Support Given Proposal On Coroner

3 Mortuaries Give Backing On Salary Plan

Hearing by Marin County supervisors yesterday on a grand jury auditor's recommendation that the position of county coroner be put on a salary rather than a fee basis produced recommendation by three mortuaries that the corner and public administrator be combined with other county offices.

The proposal specifically suggested that the jobs of coroner and sheriff be combined, an arrangement sanctioned by government code.

Attorney Robert H. Andreson of Mill Valley laid this idea before the supervisors as representative of the Harry M. Williams Mortuary of San Rafael, Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley, and Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton, himself proprietor of Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael, opposed the consolidation but said he'd be interested in retaining his present position on a salary basis.

A report Jan. 30 was asked by the supervisors from Administrator Alan Bruce, who is to check up on both cost and services on a basis of experience in comparable counties.

Bruce said he had no recommendation on the salary suggestion but felt that "there are many other aspects than fees." He complimented Keaton on running "a very efficient operation."

Keaton said he had no quarrel with the grand jury recommendation but felt the supervisors should judge whether a salary plan would save money.

He said he'd been unable to analyze the grand jury figure of $17,000 a year cost.

"We have the fifth lowest operating cost of any coroner's office in California," said Keaton.

Andreson said the three undertakers' counter-proposal involved no question of whether Keaton were doing a good job but only "whether the county is receiving the best by way of service."

He felt the combination of coroner with sheriff was justified, said Andreson, by the primarily investigative function of the coroner.

"We have no guarantee that Frank Keaton will be our next coroner," said Andreson. "It could happen that the next election would put a bungling amateur into the job, to do irreparable damage."

Of the public administratorship, Andreson said that "most of the duties are performed by an attorney anyway" and that the work in this county is negligible. He recommended combination with the work of either the district ottorney or county treasurer could handle the job with minimum burden.

School Board To Ask Fairfax Traffic Change

Changes in traffic regulations on Oak Manor Drive from the Manor School to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be asked by Farifax School District trustees, it was decided last night.

Acting on recommendations of California Highway Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow, a double line indicating no passing and a speed limit of 25 miles per hour will be requested by the board of the Department of Public Works. No parking areas will be requested at school crosswalks.

STUDY RESULT

Parnow's recommendations resulted from a study requested by the Oak Manor Home Owner's Assn. Presenting the recommendations to the board last night for the association was Mrs. Harland Hennessey of 11 Gary Way.

Kenneth Lucas, Manor School principal, announced he would report to the board at the next meeting on the feasibility of student traffic control.

The trustees agreed to participate with the San Anselmo School District in a summer school program as was done last year. The district will pay the San Anselmo district $500 for the first 100 pupils in attendance and $200 for the next 200 children attending. The program last year cost the district $750.

PARK FACILITIES

Acting on a request from the Fairfax Recreation Commission, the trustees agreed to pay $500 for use of the city park facilities by school children during the current school year. Representing the commission were Frank Lawrence, commission chairman, and Mrs. Bryan Youngclaus. Lawrence said their figures showed use of facilities by district pupils had cost the city at least $500.

A check for $129 was presented the board by John W. Gottschalk on behalf of the Fairfax Dad's Club for improvements at the Manor School playground.

The meeting was adjourned to 7:45 p.m. Jan. 24 in the district office at Central School at which time the board policy handbook will be discussed.

IKE LIKES ROMNEY LOOKS AS PRESIDENT

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says American Motors Corp. chief George Romney would make "an attractive candidate" for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, according to GOP National Chairman William E. Miller.

Eisenhower, said Miller in an interview last night, felt Romney was "a very impressive fellow, with a very articulate, pleasant personality, and attractive-looking."

Romney, 54, was born in Chihuahua, Mex. The Constitution says no person except a natural born citizen shall be eligible to the office of president, but according to a law passed by Congress in 1790, children born abroad of American parents are American citizens.

Expulsion Of Failing Pupils Urged

Expulsion of high school students who continue to fail in more than half their classes was proposed to the Novato Unified School District board last night by Fielding Reese, high school counselor.

Reese said a high school committee was working on a plan for such a policy, patterned after that in use in San Rafael and Petaluma high schools. He said if a student failed in half his classes, a conference of students, parents, counselors and teachers would be called to provide "a complete understanding." The student would then be placed on probation. If he failed to bring up his grades by the end of the semester, he would be expelled.

Reese said about 26 students at Novato High School would be affected by such a policy.

The school board heard a resume of changes which must be made in the elementary school curriculum to conform to new state law.

These include starting foreign languages in elementary school, and teaching courses in reading, writing and spelling instead of "language arts," and geography, history of the United States and California, and civics instead of "social studies."

Ralph Giovaniello, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, said curriculum and textbooks would have to undergo changes next fall to separate such subjects as geography from "social studies."

The board also:

1. Agreed to meet with the goals committee Thursday night to go over policy and aims of the committee. It will also discuss appointing teachers on the committee.
2. Set opening of bids for an addition to the high school for 4 p.m. Feb. 13.
3. Voted to obtain a contour map of the Sanchez property on Sutro Avenue to meet the architect's specifications.
4. Heard a report from Supt. William J. J. Smith that the district was solving legal obstacles to holding "enrichment" classes on Saturday.

In the next decade, five industrial cities will rise in the Negev, the sandswept southern wedge of Israel.

David Plant Re-Elected Head Of Boyd Museum

David N. Plant of Ross was re-elected president of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum last night at the organization's annual meeting, which also saw the installation of 22 trustees.

Elected to serve with Plant were Donald Patterson and Mrs. Kurt Rupke, vice-presidents; P. F. Kendall, treasurer, and Mrs. William Munson, secretary.

Guest speaker was Carey Baldwin, director of the San Francisco Zoo.

"You are fortunate that your animals come in a small size," he told the large audience, and recounted his many experiences with escaped lions and tigers in San Francisco and with elephants in Africa.

"We even have a hippopotamus at the San Francisco Zoo who has had a painful toothache for more than five years, and no one yet has been able to figure out how to anesthetize him long enough to remove the tooth. We heard that the London Zoo had successfully removed a bad tooth from one of their hippopotamuses so we hopefully wrote to them for instructions. All we got back was a letter saying they could not figure out a solution either and would we let them know when we did."

Guest of honor was Louise A. Boyd of San Rafael, after whom the museum was named in a special ceremony last November.

Kendall reported that in 1961, "we reduced our debt from $15,000 to under $5,000 and were able to pay all bills incurred during the year." Income for 1961 was $24,703.29, he said.

To get the museum on a solid financial basis, Plant said, the trustees were planning a two-point program; a drive for new members, and assistance from 25 foundations which aid non-profit educational groups. Donald Devoto will be in charge of the foundation drive. Membership rose from 700 to 1,100 during the year, and the museum hopes to double the present figure during the next 12 months.

Museum director Murray Dailey and program chairman Willis Evans reported on the educational moves now under way. Fifty travelling exhibits are being prepared, as is a movie on the flora and fauna of Marin, being made with the cooperation of County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis.

"We hope that the public will continue to support the museum," Plant said, "and we would like to hear suggestions from Marin residents on how they think we can best continue to provide the kind of educational programs they want."

5-Year-Old Falls Fro m Moving Car

A 5-year-old Fairfax girl suffered minor injuries yesterday when she fell from a moving auto in San Anselmo.

Alice Buddeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ino Buddeke of 66 Power Lane, was riding with her mother when the side door of the car flew open and the child tumbled to the street at the intersection of San Anselmo and Tunstead Avenues, reported Fairfax Police Chief Clifton C. Cordes.

She was treated for scalp cuts at Marin General Hospital.

Sausalito Shop Reports Burglary

Stuart Rose reported to Sausalito police yesterday afternoon that someone entered his store, Terrace Shop, in the Village Fair over the week end and took two plates and two bowls valued at between $30 and $40.

Rose said entry was made by breaking a window.

Some Support Given Proposal On Coroner

3 Mortuaries Give Backing On Salary Plan

Hearing by Marin County supervisors yesterday on a grand jury auditor's recommendation that the position of county coroner be put on a salary rather than a fee basis produced recommendation by three mortuaries that the corner and public administrator be combined with other county offices.

The proposal specifically suggested that the jobs of coroner and sheriff be combined, an arrangement sanctioned by government code.

Attorney Robert H. Andreson of Mill Valley laid this idea before the supervisors as representative of the Harry M. Williams Mortuary of San Rafael, Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley, and Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton, himself proprietor of Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael, opposed the consolidation but said he'd be interested in retaining his present position on a salary basis.

A report Jan. 30 was asked by the supervisors from Administrator Alan Bruce, who is to check up on both cost and services on a basis of experience in comparable counties.

Bruce said he had no recommendation on the salary suggestion but felt that "there are many other aspects than fees." He complimented Keaton on running "a very efficient operation."

Keaton said he had no quarrel with the grand jury recommendation but felt the supervisors should judge whether a salary plan would save money.

He said he'd been unable to analyze the grand jury figure of $17,000 a year cost.

"We have the fifth lowest operating cost of any coroner's office in California," said Keaton.

Andreson said the three undertakers' counter-proposal involved no question of whether Keaton were doing a good job but only "whether the county is receiving the best by way of service."

He felt the combination of coroner with sheriff was justified, said Andreson, by the primarily investigative function of the coroner.

"We have no guarantee that Frank Keaton will be our next coroner," said Andreson. "It could happen that the next election would put a bungling amateur into the job, to do irreparable damage."

Of the public administratorship, Andreson said that "most of the duties are performed by an attorney anyway" and that the work in this county is negligible. He recommended combination with the work of either the district ottorney or county treasurer could handle the job with minimum burden.

School Board To Ask Fairfax Traffic Change

Changes in traffic regulations on Oak Manor Drive from the Manor School to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be asked by Farifax School District trustees, it was decided last night.

Acting on recommendations of California Highway Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow, a double line indicating no passing and a speed limit of 25 miles per hour will be requested by the board of the Department of Public Works. No parking areas will be requested at school crosswalks.

STUDY RESULT

Parnow's recommendations resulted from a study requested by the Oak Manor Home Owner's Assn. Presenting the recommendations to the board last night for the association was Mrs. Harland Hennessey of 11 Gary Way.

Kenneth Lucas, Manor School principal, announced he would report to the board at the next meeting on the feasibility of student traffic control.

The trustees agreed to participate with the San Anselmo School District in a summer school program as was done last year. The district will pay the San Anselmo district $500 for the first 100 pupils in attendance and $200 for the next 200 children attending. The program last year cost the district $750.

PARK FACILITIES

Acting on a request from the Fairfax Recreation Commission, the trustees agreed to pay $500 for use of the city park facilities by school children during the current school year. Representing the commission were Frank Lawrence, commission chairman, and Mrs. Bryan Youngclaus. Lawrence said their figures showed use of facilities by district pupils had cost the city at least $500.

A check for $129 was presented the board by John W. Gottschalk on behalf of the Fairfax Dad's Club for improvements at the Manor School playground.

The meeting was adjourned to 7:45 p.m. Jan. 24 in the district office at Central School at which time the board policy handbook will be discussed.

Romney, 54, was born in Chihuahua, Mex. The Constitution says no person except a natural born citizen shall be eligible to the office of president, but according to a law passed by Congress in 1790, children born abroad of American parents are American citizens.

Expulsion Of Failing Pupils Urged

Expulsion of high school students who continue to fail in more than half their classes was proposed to the Novato Unified School District board last night by Fielding Reese, high school counselor.

Reese said a high school committee was working on a plan for such a policy, patterned after that in use in San Rafael and Petaluma high schools. He said if a student failed in half his classes, a conference of students, parents, counselors and teachers would be called to provide "a complete understanding." The student would then be placed on probation. If he failed to bring up his grades by the end of the semester, he would be expelled.

Reese said about 26 students at Novato High School would be affected by such a policy.

The school board heard a resume of changes which must be made in the elementary school curriculum to conform to new state law.

These include starting foreign languages in elementary school, and teaching courses in reading, writing and spelling instead of "language arts," and geography, history of the United States and California, and civics instead of "social studies."

Ralph Giovaniello, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, said curriculum and textbooks would have to undergo changes next fall to separate such subjects as geography from "social studies."

The board also:

1. Agreed to meet with the goals committee Thursday night to go over policy and aims of the committee. It will also discuss appointing teachers on the committee.
2. Set opening of bids for an addition to the high school for 4 p.m. Feb. 13.
3. Voted to obtain a contour map of the Sanchez property on Sutro Avenue to meet the architect's specifications.
4. Heard a report from Supt. William J. J. Smith that the district was solving legal obstacles to holding "enrichment" classes on Saturday.

In the next decade, five industrial cities will rise in the Negev, the sandswept southern wedge of Israel.

David Plant Re-Elected Head Of Boyd Museum

David N. Plant of Ross was re-elected president of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum last night at the organization's annual meeting, which also saw the installation of 22 trustees.

Elected to serve with Plant were Donald Patterson and Mrs. Kurt Rupke, vice-presidents; P. F. Kendall, treasurer, and Mrs. William Munson, secretary.

Guest speaker was Carey Baldwin, director of the San Francisco Zoo.

"You are fortunate that your animals come in a small size," he told the large audience, and recounted his many experiences with escaped lions and tigers in San Francisco and with elephants in Africa.

"We even have a hippopotamus at the San Francisco Zoo who has had a painful toothache for more than five years, and no one yet has been able to figure out how to anesthetize him long enough to remove the tooth. We heard that the London Zoo had successfully removed a bad tooth from one of their hippopotamuses so we hopefully wrote to them for instructions. All we got back was a letter saying they could not figure out a solution either and would we let them know when we did."

Guest of honor was Louise A. Boyd of San Rafael, after whom the museum was named in a special ceremony last November.

Kendall reported that in 1961, "we reduced our debt from $15,000 to under $5,000 and were able to pay all bills incurred during the year." Income for 1961 was $24,703.29, he said.

To get the museum on a solid financial basis, Plant said, the trustees were planning a two-point program; a drive for new members, and assistance from 25 foundations which aid non-profit educational groups. Donald Devoto will be in charge of the foundation drive. Membership rose from 700 to 1,100 during the year, and the museum hopes to double the present figure during the next 12 months.

Museum director Murray Dailey and program chairman Willis Evans reported on the educational moves now under way. Fifty travelling exhibits are being prepared, as is a movie on the flora and fauna of Marin, being made with the cooperation of County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis.

"We hope that the public will continue to support the museum," Plant said, "and we would like to hear suggestions from Marin residents on how they think we can best continue to provide the kind of educational programs they want."

5-Year-Old Falls Fro m Moving Car

A 5-year-old Fairfax girl suffered minor injuries yesterday when she fell from a moving auto in San Anselmo.

Alice Buddeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ino Buddeke of 66 Power Lane, was riding with her mother when the side door of the car flew open and the child tumbled to the street at the intersection of San Anselmo and Tunstead Avenues, reported Fairfax Police Chief Clifton C. Cordes.

She was treated for scalp cuts at Marin General Hospital.

ROY SORENSON
YMCA Speaker

Roy Sorenson To Speak On YMCA Goals

Roy Sorenson of Sausalito, general secretary of the San Francisco Metropolitan YMCA, will speak on "American Goals and the YMCA" at Marin's annual "Y" dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Representing youth at the meeting will be Mike Cooney of 9 Kentdale Lane, Kentfield; Wendy Johnson of 68 Gregory Drive, Fairfax; and Nathaniel Johnson of 89 Cole Drive, Marin City, announced Irwin Farley, chairman of the board of "Y" managers for Marin.

Sorenson served on the President's Committee, the Executive Committee and the Program Committee for last year's White House Conference on Children and Youth. He also is chairman of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's Committee on Metropolitan Area Problems.

Five In Cuba Die As Escape Plot Foiled

MIAMI (AP) — Havana radio today five enemies of the Castro regime were shot to death and an unmentioned number of others wounded when they tried to steal a yacht to flee the island.

According to the official report, the men tried to board the government yacht Pretexto at Barlovento Harbor, near Havana, on Monday to force the crew to take them to freedom.

"Agents of the security corps intercepted them," the radio report said, "and an intense gunbattle followed. Five of the assailants died and various others were wounded."

The radio report said the "remainder" of the attacking band was arrested. It said the dead men had not been identified.

Novato Woman Takes Sleep Pills

Frances Taylor Meyer, 42, of 930 George Street, Novato, was taken to Novato Hospital after taking an overdose of sleeping pills early today, Novato police reported.

Mrs. Meyer had a family argument and took the tablets about 3 a.m., according to Police Sgt. Wayne W. Knutila. She then called a physician who called police.

She was returned home after hospital treatment.

Young Mussolini Wedding Date Set

FORLI, Italy (UPI) — Actress Sophia Loren's sister and the jazz pianist son of the late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini will be married March 3, the dictator's widow said today.

Donna Rachele Mussolini said the wedding would take place in a little church in the nearby north-central Italian town of Predappio.

The groom-to-be is Romano Mussolini, 32, youngest son of the dictator and long a favorite musical attraction in Rome's night clubs. His bride-to-be is Maria Scicolone, 24.

Hearing Tomorrow On Freeway Routes Through Novato

A public hearing on the various proposed routes of Highway 101 freeway through Novato will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the community building in Novato, by the California Division of Highways.

The highway engineers have proposed one route through Novato at the present site of the highway. This would be a sunken grade through the main business district of Novato.

Other routes proposed include three through the hills east of town.

Highway officials will be on hand to answer questions about the costs and property affected by the three proposals.

JUDGE GRANTS DIVORCE BUT GOOD GRIEF!

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Judge Raymond W. Graham granted Evelyn Jones, 27, a divorce from Ernest Jones yesterday but said the basis for the petition was "the most amazing I've ever seen."

"That a husband and father of 11 children should be guilty of incompatibility does injustice to the term," said Judge Graham.

The couple married when Mrs. Jones was 13 and has children aged 12, 11, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, and 1.

Top California Reds Testify At Anti-Subversive Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Assembly committee heard California's two top communists avow enthusiastic support of American liberties and constitutional government at a hearing yesterday.

The hearing in the State Building concerned a proposal by Asemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) to deny communists public jobs and tax exemption.

Four witnesses testified in favor of the proposal and praised provisions defining a subversive.

The proposal was opposed by Dorothy Ray Healey, chairman of the Communist Party of Southern California, and Albert J. Lima, the party's Northern California chairman.

"Our aim, both federal and state, is a socialist government, constitutionally elected," Mrs. Healey said.

Answering a question, she said communism was more advanced in some other countries.

The committee vice chairman, Don A. Allen Sr. (D-Los Angeles) snapped:

"Then why in hell don't some of you diatribe Marys take a boat and go to the countries you think are so great?"

"Because we love our country," Mrs. Healey replied.

She said the purpose of the Francis amendment "is to establish by legislative fiat, requiring no evidence or proof, that which could not be proved in a court of law."

Mrs. Healey said the party has 1,000 members in Southern California, and Lima said the Northern California membership is 500.

Clubhouse Plan Is Not Dropped

While offering for sale its property in Forest Knolls formerly intended for a clubhouse, the San Geronimo Valley Assn. is not dropping plans for a clubhouse, Mrs. Winifred Frederick, vice president, said today.

She said the association seeks a better site, removed from the business district along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard where the present property is situated, and wishes to obtain more parking space.

When it obtains a satisfactory new site, the association will renew preparations for a clubhouse, she said.

County Awards Contract For Five Compact Cars For Investigator

DeLong Chevrolet Co. of San Rafael was awarded a contract today to furnish five compact cars for investigators of the sheriff's department.

They are to provide the new "Chevy II," classed between Corvair and standard Chevrolet, at base price of $1,810.30 each, totaling $9,413.56 with tax but brought down to $8,863.56 by trade-in allowance.

Only other bidder was Ames Ford Sales which offered Falcons at $1,845.81 apiece base price, totaling $9,598.21 with tax but with actual price $9,023.21 with trade-ins.

New bids were called with regard to another proposed purchase of nine police cars due to what Asst. Purchasing Agent John F. Hettrich called "an obvious error in the bid of DeLong Chevrolet Co." which offered $975 trade-in on a car valued by the county at $25.

Reason for the big write-down is that the car had been totally wrecked in an accident and its engine and transmission removed for salvage.

Hettrich said he discussed the blunder with county counsel who said DeLong might withdraw and allow award to the next lowest bidder, a course Hettrich felt not in the best interest of the county because the difference between DeLong's bid and the only other bid, from Ames Ford, was "in excess of $2,000."

The supervisors accordingly rejected both bids and called for new offers.

Hub Trustees Ask Trial On Sunny Hills

The months-long dispute between the San Anselmo School District and Sunny Hills Presbyterian Orphanage over 13 acres of orphanage land will be brought to trial "as soon as possible," the school district trustees decided last night.

The land was condemned by the district for possible acquisition as a school site last September. Since that time, negotiations between the district and Sunny Hills have continued on an off-and-on basis.

In instructing County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to bring the condemnation suit to trial, the trustees were acting so as not to lose allocation funds from the State Board of Education, Supt. Stephen Parodi said. Trustees feared the state might withdraw aid if the matter continued indefinitely without conclusion, Parodi said.

POLIO SHOTS

District parents will be notified immediately of a new state law requiring polio immunization of students entering school, Parodi said. Cards on which parents may indicate the dates of their children's vaccinations will be sent home by pupils so officials may determine the number of children now immunized. Students changing school and those entering school next September must be vaccinated.

The district mathematics program was reviewed for the trustees last night by the superintendent and four district principals: Mrs. Marian Merritt of Wade Thomas and Yolandsdale Schools; Donald Wallace, Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley Schools; James Stincombe, Isabel Cook School; and Jean Stover, Brookside School.

INSTITUTE DAY

It was announced that teacher institute day will be held in the district on Jan. 26.

The trustees approved payment of $9,281 in vendor warrants, $47,525 payroll warrants and $1,092 supplementary payroll warrants for December and the latter part of November.

The board adjourned to Feb. 6 at 8 p.m. at the Isabel Cook School when the district salary schedule will be discussed and reports will be made on progress on Sunny Hills land acquisition.

Roy Sorenson of Sausalito, general secretary of the San Francisco Metropolitan YMCA, will speak on "American Goals and the YMCA" at Marin's annual "Y" dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Representing youth at the meeting will be Mike Cooney of 9 Kentdale Lane, Kentfield; Wendy Johnson of 68 Gregory Drive, Fairfax; and Nathaniel Johnson of 89 Cole Drive, Marin City, announced Irwin Farley, chairman of the board of "Y" managers for Marin.

Sorenson served on the President's Committee, the Executive Committee and the Program Committee for last year's White House Conference on Children and Youth. He also is chairman of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's Committee on Metropolitan Area Problems.

Five In Cuba Die As Escape Plot Foiled

MIAMI (AP) — Havana radio today five enemies of the Castro regime were shot to death and an unmentioned number of others wounded when they tried to steal a yacht to flee the island.

According to the official report, the men tried to board the government yacht Pretexto at Barlovento Harbor, near Havana, on Monday to force the crew to take them to freedom.

"Agents of the security corps intercepted them," the radio report said, "and an intense gunbattle followed. Five of the assailants died and various others were wounded."

The radio report said the "remainder" of the attacking band was arrested. It said the dead men had not been identified.

Novato Woman Takes Sleep Pills

Frances Taylor Meyer, 42, of 930 George Street, Novato, was taken to Novato Hospital after taking an overdose of sleeping pills early today, Novato police reported.

Mrs. Meyer had a family argument and took the tablets about 3 a.m., according to Police Sgt. Wayne W. Knutila. She then called a physician who called police.

She was returned home after hospital treatment.

Young Mussolini Wedding Date Set

FORLI, Italy (UPI) — Actress Sophia Loren's sister and the jazz pianist son of the late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini will be married March 3, the dictator's widow said today.

Donna Rachele Mussolini said the wedding would take place in a little church in the nearby north-central Italian town of Predappio.

The groom-to-be is Romano Mussolini, 32, youngest son of the dictator and long a favorite musical attraction in Rome's night clubs. His bride-to-be is Maria Scicolone, 24.

Hearing Tomorrow On Freeway Routes Through Novato

A public hearing on the various proposed routes of Highway 101 freeway through Novato will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the community building in Novato, by the California Division of Highways.

The highway engineers have proposed one route through Novato at the present site of the highway. This would be a sunken grade through the main business district of Novato.

Other routes proposed include three through the hills east of town.

Highway officials will be on hand to answer questions about the costs and property affected by the three proposals.

JUDGE GRANTS DIVORCE BUT GOOD GRIEF!

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Judge Raymond W. Graham granted Evelyn Jones, 27, a divorce from Ernest Jones yesterday but said the basis for the petition was "the most amazing I've ever seen."

"That a husband and father of 11 children should be guilty of incompatibility does injustice to the term," said Judge Graham.

The couple married when Mrs. Jones was 13 and has children aged 12, 11, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, and 1.

Assemblyman Allen Takes Tour Of Marin

Bruce F. Allen, 45, Republican Assemblyman from Santa Clara County who seeks the attorney general's post, toured Marin all day yesterday.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley introduced Allen to the South Marin Federation of Republican Women, Marin Republican Council, San Rafael Business and Professional Women's Club, Central Marin and Novato Federation of Republican Women, and the Marin County Young Republicans.

Allen is giving up his Assembly seat to run for the post now held by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

Allen declared he sees the need for "stronger law enforcement in California with an aggressive attorney general who will present a program to fight the crime wave that we now face in California."

Allen said he believes in the present laws on capital punishment, which he helped author. He favors retention of capital punishment because "present laws give adequate safeguards to the accused, and capital punishment is applied in California only in very few cases of the most vicious criminals."

In 1957 and 1958, Allen was chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee which investigated organized crime in California and published a report on "Rackets."

State Sen. Richard Dolwig, Republican from San Mateo, is also seeking Mosk's post.

Named Manager

Charles Goacher of 47 Alameda del Prado, Novato, has been named San Francisco terminal manager for the United States Express at its annual meeting, M. D. Savage, president, announced today.

STRANGE MEN

Nuclear Hideout Sought

If three strange men are seen poking about Marin County buildings during the next few days, they are only looking for a nuclear hideout.

That is, if they carry letters signed by Walter R. Castro, chairman of the board of supervisors, identifying them as J. P. Hawke, J. L. Wilton and P. C. Lambert, all of the San Rafael firm of J. P. Hawkes and Associates.

The firm has ac ontract with the district public works office of the Twelfth Naval District to perform a survey to "locate, record, evaluate, select and mark acceptable shelters in existing facilities and to determine the nature and cost of the work necessary to improve the capacity and quality of existing shelters."

New Budget Proposal Gets Cold Shoulder

A less than enthusiastic welcome was offered by the Board of Supervisors yesterday to a new budget procedure proposal from Administrator Alan Bruce.

Under Alan's proposed schedule, which he said is in use in other California counties and many cities, informal discussions between department heads and administrators would begin almost three weeks later than under the present system.

Although the end results—adoption of the final budget and setting of the tax rate—would occur at the same time as now, Bruce said the new system would "give a longer time for public scrutiny" of the preliminary budget prior to adoption.

By moving up the review of the proposed budget with department heads, adoption of the preliminary budget would be accomplished about two weeks earlier under the new system, Bruce said.

The lone supervisor showing enthusiasm for the new system was Peter H. Behr who said that it gave the preliminary budget to the supervisors 25 days ahead of public hearings. "If we feel anything is awry, then we can explain what we don't like to the department heads."

Behr, who conceded the suggestion merited further study, said he felt the additional time given the public to see the budget made it easier for the public to become well informed and to give the supervisors suggestions.

"I like the present method better," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss. "The new method doesn't consider revisions of the proposed budget by the supervisors and department heads."

78th Food Unit Enters Competition

This is the second consecutive year for the food service section of the 78th Air Base Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base to represent the 28th Air Division in the sixth annual United States Air Force Hennessy Trophy competition.

The trophy winner and first and second runners-up will be named sometime in the spring. This is given for top food handling in the Air Defense Command.

Three judges from the Air Defense Command are now going over food handling at the 78th. They will inspect all regular dining halls, the combat alert kitchen inflight meal feeding, central meat cutting plant, central pastry kitchen, management and administrative sections of food service.

The USAF-wide judging will be done by representatives from the National Restaurant Assn., Food Service Executive Assn., and the National Industrial Cafeteria Managers Assn.

Maj. Thomas E. Taylor is in charge of food handling at the 78th Air Base Squadron.

Meetings Set On Future Of Marin College

College of Marin architects, board members, faculty and students will discuss plans for future campus facilities in two meetings to be held at 7:30 p.m. today and tomorrow in Room 24 at the campus.

Discussion of physical education and students center facilities will be held today. Science and music-speech facilities will be discussed tomorrow.

Faculty committees, established to study and help with the planning, will explain their reports and recommendations to the trustees. Weslley Hull of the architectural firm of Falk and Booth will present a revised report of the college's space and adaquacy for present enrollment and for a projected student body of 2,500.

Treasury Considering Bonds For Education

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — The Treasury is considering offering the public a new "education savings bond" to encourage families to save for the college education of youngsters.

The new bond, if issued, would return to eligible savers somewhat more than the 3¾ per cent now earned by series E and H bonds held to maturity.

In 1959 the Treasury favored bringing out such a bond but dropped the idea after learning of opposition by key members of Congress.

An education bond—which might be designated series EE—could help strengthen the savings bond program in the face of new competition from banks for thrift money. It also would give parents and youngsters a special way to save for the rapidly mounting cost of going to college.

Under a change in federal regulations which went into effect Jan. 1, banks may pay up to 4 per cent interest on havings deposits undisturbed for a year or more. How much, if any, this will hurt savings bonds will not be clear for several months.

Sales so far this month, Treasury officials said, indicate no shift from bonds to bank deposits. One reason is that nearly half of all bond sales are through the payroll savings plan.

The education bond idea is being actively considered as part of a general review of the bond program to find the ways to strengthen it.

If adopted and approved by Congress, the education bonds probably would be like regular series E bonds — discount securities sold for less than their future redemption value. If held by a family with a son or daughter attending an accredited school of higher education, they could be cashed in for more at any time than a regular E Bond held equally long.

Top California Reds Testify At Anti-Subversive Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Assembly committee heard California's two top communists avow enthusiastic support of American liberties and constitutional government at a hearing yesterday.

The hearing in the State Building concerned a proposal by Asemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) to deny communists public jobs and tax exemption.

Four witnesses testified in favor of the proposal and praised provisions defining a subversive.

The proposal was opposed by Dorothy Ray Healey, chairman of the Communist Party of Southern California, and Albert J. Lima, the party's Northern California chairman.

"Our aim, both federal and state, is a socialist government, constitutionally elected," Mrs. Healey said.

Answering a question, she said communism was more advanced in some other countries.

The committee vice chairman, Don A. Allen Sr. (D-Los Angeles) snapped:

"Then why in hell don't some of you diatribe Marys take a boat and go to the countries you think are so great?"

"Because we love our country," Mrs. Healey replied.

She said the purpose of the Francis amendment "is to establish by legislative fiat, requiring no evidence or proof, that which could not be proved in a court of law."

Mrs. Healey said the party has 1,000 members in Southern California, and Lima said the Northern California membership is 500.

Clubhouse Plan Is Not Dropped

While offering for sale its property in Forest Knolls formerly intended for a clubhouse, the San Geronimo Valley Assn. is not dropping plans for a clubhouse, Mrs. Winifred Frederick, vice president, said today.

She said the association seeks a better site, removed from the business district along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard where the present property is situated, and wishes to obtain more parking space.

When it obtains a satisfactory new site, the association will renew preparations for a clubhouse, she said.

County Awards Contract For Five Compact Cars For Investigator

DeLong Chevrolet Co. of San Rafael was awarded a contract today to furnish five compact cars for investigators of the sheriff's department.

They are to provide the new "Chevy II," classed between Corvair and standard Chevrolet, at base price of $1,810.30 each, totaling $9,413.56 with tax but brought down to $8,863.56 by trade-in allowance.

Only other bidder was Ames Ford Sales which offered Falcons at $1,845.81 apiece base price, totaling $9,598.21 with tax but with actual price $9,023.21 with trade-ins.

New bids were called with regard to another proposed purchase of nine police cars due to what Asst. Purchasing Agent John F. Hettrich called "an obvious error in the bid of DeLong Chevrolet Co." which offered $975 trade-in on a car valued by the county at $25.

Reason for the big write-down is that the car had been totally wrecked in an accident and its engine and transmission removed for salvage.

Hettrich said he discussed the blunder with county counsel who said DeLong might withdraw and allow award to the next lowest bidder, a course Hettrich felt not in the best interest of the county because the difference between DeLong's bid and the only other bid, from Ames Ford, was "in excess of $2,000."

The supervisors accordingly rejected both bids and called for new offers.

Hub Trustees Ask Trial On Sunny Hills

The months-long dispute between the San Anselmo School District and Sunny Hills Presbyterian Orphanage over 13 acres of orphanage land will be brought to trial "as soon as possible," the school district trustees decided last night.

The land was condemned by the district for possible acquisition as a school site last September. Since that time, negotiations between the district and Sunny Hills have continued on an off-and-on basis.

In instructing County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to bring the condemnation suit to trial, the trustees were acting so as not to lose allocation funds from the State Board of Education, Supt. Stephen Parodi said. Trustees feared the state might withdraw aid if the matter continued indefinitely without conclusion, Parodi said.

POLIO SHOTS

District parents will be notified immediately of a new state law requiring polio immunization of students entering school, Parodi said. Cards on which parents may indicate the dates of their children's vaccinations will be sent home by pupils so officials may determine the number of children now immunized. Students changing school and those entering school next September must be vaccinated.

The district mathematics program was reviewed for the trustees last night by the superintendent and four district principals: Mrs. Marian Merritt of Wade Thomas and Yolandsdale Schools; Donald Wallace, Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley Schools; James Stincombe, Isabel Cook School; and Jean Stover, Brookside School.

INSTITUTE DAY

It was announced that teacher institute day will be held in the district on Jan. 26.

The trustees approved payment of $9,281 in vendor warrants, $47,525 payroll warrants and $1,092 supplementary payroll warrants for December and the latter part of November.

The board adjourned to Feb. 6 at 8 p.m. at the Isabel Cook School when the district salary schedule will be discussed and reports will be made on progress on Sunny Hills land acquisition.

Assemblyman Allen Takes Tour Of Marin

Bruce F. Allen, 45, Republican Assemblyman from Santa Clara County who seeks the attorney general's post, toured Marin all day yesterday.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley introduced Allen to the South Marin Federation of Republican Women, Marin Republican Council, San Rafael Business and Professional Women's Club, Central Marin and Novato Federation of Republican Women, and the Marin County Young Republicans.

Allen is giving up his Assembly seat to run for the post now held by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

Allen declared he sees the need for "stronger law enforcement in California with an aggressive attorney general who will present a program to fight the crime wave that we now face in California."

Allen said he believes in the present laws on capital punishment, which he helped author. He favors retention of capital punishment because "present laws give adequate safeguards to the accused, and capital punishment is applied in California only in very few cases of the most vicious criminals."

In 1957 and 1958, Allen was chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee which investigated organized crime in California and published a report on "Rackets."

State Sen. Richard Dolwig, Republican from San Mateo, is also seeking Mosk's post.

Named Manager

Charles Goacher of 47 Alameda del Prado, Novato, has been named San Francisco terminal manager for the United States Express at its annual meeting, M. D. Savage, president, announced today.

STRANGE MEN

Nuclear Hideout Sought

If three strange men are seen poking about Marin County buildings during the next few days, they are only looking for a nuclear hideout.

That is, if they carry letters signed by Walter R. Castro, chairman of the board of supervisors, identifying them as J. P. Hawke, J. L. Wilton and P. C. Lambert, all of the San Rafael firm of J. P. Hawkes and Associates.

The firm has ac ontract with the district public works office of the Twelfth Naval District to perform a survey to "locate, record, evaluate, select and mark acceptable shelters in existing facilities and to determine the nature and cost of the work necessary to improve the capacity and quality of existing shelters."

New Budget Proposal Gets Cold Shoulder

A less than enthusiastic welcome was offered by the Board of Supervisors yesterday to a new budget procedure proposal from Administrator Alan Bruce.

Under Alan's proposed schedule, which he said is in use in other California counties and many cities, informal discussions between department heads and administrators would begin almost three weeks later than under the present system.

Although the end results—adoption of the final budget and setting of the tax rate—would occur at the same time as now, Bruce said the new system would "give a longer time for public scrutiny" of the preliminary budget prior to adoption.

By moving up the review of the proposed budget with department heads, adoption of the preliminary budget would be accomplished about two weeks earlier under the new system, Bruce said.

The lone supervisor showing enthusiasm for the new system was Peter H. Behr who said that it gave the preliminary budget to the supervisors 25 days ahead of public hearings. "If we feel anything is awry, then we can explain what we don't like to the department heads."

Behr, who conceded the suggestion merited further study, said he felt the additional time given the public to see the budget made it easier for the public to become well informed and to give the supervisors suggestions.

"I like the present method better," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss. "The new method doesn't consider revisions of the proposed budget by the supervisors and department heads."

78th Food Unit Enters Competition

This is the second consecutive year for the food service section of the 78th Air Base Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base to represent the 28th Air Division in the sixth annual United States Air Force Hennessy Trophy competition.

The trophy winner and first and second runners-up will be named sometime in the spring. This is given for top food handling in the Air Defense Command.

Three judges from the Air Defense Command are now going over food handling at the 78th. They will inspect all regular dining halls, the combat alert kitchen inflight meal feeding, central meat cutting plant, central pastry kitchen, management and administrative sections of food service.

The USAF-wide judging will be done by representatives from the National Restaurant Assn., Food Service Executive Assn., and the National Industrial Cafeteria Managers Assn.

Maj. Thomas E. Taylor is in charge of food handling at the 78th Air Base Squadron.

Meetings Set On Future Of Marin College

College of Marin architects, board members, faculty and students will discuss plans for future campus facilities in two meetings to be held at 7:30 p.m. today and tomorrow in Room 24 at the campus.

Discussion of physical education and students center facilities will be held today. Science and music-speech facilities will be discussed tomorrow.

Faculty committees, established to study and help with the planning, will explain their reports and recommendations to the trustees. Weslley Hull of the architectural firm of Falk and Booth will present a revised report of the college's space and adaquacy for present enrollment and for a projected student body of 2,500.

Treasury Considering Bonds For Education

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — The Treasury is considering offering the public a new "education savings bond" to encourage families to save for the college education of youngsters.

The new bond, if issued, would return to eligible savers somewhat more than the 3¾ per cent now earned by series E and H bonds held to maturity.

In 1959 the Treasury favored bringing out such a bond but dropped the idea after learning of opposition by key members of Congress.

An education bond—which might be designated series EE—could help strengthen the savings bond program in the face of new competition from banks for thrift money. It also would give parents and youngsters a special way to save for the rapidly mounting cost of going to college.

Under a change in federal regulations which went into effect Jan. 1, banks may pay up to 4 per cent interest on havings deposits undisturbed for a year or more. How much, if any, this will hurt savings bonds will not be clear for several months.

Sales so far this month, Treasury officials said, indicate no shift from bonds to bank deposits. One reason is that nearly half of all bond sales are through the payroll savings plan.

The education bond idea is being actively considered as part of a general review of the bond program to find the ways to strengthen it.

If adopted and approved by Congress, the education bonds probably would be like regular series E bonds — discount securities sold for less than their future redemption value. If held by a family with a son or daughter attending an accredited school of higher education, they could be cashed in for more at any time than a regular E Bond held equally long.

DISTRACTIONS AT PEBBLE BEACH

Deer, Seals, Comedians And Dolls

COMBINED AP & UPI

PEBBLE BEACH—The first round of the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament, third stop on the rich winter tour, gets under way tomorrow.

Most of the players have been here for two days testing out the fairways and greens at Pebble Beach, Cypress and Monterey Country Club.

But many of them are working on their powers of concentration — an important added ingredient necessary to win this event.

The distractions, aside from the weather, include deer on the fairways, seals in the adjoining waters, beautiful girls — and the world's greatest comedians.

Bob Rosburg, the pudgy ex-Stanford athlete now playing out of Portland, Ore., is the defending champion. He is paired with TV western star Jim Garner. At least he's got a chance to keep a straight face during the action.

But consider some of the others. Jimmy Demaret draws his usual partner, Bob Hope. Gary Player, leading money-winner on the tour last year, won't get too much help from Tennessee Ernie Ford, although the laughs may boost his morale.

Ken Venturi could get some assistance from Dean Martin, if he can get the comedian-singer to go into training. So far this has proved an impossible task.

All of these amateurs like to converse with the crowd, which often numbers well up in the thousands for each foursome.

The Demaret-Hope, Player-Ford foursome, for instance, probably will attract more attention than any other group, even if it is far out of contention.

Some of the other top golf stars got better athletic talent. Billy Casper will be playing with big Bob Reynolds, one-time gridder who now is president of the Los Angeles Angels. Tom Nieporte plays with singer Gordon Mac Rae. Art Wall draws manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants — a very fine golfer with an eight handicap.

Each golfer plays one round over Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Cypress Point and Pebble Beach before the field is reduced for Sunday's final at Pebble Beach.

Fingers are crossed for good weather, but rain is no novelty here, and winds whipping off the Pacific Ocean compound the problems on the trick courses.

Eleven pros who have won the Crosby are in the field. They face a host of young challengers including 1961 amateur champion Jack Nicklaus, Phil Rodgers who won the Los Angeles Open, and Tommy Jacobs who captured the top prize Sunday at San Diego.

The former champions in addition to Rosburg, are Ed Furgol, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, Dutch Harrison, Cary Middlecoff, Jay Hebert, Billy Casper, Art Wall, and Ken Venturi.

Al Dark Talks Golf, Then Switches To His Favorite Subject—Giants

HANLEY

PEBBLE BEACH—Since close of the baseball season last Oct. 1, Alvin Dark has played as many rounds of golf as the touring pros and has put in more hours on the practice tee than most of them. He admitted as much here yesterday during his next-to-last tune up round for the Bing Crosby National in which he is paired with Art Wall.

"I wasn't much help to Art last year," said the manager of the Giants. "I certainly hope to contribute a few strokes this time."

In the generous Crosby handicapping system, Dark has been given eight strokes and he maintains "I'll need all of them if I don't keep my right hip and right hand where they belong."

All winter long Dark has been concentrating on keeping his right hip out of the way while developing a snapping right hand wrist action designed for distance. How much distance?

"You're dead with these long hitters if you can't pound it 260 off the tee," said Dark.

A MIGHTY ambitious goal for a man who devotes nine months of the year to baseball. But then Dark never was content with a mediocre performance in any sport he tackled. Little known is the fact he won the Southern AAU high jump at 6-2 for Louisiana State where he also was a blocking halfback for Steve Van Buren. Pro football never seriously tempted him because of his baseball ability. Neither did pro golf.

As a hobby, Dark loves golf and has no objection to baseball players playing the game "except on days when we have a night game."

What about spring training this year? Does he plan any innovations or changes from the routine he installed last spring as a rookie manager?

"THE ONLY basic change will be to give everyone four times as much practice in the batting cage during the opening 10 days we are at Casa Grande," he said. "This will be possible because of Casa Grande's four practice fields. By the time we move up to Phoenix during the first week of March, I hope everyone has his batting eye."

And there will be plenty of running for the entire pitching staff throughout the entire spring encampment from Feb. 23 to April 6.

"That's right," said Dark, "but there's nothing new in that. I still feel a baseball team is no stronger than its legs. There is no short cut in developing leg muscles for the grind of a 162-game season. There's only one way—running.

"JUST BECAUSE an athlete might have big calf muscles doesn't necessarily mean his legs are in condition. The muscles must be toned for baseball just as faithfully as a track man goes about conditioning himself — running and more running."

After Sam Jones heard that little speech last spring and found himself running more than he ever had, Sam quipped:

"I think he's training us to run the ball over the plate."

Redwood Lone Marin Quintet To Win In Practice Schedule

Coach Dick Hart's Redwood High Giants were the only varsity basketball team in the Marin County Athletic League to knock off an out of county team in non-league games yesterday.

Redwood wiped out Lowell of San Francisco 46-34; San Rafael had a three-game winning streak snapped by Napa, 46-34; Sir Francis Drake was thrashed by Skyline High at Oakland, 43-34, and Marin Catholic was outdone by Petaluma, 47-42.

(Tamalpais had a closed date yesterday and Novato scrimmaged the College of Marin Jay Vees at the college gym, closed to spectators.)

In another game, the San Rafael Military Academy lost to Concordia.

The Giants led all the way against Lowell of San Francisco. The dominating halftime score was 22-15. Redwood's Jay Johnson was back on line with the target and paced the game with 23 points to push his team to a 6-7 win-loss record. Two weeks ago Redwood had a 4-7 count.

On defense for the Giants, Doug Detrick; led the pack as he picked off seven rebounds.

The Lowell Bs beat Redwood in an overtime contest, 27-25. Larry Herst was the big gun for Redwood with nine points.

For the Marin Catholic Wildcats, high shooter against Petaluma was Ron O'Connell. Petaluma established a good lead until late in the game when the Wildcats, led by John Enos, who totaled 13 points, Jerry Smith, who was held to nine, and O'Connell, managed to tie the count 41-41. But Petaluma made it to the wire first.

The Drake Pirates held off Skyline High 8-8 until the second period. The halftime score was 23-16, however.

For the Marin squad, Brad Busch was the pacer with 14 points. Mark Boero, the hustler, scored a healthy nine. Coach Carl Brown said his Pirates' "downfall" yesterday was that they did not rebound well. And "our shooting is still not up to par."

The Drake B team lost to the Skyline Junior Varsity 38-23. Walter Klenz was Drake's high point man.

HANEY STARS

Bulldog Jack Haney paced his San Rafael squad with 14 points, but not enough other Bulldogs came through with baskets. It was the second successive time this season Napa has put down San Rafael. The San Rafael Bs also were beaten, 27-22. Bulldog Jim Duffy was high man with seven.

The San Rafael Military Academy was run right off the court as Concordia whaled the Cadets with an unmericiful bombardment. Not until the final period could coach Larry Fulton's Cadets' anti-tank guns slow down Concordia's seven-foot center. That's right, seven feet! Concordia led at one period in the game by 30 points. For San Rafael, Terry Hoffmann tallied 19, Bill Freeman, 16, and Jim Sulgar, 10.

Maris Easy Winner Of 'Sports Thrill Of Year'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The exploits of Roger Maris and his assault on Babe Ruth's home run record were overwhelmingly acclaimed the top sports thrill of 1961 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Maris hit home run No. 61 on the last day of the baseball season to break Ruth's standard and climax the drama and pressure that had mounted as the New York Yankee slugger approached the record.

Of the 107 sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll, 71 tabbed Maris' drive toward Ruth's mark of 60 home runs as the most thrilling sports story of 1961.

A distant runner-up in the balloting was the University of Cincinnati's basketball team capturing the NCAA title last spring. The Bearcats ended Ohio State's 32-game winning streak with a 70-65 overtime victory in the finals. The feat received six votes.

The Water's Still Too Clear For Good Catches By The Steelheaders

STEVENS

No, that small amount of rain late last week did nothing to improve the steelhead streams. But, as usual, a flock of phone calls came in asking if such were so. While there was only about a third of an inch of aqua pura in the Bay and Delta regions, there was some hope that farther north it may have been heavier. So I contacted Clare Titus at Point Arena to get the low-down on the loop streams.

"It didn't help a bit, Ralph," Clare told me. "We only had one half inch of rain and all the streams are low and clear. I'm not certain, but I think the Gualala mouth closed and, while the Garcia is always open and quite a few fish have come in, they are not being caught. Some of the boys are fishing with flies, in the Garcia near the mouth and one or two have been taken, but its been mighty slim pickings."

I asked about the Navarro (one of the several streams Ernie and Clare Titus work regularly), and was told that it also was much too clear for any success. Of the Fort Bragg streams, the Noya Big, Ten Mile and Little rivers, Clare said the word was the same.

As far as I know, even the Russian River is now practically unfishable from its mouth to above Cloverdale. Like the Garcia and the Navarro, a few accidents have happened and perhaps one steelhead to 20 fishermen has been taken. Sorry, but that's the way it is. Already a few downstreamers have been caught and, unless we get some rain in the immediate future, we'd better all of us devote our fishing efforts to catching an occasional bass or a mess of flounders.

ON THE MARIN side of the San Pablo Bay the bass are few and far between—out of 10 boats striving for stripers out of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, only seven bass came in on Saturday, but oodles of flounders were caught. Across the bay on the Contra Costa side, the story was the same—few bass, keepers, that is, but many fine fat flounders. The reports are the same from the Suisun Bay area. Hastings Slough (Swanton's Resort) and McAvoy Harbor reported water still somewhat colored from the recent minus tides but clearing. Few bass but lots of flounders.

About these flounders I so frequently rave about! Why not give it a try? Select the lightest rod you have or can borrow, rig up with thin monofiliment line and small—very small—hooks and small pieces of sardine. You might be pleasantly surprised at the amount of battle one of those bottom feeding flatties can put up. Remember there is no size or bag limit on flounders and when it comes to eating them—well, if you are a lover of fish food, and prepare a mess of flounder fillets in the proper way, you will be in for some of the most delectable of fish dishes.

I bring to mind a trip with two buddies some years ago, Mid Kilgore and Jess Stafford. We left all our normal bass equipment at home and went out with fly rods. We caught close to a hundred flounders and each one gave a perfect imitation of a true game fish on that light gear. We had a grand and glorious feed at the Stafford home with a dozen guests . . . raving about how good the feed was.

SOME ONE called to ask about clam digging at Dillon's Beach. Today and tomorrow your chances will be good for a mess of giant clams.

Abalone season closed Monday but will open again on March 16.

Owens Nixes 49er Talks Until May 1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—R. C. Owens told Vic Morabito, president of the San Francisco 49ers, that he doesn't want to talk about a football contract until May 1.

The lanky end, who played out his 49er option last season, spoke with Morabito yesterday.

But they didn't talk much about Owens' future.

"For sound personal reasons, I don't want to discuss a contract until after the first of May," Owens told Morabito.

"Okay," said Morabito. "If you want to come by sooner, the door will be open."

Owens, who with Y. A. Tittle developed the spectacular "Alley Oop" pass, is an old hand at the big move just before the final gun.

PRO CAGE SERIES

West Catching Up With East In All-Star Play

ST LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The West holds an edge in top talent with the likes of Oscar Robertson, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, and with youth on its side, soon may catch the East in the National Basketball Assn. All-Star game series.

That's the opinion of Fred Schaus of Los Angeles, who coached the West in its convincing 150-130 victory over the veteran East stars in the 12th annual game before 15,112 here last night. The East still leads the series 7-5.

"Understand, I'm talking about individuals, not teams," Schaus said. "You have to concede the Boston Celtics still are the best team in basketball."

Bob Pettit, eight-year veteran of the St. Louis Hawks, won the game's most valuable player trophy with a record 27 rebounds. Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-1 Philadelphian who holds a 49-point scoring average, set an NBA All-Star scoring record with 42 points.

Yet most observers felt the cat-like Robertson was the difference with his smooth play making and 14-point third-quarter burst that put the West out of reach.

"Oscar got us running again in the third quarter and that broke open the game," Schaus said, "but I won't argue that Pettit deserved the MVP award. Anytime a man gets 27 rebounds over the heads of Chamberlain and Bill Russell (of Boston), you have to hand it to him."

Pettit had 27 votes from writers, Robertson 11 and Baylor 5.

Baylor, playing on an Army pass from Ft. Lewis, Wash., after a two-week layoff, led the West with 32 points. He admitted "I was tired and a little out of shape." Robertson had 26 points and Pettit 25.

Raiders Sign Two Free Agent Backs

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders yesterday signed two backs as free agents. They were Tommy Morrow of Mississippi Southern and Charley Rieves of Houston University.

Both were expected to be tried on defense.

Morrow stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 180 and was expected to be used as a defensive halfback. Rieves, Houston's top ground gainer in 1958 and 1959 stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 210. He'll be given a shot at linebacker.

Marin Matmen To Clash Twice

The Novato High wrestling team will clash in two matches with Tamalpais High Jan. 30 and sometime in February, announced Ralph Cutler, Novato coach.

The Jan. 30 meet will be held at Tam, with the time to be announced. A date for the February match at Novato is to be set.

Last Saturday, the Novato High wrestlers were edged out 21-20 by Acalanes High of Lafayette. The individual winners on the varsity team were Mike Halkovich who shutout his opponent 4-0 in the 105-pound class; Bill Carrigan, by a fall in the 112-pound class; Doug Simpson 4-2 in the 154-pound, and Eugene Loesen 4-0, 175-pound class.

The Novato Jay Vees came close to sweeping every match with Acalanes which won only 2 of 9 individual matches. The final count in favor of the Hornets was 33-6.

Novato was only one of six exhibition matches when Ron Tieche took his opponent in the 127-pound class, 9-2.

ODD ACCIDENT FELLS BRITON AT CYPRESS

PEBBLE BEACH (AP)—Guy Wolstenholme, a former British Walker Cup golfer who turned pro only recently, was the victim of an odd accident on the eve of his first U. S. appearance as a pro in the Bing Crosby pro-amateur tournament.

Wolstenholme suffered a broken left arm when he fell while practicing.

His spiked shoe caught against a knotty cypress log on the 16th hole at Cypress Point.

He said doctors told him it would be weeks before he could swing a club again but he will stay here for the tournament, covering the event for a London newspaper.

Nave Lanes Score High Bowling Effort Of Week

The highest series reported this past week was rolled by Ralph Benevenga in the Marin Masters League at Nave Lanes in Ignacio.

Benevenga's series was a 647 on games of 225, 202 and 220. Right on his tail in the same league was Bob Gay with a 627—213, 232, 182.

The best game reported this week was a 248 by Holmes Christian in the Crazy Eight Plus League at Greenbrae Lanes. Christian picked up a 624 series score on it and two others. Next best reported score was a 246 by Jim Rodgers in the same league.

Other high games of the week were thrown in the Junior League at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael. Mark Yonks and Carol Wells each rolled 245s. Yonks got a 625 series with the help of his high game. In junior bowling, the Nave Lanes juniors lead the North Bay Traveling League 21-12, won-loss record in the boys division and the girls lead, 16-8.

A BIG NIGHT AHEAD

John Clahan, left, committeeman for the San Rafael Elks Club's father-and-son ice hockey night next Saturday, tells Lance Steiger, center, and Ron Turner, the rules of ice hockey. Tickets may be purchased this week from Elks Angelo Turrini (chairman), Roger Garety, Dave Cohen, and Clahan. Dinner will be held at the clubhouse in San Rafael at 6 p.m. Afterwards, the group will attend the San Francisco Seals-Edmonton Flyers game in a reserve section at the Cow Palace in San Francisco. DISTRACTIONS AT PEBBLE BEACH

Deer, Seals, Comedians And Dolls

COMBINED AP & UPI

PEBBLE BEACH—The first round of the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament, third stop on the rich winter tour, gets under way tomorrow.

Most of the players have been here for two days testing out the fairways and greens at Pebble Beach, Cypress and Monterey Country Club.

But many of them are working on their powers of concentration — an important added ingredient necessary to win this event.

The distractions, aside from the weather, include deer on the fairways, seals in the adjoining waters, beautiful girls — and the world's greatest comedians.

Bob Rosburg, the pudgy ex-Stanford athlete now playing out of Portland, Ore., is the defending champion. He is paired with TV western star Jim Garner. At least he's got a chance to keep a straight face during the action.

But consider some of the others. Jimmy Demaret draws his usual partner, Bob Hope. Gary Player, leading money-winner on the tour last year, won't get too much help from Tennessee Ernie Ford, although the laughs may boost his morale.

Ken Venturi could get some assistance from Dean Martin, if he can get the comedian-singer to go into training. So far this has proved an impossible task.

All of these amateurs like to converse with the crowd, which often numbers well up in the thousands for each foursome.

The Demaret-Hope, Player-Ford foursome, for instance, probably will attract more attention than any other group, even if it is far out of contention.

Some of the other top golf stars got better athletic talent. Billy Casper will be playing with big Bob Reynolds, one-time gridder who now is president of the Los Angeles Angels. Tom Nieporte plays with singer Gordon Mac Rae. Art Wall draws manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants — a very fine golfer with an eight handicap.

Each golfer plays one round over Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Cypress Point and Pebble Beach before the field is reduced for Sunday's final at Pebble Beach.

Fingers are crossed for good weather, but rain is no novelty here, and winds whipping off the Pacific Ocean compound the problems on the trick courses.

Eleven pros who have won the Crosby are in the field. They face a host of young challengers including 1961 amateur champion Jack Nicklaus, Phil Rodgers who won the Los Angeles Open, and Tommy Jacobs who captured the top prize Sunday at San Diego.

The former champions in addition to Rosburg, are Ed Furgol, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, Dutch Harrison, Cary Middlecoff, Jay Hebert, Billy Casper, Art Wall, and Ken Venturi.

Al Dark Talks Golf, Then Switches To His Favorite Subject—Giants

HANLEY

PEBBLE BEACH—Since close of the baseball season last Oct. 1, Alvin Dark has played as many rounds of golf as the touring pros and has put in more hours on the practice tee than most of them. He admitted as much here yesterday during his next-to-last tune up round for the Bing Crosby National in which he is paired with Art Wall.

"I wasn't much help to Art last year," said the manager of the Giants. "I certainly hope to contribute a few strokes this time."

In the generous Crosby handicapping system, Dark has been given eight strokes and he maintains "I'll need all of them if I don't keep my right hip and right hand where they belong."

All winter long Dark has been concentrating on keeping his right hip out of the way while developing a snapping right hand wrist action designed for distance. How much distance?

"You're dead with these long hitters if you can't pound it 260 off the tee," said Dark.

A MIGHTY ambitious goal for a man who devotes nine months of the year to baseball. But then Dark never was content with a mediocre performance in any sport he tackled. Little known is the fact he won the Southern AAU high jump at 6-2 for Louisiana State where he also was a blocking halfback for Steve Van Buren. Pro football never seriously tempted him because of his baseball ability. Neither did pro golf.

As a hobby, Dark loves golf and has no objection to baseball players playing the game "except on days when we have a night game."

What about spring training this year? Does he plan any innovations or changes from the routine he installed last spring as a rookie manager?

"THE ONLY basic change will be to give everyone four times as much practice in the batting cage during the opening 10 days we are at Casa Grande," he said. "This will be possible because of Casa Grande's four practice fields. By the time we move up to Phoenix during the first week of March, I hope everyone has his batting eye."

And there will be plenty of running for the entire pitching staff throughout the entire spring encampment from Feb. 23 to April 6.

"That's right," said Dark, "but there's nothing new in that. I still feel a baseball team is no stronger than its legs. There is no short cut in developing leg muscles for the grind of a 162-game season. There's only one way—running.

"JUST BECAUSE an athlete might have big calf muscles doesn't necessarily mean his legs are in condition. The muscles must be toned for baseball just as faithfully as a track man goes about conditioning himself — running and more running."

After Sam Jones heard that little speech last spring and found himself running more than he ever had, Sam quipped:

"I think he's training us to run the ball over the plate."

Redwood Lone Marin Quintet To Win In Practice Schedule

Coach Dick Hart's Redwood High Giants were the only varsity basketball team in the Marin County Athletic League to knock off an out of county team in non-league games yesterday.

Redwood wiped out Lowell of San Francisco 46-34; San Rafael had a three-game winning streak snapped by Napa, 46-34; Sir Francis Drake was thrashed by Skyline High at Oakland, 43-34, and Marin Catholic was outdone by Petaluma, 47-42.

(Tamalpais had a closed date yesterday and Novato scrimmaged the College of Marin Jay Vees at the college gym, closed to spectators.)

In another game, the San Rafael Military Academy lost to Concordia.

The Giants led all the way against Lowell of San Francisco. The dominating halftime score was 22-15. Redwood's Jay Johnson was back on line with the target and paced the game with 23 points to push his team to a 6-7 win-loss record. Two weeks ago Redwood had a 4-7 count.

On defense for the Giants, Doug Detrick; led the pack as he picked off seven rebounds.

The Lowell Bs beat Redwood in an overtime contest, 27-25. Larry Herst was the big gun for Redwood with nine points.

For the Marin Catholic Wildcats, high shooter against Petaluma was Ron O'Connell. Petaluma established a good lead until late in the game when the Wildcats, led by John Enos, who totaled 13 points, Jerry Smith, who was held to nine, and O'Connell, managed to tie the count 41-41. But Petaluma made it to the wire first.

The Drake Pirates held off Skyline High 8-8 until the second period. The halftime score was 23-16, however.

For the Marin squad, Brad Busch was the pacer with 14 points. Mark Boero, the hustler, scored a healthy nine. Coach Carl Brown said his Pirates' "downfall" yesterday was that they did not rebound well. And "our shooting is still not up to par."

The Drake B team lost to the Skyline Junior Varsity 38-23. Walter Klenz was Drake's high point man.

HANEY STARS

Bulldog Jack Haney paced his San Rafael squad with 14 points, but not enough other Bulldogs came through with baskets. It was the second successive time this season Napa has put down San Rafael. The San Rafael Bs also were beaten, 27-22. Bulldog Jim Duffy was high man with seven.

The San Rafael Military Academy was run right off the court as Concordia whaled the Cadets with an unmericiful bombardment. Not until the final period could coach Larry Fulton's Cadets' anti-tank guns slow down Concordia's seven-foot center. That's right, seven feet! Concordia led at one period in the game by 30 points. For San Rafael, Terry Hoffmann tallied 19, Bill Freeman, 16, and Jim Sulgar, 10.

Maris Easy Winner Of 'Sports Thrill Of Year'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The exploits of Roger Maris and his assault on Babe Ruth's home run record were overwhelmingly acclaimed the top sports thrill of 1961 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Maris hit home run No. 61 on the last day of the baseball season to break Ruth's standard and climax the drama and pressure that had mounted as the New York Yankee slugger approached the record.

Of the 107 sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll, 71 tabbed Maris' drive toward Ruth's mark of 60 home runs as the most thrilling sports story of 1961.

A distant runner-up in the balloting was the University of Cincinnati's basketball team capturing the NCAA title last spring. The Bearcats ended Ohio State's 32-game winning streak with a 70-65 overtime victory in the finals. The feat received six votes.

The Water's Still Too Clear For Good Catches By The Steelheaders

STEVENS

No, that small amount of rain late last week did nothing to improve the steelhead streams. But, as usual, a flock of phone calls came in asking if such were so. While there was only about a third of an inch of aqua pura in the Bay and Delta regions, there was some hope that farther north it may have been heavier. So I contacted Clare Titus at Point Arena to get the lowdown on the loop streams.

"It didn't help a bit, Ralph," Clare told me. "We only had one half inch of rain and all the streams are low and clear. I'm not certain, but I think the Gualala mouth closed and, while the Garcia is always open and quite a few fish have come in, they are not being caught. Some of the boys are fishing with flies, in the Garcia near the mouth and one or two have been taken, but its been mighty slim pickings."

I asked about the Navarro (one of the several streams Ernie and Clare Titus work regularly), and was told that it also was much too clear for any success. Of the Fort Bragg streams, the Noya Big, Ten Mile and Little rivers, Clare said the word was the same.

As far as I know, even the Russian River is now practically unfishable from its mouth to above Cloverdale. Like the Garcia and the Navarro, a few accidents have happened and perhaps one steelhead to 20 fishermen has been taken. Sorry, but that's the way it is. Already a few downstreamers have been caught and, unless we get some rain in the immediate future, we'd better all of us devote our fishing efforts to catching an occasional bass or a mess of flounders.

ON THE MARIN side of the San Pablo Bay the bass are few and far between—out of 10 boats striving for stripers out of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, only seven bass came in on Saturday, but oodles of flounders were caught. Across the bay on the Contra Costa side, the story was the same—few bass, keepers, that is, but many fine fat flounders. The reports are the same from the Suisun Bay area. Hastings Slough (Swanton's Resort) and McAvoy Harbor reported water still somewhat colored from the recent minus tides but clearing. Few bass but lots of flounders.

About these flounders I so frequently rave about! Why not give it a try? Select the lightest rod you have or can borrow, rig up with thin monofiliment line and small—very small—hooks and small pieces of sardine. You might be pleasantly surprised at the amount of battle one of those bottom feeding flatties can put up. Remember there is no size or bag limit on flounders and when it comes to eating them —well, if you are a lover of fish food, and prepare a mess of flounder fillets in the proper way, you will be in for some of the most delectable of fish dishes.

I bring to mind a trip with two buddies some years ago, Mid Kilgore and Jess Stafford. We left all our normal bass equipment at home and went out with fly rods. We caught close to a hundred flounders and each one gave a perfect imitation of a true game fish on that light gear. We had a grand and glorious feed at the Stafford home with a dozen guests . . . raving about how good the feed was.

SOME ONE called to ask about clam digging at Dillon's Beach. Today and tomorrow your chances will be good for a mess of giant clams.

Abalone season closed Monday but will open again on March 16.

Owens Nixes 49er Talks Until May 1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—R. C. Owens told Vic Morabito, president of the San Francisco 49ers, that he doesn't want to talk about a football contract until May 1.

The lanky end, who played out his 49er option last season, spoke with Morabito yesterday.

But they didn't talk much about Owens' future.

"For sound personal reasons, I don't want to discuss a contract until after the first of May," Owens told Morabito.

"Okay," said Morabito. "If you want to come by sooner, the door will be open."

Owens, who with Y. A. Tittle developed the spectacular "Alley Oop" pass, is an old hand at the big move just before the final gun.

PRO CAGE SERIES

West Catching Up With East In All-Star Play

ST LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The West holds an edge in top talent with the likes of Oscar Robertson, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, and with youth on its side, soon may catch the East in the National Basketball Assn. All-Star game series.

That's the opinion of Fred Schaus of Los Angeles, who coached the West in its convincing 150-130 victory over the veteran East stars in the 12th annual game before 15,112 here last night. The East still leads the series 7-5.

"Understand, I'm talking about individuals, not teams," Schaus said. "You have to concede the Boston Celtics still are the best team in basketball."

Bob Pettit, eight-year veteran of the St. Louis Hawks, won the game's most valuable player trophy with a record 27 rebounds. Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-1 Philadelphian who holds a 49-point scoring average, set an NBA All-Star scoring record with 42 points.

Yet most observers felt the cat-like Robertson was the difference with his smooth play making and 14-point third-quarter burst that put the West out of reach.

"Oscar got us running again in the third quarter and that broke open the game," Schaus said, "but I won't argue that Pettit deserved the MVP award. Anytime a man gets 27 rebounds over the heads of Chamberlain and Bill Russell (of Boston), you have to hand it to him."

Pettit had 27 votes from writers, Robertson 11 and Baylor 5.

Baylor, playing on an Army pass from Ft. Lewis, Wash., after a two-week layoff, led the West with 32 points. He admitted "I was tired and a little out of shape." Robertson had 26 points and Pettit 25.

Raiders Sign Two Free Agent Backs

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders yesterday signed two backs as free agents. They were Tommy Morrow of Mississippi Southern and Charley Rieves of Houston University.

Both were expected to be tried on defense.

Morrow stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 180 and was expected to be used as a defensive halfback. Rieves, Houston's top ground gainer in 1958 and 1959 stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 210. He'll be given a shot at linebacker.

Marin Matmen To Clash Twice

The Novato High wrestling team will clash in two matches with Tamalpais High Jan. 30 and sometime in February, announced Ralph Cutler, Novato coach.

The Jan. 30 meet will be held at Tam, with the time to be announced. A date for the February match at Novato is to be set.

Last Saturday, the Novato High wrestlers were edged out 21-20 by Acalanes High of Lafayette. The individual winners on the varsity team were Mike Halkovich who shutout his opponent 4-0 in the 105-pound class; Bill Carrigan, by a fall in the 112-pound class; Doug Simpson 4-2 in the 154-pound, and Eugene Loesen 4-0, 175-pound class.

The Novato Jay Vees came close to sweeping every match with Acalanes which won only 2 of 9 individual matches. The final count in favor of the Hornets was 33-6.

Novato was only one of six exhibition matches when Ron Tieche took his opponent in the 127-pound class, 9-2.

ODD ACCIDENT FELLS BRITON AT CYPRESS

PEBBLE BEACH (AP)—Guy Wolstenholme, a former British Walker Cup golfer who turned pro only recently, was the victim of an odd accident on the eve of his first U. S. appearance as a pro in the Bing Crosby pro-amateur tournament.

Wolstenholme suffered a broken left arm when he fell while practicing.

His spiked shoe caught against a knotty cypress log on the 16th hole at Cypress Point.

He said doctors told him it would be weeks before he could swing a club again but he will stay here for the tournament, covering the event for a London newspaper.

Nave Lanes Score High Bowling Effort Of Week

The highest series reported this past week was rolled by Ralph Benevenga in the Marin Masters League at Nave Lanes in Ignacio.

Benevenga's series was a 647 on games of 225, 202 and 220. Right on his tail in the same league was Bob Gay with a 627—213, 232, 182.

The best game reported this week was a 248 by Holmes Christian in the Crazy Eight Plus League at Greenbrae Lanes. Christian picked up a 624 series score on it and two others. Next best reported score was a 246 by Jim Rodgers in the same league.

Other high games of the week were thrown in the Junior League at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael. Mark Yonks and Carol Wells each rolled 245s. Yonks got a 625 series with the help of his high game. In junior bowling, the Nave Lanes juniors lead the North Bay Traveling League 21-12, won-loss record in the boys division and the girls lead, 16-8.

3 RICE DISHES USING MIXES

Rice Packaged With Seasonings

An adventurous new line of mixes has just made its bow bringing to families in Marin rice packaged with seasonings from Spain, the Far East and the Great Outdoors of the U.S.A.

The products offer fine reproductions of 3 famous rice dishes, in convenient ready-to-cook form. They are offspring of Uncle Ben's Converted Rice which is the familiar mother product and basic ingredient of the new mix line.

Represented are two "flavor firsts" in the growing prefab food field. One is Curried Rice. This rice emerges golden-tinged, slightly sauced and merely hinting of the exotic spice blend. It inspires a typically modernized American curry—curried rice to serve with condiments and any meat at hand. Also unique is a Long Grain and Wild Rice Mix. These two types of rices are blended with subtle green herbs and savory seasonings to make a natural dressing-stuffing for fowl and game.

Surprisingly, the same families who chose the above gourmet-slanted dishes also asked for ever-popular Spanish Rice; meaning that the products have been consumer-tested. As a result, this mix supplies both the tomatoes and a genuine "home" taste.

Cooks with all degrees of experience will swell with pride upon producing such perfectly seasoned dishes so simply. Within each of the colorful 4-serving-size packages are two inner packets. One contains rice and a jewel-like gelatine flavor nugget which bears the vital taste element. The other contains the remaining powdered and flaked seasonings. Both are emptied into a measured amount of boiling water. Butter or margarine and the serving dish are all the homemaker is asked to supply.

In less than ½ hour, as easily as boiling water, the famous rice dish is finished. Ready to accompany meats, all kinds—roasted, fried, broiled, cold or out of a can—to the table without gravy; the mixes create their own sauces during cooking.

Fabulous serving ideas and recipe variations are printed on the packages. Since the work and skill are built into the mixes, the most timid reader is impelled to explore the imaginative, the artful, the fun-part of cooking. The mixes also provide short-cuts to special-occasion dishes, such as Gourmet Dressing and Stuffing for the festive holiday bird or game.

OYSTERS AND WILD RICE ROCKEFELLER

Qualifies as an entree, a dressing, or the featured hot dish in a cold buffet. Cook as directed and turn into shallow greased baking dish:

1 package Long Grain and Wild Rice Mix

Arrange over cooked rice mixture:

1 pint oysters, drained
Oyster liquid, strained

Next, combine the following in saucepan and heat, stirring, until all liquid is gone:

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove of garlic, crushed
10-oz. package frozen chopped spinach, thawed
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 anise seed
Dashes of nutmeg and cayenne

Layer spinach mixture over rice and oysters. Then top with:

¼ cup buttered bread crumbs

Slip in 450-degree oven for 8 to 10 minutes, or until oysters are plumped and edges curled. If desired, add grated Parmesan cheese before serving. Makes 6 servings.

BROILED BEEF MIGNON-BURGERS WITH STROGANOFF RICE

To make "mignonburgers," loosely form 6 to 8-oz. portions of ground heavy beef chuck (lightly seasoned) into patties 1 to 1½-in. thick. Encircle patties with 1 or 2 strips of bacon, securing with toothpicks. Broil 15 to 25 minutes (as you like them), timing to serve with Stroganoff Rice which requires approximately ½ hour:

Saute in saucepan, amounts desired:

1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Canned mushrooms, drained
Onion, thinly sliced

Add the following and bring to a boil:

2¼ cups water and mushroom liquid, combined
½ teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
1 tablespoon catsup

Then stir in, cover and cook over low heat about 25 minutes:

1 package Long Grain and Wild Rice Mix

When rice is tender and most of liquid is absorbed, remove and fold in:

½ cup dairy sour cream

Serve without reheating. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

That Smoooooth Butter Cream Frosting Takes A Syrup First

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

We're often asked how to make the soft smooth butter-cream frosting with which bakery-bought birthday cakes are usually covered.

Here's one way. For this recipe, you make a syrup with sugar, water and cream of tarter, and add it to egg yolks before beating in the butter and flavoring.

Be a taste-tester while you add the flavoring so that you put in just the right amount—your own judgment is needed here because the amount will depend on the quality of the butter and your preference.

CHOCOLATE-MINT CAKE

1 package (1 pound, 3 ounces) chocolate-mint cake mix
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup water
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
5 egg yolks
1 cup sweet butter
Vanilla, rum or brandy flavoring
Chocolate leaf cookies (if available)

Make up the chocolate mint cake according to package directions, baking it in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. Have cake cold before frosting. Stir together the sugar, water and cream of tartar in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil rapidly until the syrup spins a light thread (236 degrees on a candy thermometer). Beat egg yolks until they begin to get thick; gradually beat in hot syrup; continue to beat until thick and cool. Beat butter until fluffy; gradually beat into the syrup-yolk mixture. Beat in flavoring to taste. Spread over top and sides of chocolate-mint cake; garnish with chocolate leaves if used.

Note: Chocolate leaf cookies may be bought by the pound in some fancy pastry shops; they also come packaged and may be available in a food-delicacy market.

WINTER BLUEBERRY PIE

Pastry for a two-crust 9-inch pie
3 to 3½ cups frozen unsweetened blueberries
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoon flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Line pie plate with half the pastry. Separate but do not thaw berries. Mix lemon rind, sugar, flour and salt; mix with berries. Turn into pastry-lined pie plate; dot with butter. Cover with top crust, having a high upstanding edge. Bake in very hot (450 degrees) oven 15 minutes; continue baking in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes.

Fruit Cocktail Pudding Is A Traveler

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The same delicious dish pops up all over the country. We first found this fruit cocktail pudding, with its unusual texture, in a regional cook book put together by a group of church women in Iowa.

Next a friend of ours, from upstate New York, told us this dessert has been a favorite in her family and community for years and years.

Then we discovered that an interesting cook book, "Festival Menus 'Round the World" by Dr. Sula Bennet, features this dessert as "Fruktpudding' of Swedish origin. Dr. Bennet ought to know: she is an anthropologist who carefully checked for authenticity her recipes as well as her menus and informaton about foreign feast days.

On a Swedish menu, this dessert would be topped with whipped cream. But we find that sour cream or whipped cream cheese are also delectable accompaniments.

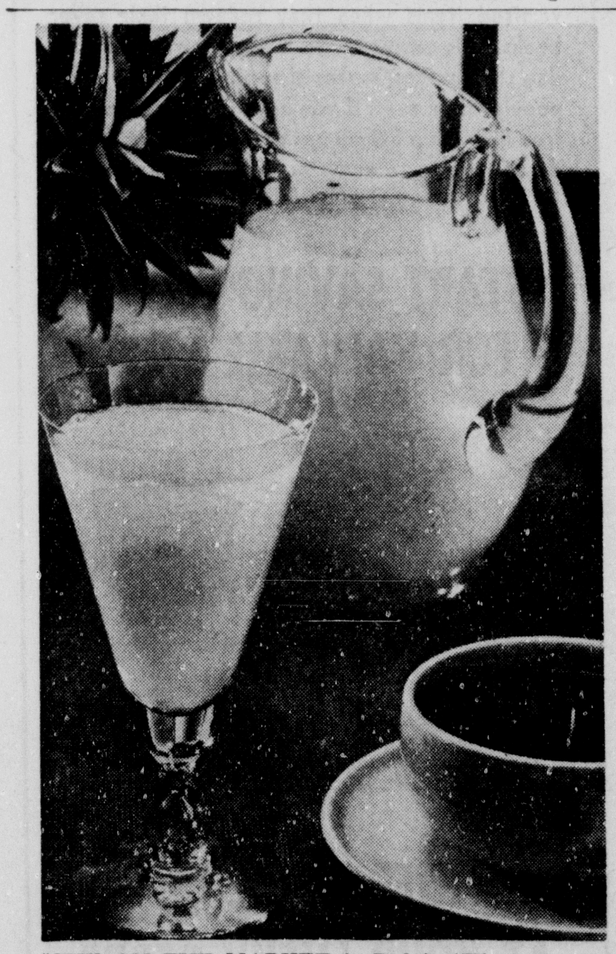
Does your teen-age daughter like to try her hand in the kitchen? Hand her this fail-proof recipe and let her go to work.

A word of advice, however, when your youngster cooks. Don't look over her shoulder. Suggest that she read a recipe thoughtfully before she starts to make it, then ask you any specific questions that occur to her. After that leave her on her own. A young person needs the experience, responsibility and joy of independent accomplishment.

FRUIT COCKTAIL PUDDING

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
⅔ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 can (1 pound) fruit cocktail
⅓ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. In a 2-quart casserole, thoroughly beat together the egg and granulated sugar; stir in vanilla and fruit cocktail, including the syrup in the can. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients. Mix together the brown sugar, cinnamon and nuts; sprinkle over top of pudding. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm (or reheat) with whipped cream, sour cream or whipped cream cheese. Makes 6 servings.



NEW ON THE MARKET is Dole's "Flavor-Spin" Pineapple juice which is lighter and brighter with a smoother texture, improved clarity and more "fresh fruit flavor." Dole is the first and only packer of pineapple juice to use this new "flavor spun" method which excludes air.

Marinite Is Named Nature Unit Head

DON GREAME KELLY
New regional director

Don Greame Kelly of San Anselmo, editor and art director of the magazine "Pacific Discovery" for the past 14 years, has been named western regional director of the Nature Conservancy, it was announced today.

The Nature Conservancy, a private organization which has as its aim the securing of natural habitats for animals and plants through gifts or purchase, includes Alaska and Hawaii in its 13-state western region. Serving on the organization's board of directors are Dr. Joel F. Gustafson of Mill Valley, professor of biology at San Francisco State College, and George L. Collins of Ross, former National Park Service official.

Kelly launched the first issue of "Pacific Discovery," a natural history magazine published by the California Academy of Sciences, in 1948. He and his wife, Marion, took part in a New York Zoological Society expedition to Bermuda in 1940 which gathered material for scientific illustration.

In 1953, he was commissioned by the State of California to redesign the historic Bear Flag. Awarded a Guggenheim fellowship in 1957, Kelly travelled the western Pacific and attended the ninth Pacific Science Congress in Bangkok.

Kelly, who lives at 2 Yolanda Drive, operates the Feathered Serpent Press in San Francisco. He is a member of the Roxburghe Club, a society of printers, book collectors and graphic artists.

Emergency Fire Rule Is Lifted

SACRAMETO (CNS) — The state department of conservation has lifted the emergency proclamation which had required a written permit from the state forester before burning of any inflammable material or using explosives on forest, brush or grass-covered lands.

DeWitt Nelson, director, had issued the proclamation Jan. 10 but said it was repealed because of "slightly improved weather conditions." He said his action in no way affected the status of county ordinances or local regulations which might require permits throughout the year.

Normally, written permits are required from the state forester to burn or blast, beginning April 15 and continuing until the first fall rains.

"Forest officers from most areas in California report reasonably safe burning conditions at the present time," Nelson said, "but caution that a calendar can never substitute for good judgement when determining whether it is safe to start a fire or to keep a fire under control after it has started."

KRISTIN EVJU
Homemaker Contestant

Homemaking Test Is Won By Senior Girl

San Rafael High School winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker test this year is Kristin Evju, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Evju of San Rafael. Thirty-nine senior girls took the test.

Kristin plans to enter the field of home economics and to attend either University of California at Davis or Oregon State College. She is a member of Ra Ravas, Rally Committee and the Senior Standing Committee at the high school.

The state winner receives a $1,500 scholarship with a trip through New York, Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Va. The four national winners each receive scholarships of $5,000, $4,000 and $2,000 respectively.

San Rafael High School has had one national winner, with Sandra Walton in 1957; a state winner with Sheila Bagshaw in 1958 and three winners of the Certificates of Merit: Ann Royle, Linda Warren and Mary Snider, for ranking among the eight highest in California in 1959, 1960 and 1961.

Sonoma College Applications Due

Students planning to enroll for the first time at Sonoma State College at Cotati in the spring semester must have their applications for admission on file by Friday, according to Dean of Students Alvin Marks.

Although the only major currently being offered by the college is in elementary education, other students may be admitted in an "unclassified category." Enrollment is limited to students with 54 units of college credit.

The college will offer additional majors next year, at which time it will take its first step toward becoming a four-year institution with the admission of 150 freshmen.

State Treasurer Says He'll Seek Re-Election

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Re-election to the office of California state treasurer will be sought this year by Bert A. Betts, he announced today.

Betts, elected in 1958 as a part of the Democratic ticket, is a certified public accountant from San Diego County.

Hhe said the most important achievement of his present administration was the orderly, flexible policy in the sale of state bonds.

"This policy has brought about competitive bidding," he declared, "and already has resulted in interest savings of tens of millions of dollars for the taxpayer of California.

"The policy, simply stated, is to sell bonds at a time when the market conditions indicate the sale will bring the lowest possible interest cost to the state, rather than on a fixed, rigid sales schedule."

Betts said the competition resulting from this policy already has been reflected in bonds sold by cities, counties and special districts, resulting in additional savings to the people.

3 RICE DISHES USING MIXES

Rice Packaged With Seasonings

An adventurous new line of mixes has just made its bow bringing to families in Marin rice packaged with seasonings from Spain, the Far East and the Great Outdoors of the U.S.A.

The products offer fine reproductions of 3 famous rice dishes, in convenient ready-to-cook form. They are offspring of Uncle Ben's Converted Rice which is the familiar mother product and basic ingredient of the new mix line.

Represented are two "flavor firsts" in the growing prefab food field. One is Curried Rice. This rice emerges golden-tinged, slightly sauced and merely hinting of the exotic spice blend. It inspires a typically modernized American curry—curried rice to serve with condiments and any meat at hand. Also unique is a Long Grain and Wild Rice Mix. These two types of rices are blended with subtle green herbs and savory seasonings to make a natural dressing-stuffing for fowl and game.

Surprisingly, the same families who chose the above gourmet-slanted dishes also asked for ever-popular Spanish Rice; meaning that the products have been consumer-tested. As a result, this mix supplies both the tomatoes and a genuine "home" taste.

Cooks with all degrees of experience will swell with pride upon producing such perfectly seasoned dishes so simply. Within each of the colorful 4-serving-size packages are two inner packets. One contains rice and a jewel-like gelatine flavor nugget which bears the vital taste element. The other contains the remaining powdered and flaked seasonings. Both are emptied into a measured amount of boiling water. Butter or margarine and the serving dish are all the homemaker is asked to supply.

In less than ½ hour, as easily as boiling water, the famous rice dish is finished. Ready to accompany meats, all kinds—roasted, fried, broiled, cold or out of a can—to the table without gravy; the mixes create their own sauces during cooking.

Fabulous serving ideas and recipe variations are printed on the packages. Since the work and skill are built into the mixes, the most timid reader is impelled to explore the imaginaiive, the artful, the fun-part of cooking. The mixes also provide short-cuts to special-occasion dishes, such as Gourmet Dressing and Stuffing for the festive holiday bird or game.

OYSTERS AND WILD RICE ROCKEFELLER

Qualifies as an entree, a dressing, or the featured hot dish in a cold buffet. Cook as directed and turn into shallow greased baking dish:

1 package Long Grain and Wild Rice Mix

Arrange over cooked rice mixture:

1 pint oysters, drained
Oyster liquid, strained

Next, combine the following in saucepan and heat, stirring, until all liquid is gone:

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove of garlic, crushed
10-oz. package frozen chopped spinach, thawed
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 anise seed
Dashes of nutmeg and cayenne

Layer spinach mixture over rice and oysters. Then top with:

¼ cup buttered bread crumbs

Slip in 450-degree oven for 8 to 10 minutes, or until oysters are plumped and edges curled. If desired, add grated Parmesan cheese before serving. Makes 6 servings.

BROILED BEEF MIGNON-BURGERS WITH STROGANOFF RICE

To make "mignonburgers," loosely form 6 to 8-oz. portions of ground heavy beef chuck (lightly seasoned) into patties 1 to 1½-in. thick. Encircle patties with 1 or 2 strips of bacon, securing with toothpicks. Broil 15 to 25 minutes (as you like them), timing to serve with Stroganoff Rice which requires approximately ½ hour:

Saute in saucepan, amounts desired:

1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Canned mushrooms, drained
Onion, thinly sliced

Add the following and bring to a boil:

2¼ cups water and mushroom liquid, combined
½ teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
1 tablespoon catsup

Then stir in, cover and cook over low heat about 25 minutes:

1 package Long Grain and Wild Rice Mix

When rice is tender and most of liquid is absorbed, remove and fold in:

½ cup dairy sour cream

Serve without reheating. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

That Smoooooth Butter Cream Frosting Takes A Syrup First

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

We're often asked how to make the soft smooth butter-cream frosting with which bakery-bought birthday cakes are usually covered.

Here's one way. For this recipe, you make a syrup with sugar, water and cream of tarter, and add it to egg yolks before beating in the butter and flavoring.

Be a taste-tester while you add the flavoring so that you put in just the right amount—your own judgment is needed here because the amount will depend on the quality of the butter and your preference.

CHOCOLATE-MINT CAKE

1 package (1 pound, 3 ounces) chocolate-mint cake mix
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup water
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
5 egg yolks
1 cup sweet butter
Vanilla, rum or brandy flavoring
Chocolate leaf cookies (if available)

Make up the chocolate mint cake according to package directions, baking it in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. Have cake cold before frosting. Stir together the sugar, water and cream of tartar in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil rapidly until the syrup spins a light thread (236 degrees on a candy thermometer). Beat egg yolks until they begin to get thick; gradually beat in hot syrup; continue to beat until thick and cool. Beat butter until fluffy; gradually beat into the syrup-yolk mixture. Beat in flavoring to taste. Spread over top and sides of chocolate-mint cake; garnish with chocolate leaves if used.

Note: Chocolate leaf cookies may be bought by the pound in some fancy pastry shops; they also come packaged and may be available in a food-delicacy market.

Blueberry Pie Is Summer Reminder

Blueberry pie, made with frozen berries, is a delectable reminder of summer!

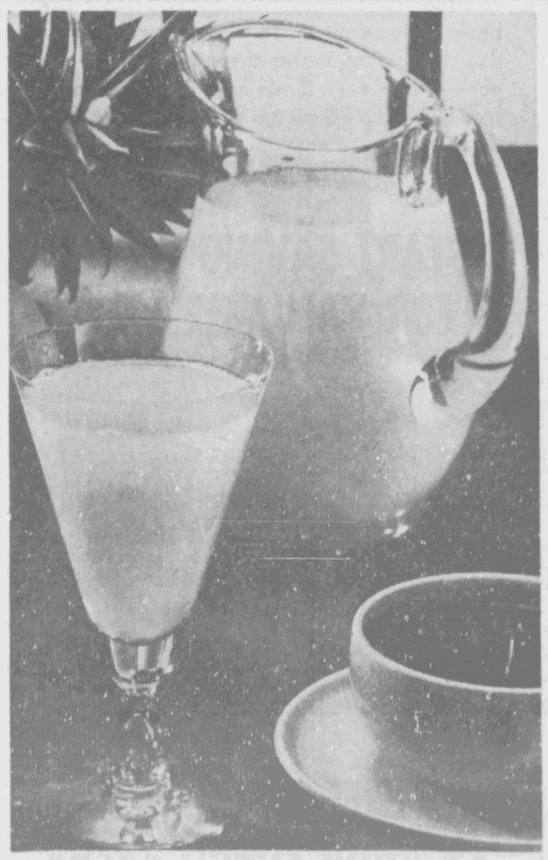
WINTER BLUEBERRY PIE

Pastry for a two-crust 9-inch pie
3 to 3½ cups frozen unsweetened blueberries
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoon flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Line pie plate with half the pastry. Separate but do not thaw berries. Mix lemon rind, sugar, flour and salt; mix with berries. Turn into pastry-lined pie plate; dot with butter. Cover with top crust, having a high upstanding edge. Bake in very hot (450 degrees) oven 15 minutes; continue baking in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes.



NEW ON THE MARKET is Dole's "Flavor-Spin" Pineapple juice which is lighter and brighter with a smoother texture, improved clarity and more "fresh fruit flavor." Dole is the first and only packer of pineapple juice to use this new "flavor spun" method which excludes air.

Fruit Cocktail Pudding Is A Traveler

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The same delicious dish pops up all over the country. We first found this fruit cocktail pudding, with its unusual texture, in a regional cook book put together by a group of church women in Iowa.

Next a friend of ours, from upstate New York, told us this dessert has been a favorite in her family and community for years and years.

Then we discovered that an interesting cook book, "Festival Menus 'Round the World" by Dr. Sula Bennet, features this dessert as "Fruktpudding" of Swedish origin. Dr. Bennet ought to know: she is an anthropologist who carefully checked for authenticity her recipes as well as her menus and informaton about foreign feast days.

On a Swedish menu, this dessert would be topped with whipped cream. But we find that sour cream or whipped cream cheese are also delectable accompaniments.

Does your teen-age daughter like to try her hand in the kitchen? Hand her this fail-proof recipe and let her go to work.

A word of advice, however, when your youngster cooks. Don't look over her shoulder. Suggest that she read a recipe thoughtfully before she starts to make it, then ask you any specific questions that occur to her. After that leave her on her own. A young person needs the experience, responsibility and joy of independent accomplishment.

FRUIT COCKTAIL PUDDING

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
⅔ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 can (1 pound) fruit cocktail
⅓ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. In a 2-quart casserole, thoroughly beat together the egg and granulated sugar; stir in vanilla and fruit cocktail, including the syrup in the can. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients. Mix together the brown sugar, cinnamon and nuts; sprinkle over top of pudding. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm (or reheat) with whipped cream, sour cream or whipped cream cheese. Makes 6 servings.

DON GREAME KELLY
New regional director

Don Greame Kelly of San Anselmo, editor and art director of the magazine "Pacific Discovery" for the past 14 years, has been named western regional director of the Nature Conservancy, it was announced today.

The Nature Conservancy, a private organization which has as its aim the securing of natural habitats for animals and plants through gifts or purchase, includes Alaska and Hawaii in its 13-state western region. Serving on the organization's board of directors are Dr. Joel F. Gustafson of Mill Valley, professor of biology at San Francisco State College, and George L. Collins of Ross, former National Park Service official.

Kelly launched the first issue of "Pacific Discovery," a natural history magazine published by the California Academy of Sciences, in 1948. He and his wife, Marion, took part in a New York Zoological Society expedition to Bermuda in 1940 which gathered material for scientific illustration.

In 1953, he was commissioned by the State of California to redesign the historic Bear Flag. Awarded a Guggenheim fellowship in 1957, Kelly travelled the western Pacific and attended the ninth Pacific Science Congress in Bangkok.

Kelly, who lives at 2 Yolanda Drive, operates the Feathered Serpent Press in San Francisco. He is a member of the Roxburghe Club, a society of printers, book collectors and graphic artists.

Emergency Fire Rule Is Lifted

SACRAMETO (CNS) — The state department of conservation has lifted the emergency proclamation which had required a written permit from the state forester before burning of any inflammable material or using explosives on forest, brush or grass-covered lands.

DeWitt Nelson, director, had issued the proclamation Jan. 10 but said it was repealed because of "slightly improved weather conditions." He said his action in no way affected the status of county ordinances or local regulations which might require permits throughout the year.

Normally, written permits are required from the state forester to burn or blast, beginning April 15 and continuing until the first fall rains.

"Forest officers from most areas in California report reasonably safe burning conditions at the present time," Nelson said, "but caution that a calendar can never substitute for good judgement when determining whether it is safe to start a fire or to keep a fire under control after it has started."

Marin Has New Realty Office Located On Redwood Highway

Newly established real estate office in the county is that of Preferred Realty which has opened a branch at 581 Redwood Highway (in Sabella's building), Mill Valley.

Preferred Realty has its main office in San Francisco, active there for a number of years; principals Ronald Retana and Thomas White both live in Mill Valley.

Manager of the new branch will be Phil Rosa, formerly with P. E. Crowley Co. The office will engage in residential and commercial real estate and construction.

ROBERT E. BURNS of Kentfield has been elected assistant secretary of the Bank of Trade of San Francisco. He is a partner in the law offices of Crimmins, Kent, Bradley and Burns in San Francisco, the bank's legal counselors. He will continue to serve on the board of directors of the bank.

ED WILLIS, commercial refrigeration dealer who has sold out to Market Engineering, new firm at 24 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, isn't planning on retiring to "cold storage." He'll still be associated with the new business; hopes to keep in contact with old customers and friends he's made over the past 24 years.

BLUE CHIP STAMPS now being issued by some stores in Marin may soon be redeemed more conveniently. Word is that the Blue Chip Stamp Co. is looking for a location in the county, preferably in San Rafael, for a premium store.

Nearest stores are now located in Richmond and Santa Rosa.

Together they add up to 15 minutes of fresh items to start off the day.

UPS AND DOWNS OF 1961. People are becoming more electrically minded, but many everyday items didn't sell as well last year as they did in 1960. Others did even better.

Electric can openers, clocks, corn poppers, irons, bed coverings and floor polishers all showed respectable gains—but vacuum cleaners, automatic coffee makers, deepfryers and frypan skillets, heating pads, mixers, knife sharpeners, shavers, toasters, waffle irons and sandwich grills were less in demand. More electric blenders and hotplates were sold but their retail values were lower.

Electric fan sales were more numerous but their values dropped, too. Phonographs and record players went up, except for single players; magnetic recorders were more popular and so were radios and televisions, lamp bulbs and tubes and water softeners, but power lawn mowers hit the skids.

Electric appliance sales averaged out well for the year, however, considering that they got off to a bad start in the first six months.

Marin County Second In Business Rate Growth In Bay Area

Marin listed 28 per cent more businesses in 1961 than in 1956 and was second among Bay Area counties in increase of businesses, Dun and Bradstreet reported today.

"There were 1,953 businesses listed this yast year in Marin County, which is an increase of 428 businesses over 1956," said R. F. Cathcart, district manager of the San Francisco office of the mercantile agency.

He gave these percentages of growth for individual cities:

Sausalito, 68 new businesses for a total of 195, and a 53.5 per cent increase; Corte Madera, 29 businesses for a total of 85 and 51.7 per cent; Novato, 49 new businesses for a total of 190 and 34.7 per cent; Larkspur, 11 new businesses, for a 58 total and 23.4 per cent.

San Rafael, 35 new businesses, 738 total and 22.3 per cent; Mill Valley, 19 new businesses, 232 total and 8.9 per cent; Kentfield, four new businesses, 43 total and 10.2 per cent; Fairfax, four new businesses, 43 total and 5.7 per cent.

San Anselmo, nine new businesses, 179 total and 5.2 per cent; and Point Reyes Station, one new business, 20 total and 5.2 per cent.

The Marin business growth was exceeded only by that of Santa Clara County, which had 31.8 per cent more businesses. And it far outstripped the increase of the nine Bay Area counties as a whole, 12.4 per cent, and the 47 counties of Northern California, 11.6 per cent.

Achieving first place in business growth in the Bay Area by showing a 3.8 per cent higher expansion than Marin, Santa Clara County business listings increased by 1,962 for a total of 8,114.

The counties that trailed are listed as follows:

San Mateo, 1,017 new businesses, 5,645 total and 21.9 per cent increase; Sonoma, 371 new businesses, 2,929 total and 14.5 per cent; Contra Costa, 462 new, 4,590 total, 11.1 per cent; Napa, 80 new, 842 total, 10.4 per cent; Solano, 102 new, 1,477 total and 7.4 per cent; Alameda, 787 new, 13,087 total and 6.3 per cent; San Francisco, 799 new, 15,723 total, 5.3 per cent.

Cathcart based his facts on the figures in the current November, 1961, reference book of Dun and Bradstreet. The reference book lists manufacturers, retailers and some companies such as gasoline service stations and laundries—but not all professional and business service firms such as barber and beauty shops and real estate and stock brokers.

2 Teen Girls Bound Over In Burglary

Two teen-aged girls, who worked as magazine solicitors for a firm in Vallejo, were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge that they entered a Belvedere home while no one was home and stole valuable antiques.

Sherrill Adair, 18, and Sandra Berg, 19, of Sacramento, must appear in superior court Jan. 29 to face a burglary charge. They were held to answer by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden W. Roth said the girls are suspected of taking antiques, including snuff boxes about 200 years old, from the home of Francis Graham at 13 Cove Road last Dec. 4.

Police Chief William S. Woodington and Inspector Donald E. Midyett of the district attorneys office tracked down the girls from fingerprints found at Miss Graham's home after the theft.

Teachers In California Paid Highest Except For Alaska

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California school teachers—recently cited by the National Education Assn. as the highest paid of any state but Alaska—earn on the average from $6.65 to $7.90 per hour.

These figures come from the California Teachers Assn. report on salaries during the current school year. The CTA report is based on an average of only $6,871, while the NEA put the figure at $7,025. It is not known where the difference developed.

The CTA report showed teachers salaries during the current year are 19.2 per cent higher than four years ago.

The CTA breakdown shows the average for teachers, with 175 working days a year, to be $39.85 per day for a six-hour day.

For elementary teachers, who average $6,497, this amounts to $37.10 per day.

High school teachers, whose average is $7,276, receive about $41.60 per day.

Highest bracket are junior college teachers, with an average of $47.40.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Has New Realty Office Located On Redwood Highway

Newly established real estate office in the county is that of Preferred Realty which has opened a branch at 581 Redwood Highway (in Sabella's building), Mill Valley.

Preferred Realty has its main office in San Francisco, active there for a number of years; principals Ronald Retana and Thomas White both live in Mill Valley.

Manager of the new branch will be Phil Rosa, formerly with P. E. Crowley Co. The office will engage in residential and commercial real estate and construction.

ROBERT E. BURNS of Kentfield has been elected assistant secretary of the Bank of Trade of San Francisco. He is a partner in the law offices of Crimmins, Kent, Bradley and Burns in San Francisco, the bank's legal counselors. He will continue to serve on the board of directors of the bank.

ED WILLIS, commercial refrigeration dealer who has sold out to Market Engineering, new firm at 24 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, isn't planning on retiring to "cold storage." He'll still be associated with the new business; hopes to keep in contact with old customers and friends he's made over the past 24 years.

BLUE CHIP STAMPS now being issued by some stores in Marin may soon be redeemed more conveniently. Word is that the Blue Chip Stamp Co. is looking for a location in the county, preferably in San Rafael, for a premium store.

Nearest stores are now located in Richmond and Santa Rosa.

EARLY MORNING news listeners might find that KTIM's new 7:30 a.m. programs fits in with breakfast or driving to work. Teachers In California Paid Highest Except For Alaska

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California school teachers—recently cited by the National Education Assn. as the highest paid of any state but Alaska—earn on the average from $6.65 to $7.90 per hour.

These figures come from the California Teachers Assn. report on salaries during the current school year. The CTA report is based on an average of only $6,871, while the NEA put the figure at $7,025. It is not known where the difference developed.

The CTA report showed teachers salaries during the current year are 19.2 per cent higher than four years ago.

The CTA breakdown shows the average for teachers, with 175 working days a year, to be $39.85 per day for a six-hour day.

For elementary teachers, who average $6,497, this amounts to $37.10 per day.

High school teachers, whose average is $7,276, receive about $41.60 per day.

Highest bracket are junior college teachers, with an average of $47.40.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Even In Fog, Marinites Can Enjoy Discernment

Earlier this month Marinites both suffered and enjoyed an unusual amount of fog. The sufferers were those who had to drive through the dense, dangerous stuff.

The enjoyers were the stay-at-homes who could appreciate its wispy, ethereal beauty.

Our county's residents who are within distance of the Bay have been hearing a wide variety of fog horns.

It is not only the stationary fog horns along the Bay which pique our interest. It is the odd and unusual hoots of ships, perhaps on their way to or from Mare Island, that excites our curiosity.

What kind of ships are they? Off what dangerous and exotic coasts have they traveled?

There is a whole family of foghorns. Big deep voiced fellows, rather masculine females, and few throaty children.

To those who know, each hoot has a different and fascinating meaning.

The Banana Bows To Progress

Once more efficiency raises its stubborn, logical head, and another long tradition and utility goes the way of the ferries, the Mt. Tamalpais Railroad and the old kerosene can.

This time, out goes the bunch of bananas — so long a tempting, familiar sight in grocery stores, and so often a palate-tickling spectacle that made us buy bananas because the bunch looked so tempting.

Efficiency cannot grow bananas without the stem. So the stem now is being removed in the banana republics, and bananas will reach our markets in boxes, packaged for sale. If you're a banana-on-the- stem boff, you're partly to blame for the change, for the fruit companies ran a test.

Plantation boxing of bananas cuts down 14 manual operations and eliminates a lot of bruising—also the grocers' practice of giving slightly damaged fruit to hungry-eyed kids.

But bananas are coming to us by the box and not the bunch. First shipment of 55,000 boxes arrived from Costa Rica for the California trade—with a score of United Fruit Co. executives at dockside to greet them.

Maybe you do not like boxed bananas. You have two alternatives: Move to a banana republic, or grow your own bananas in Marin County, and eat them off the stems.

TELEPHONE SERVICE FOR THOSE IN TROUBLE

The SOS signal, the traditional call of ships in distress, is being used with success as the "call sign" for a telephone friendship service in Paris. The aim is to bring consolation to anyone in trouble.

For 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, a man and his wife talk patiently and sympathetically for anyone who dials their telephone number. They receive an average of 500 calls a month.

The fact that neither caller nor receiver reveal their identity has proven reassuring to people who are disheartened, frustrated, on the verge of suicide or otherwise desperate. They prefer to confide their troubles to someone who does not know them but who is willing to listen and give a word of encouragement.

You may not be in a position to show such unusual consideration for the desperate and hopeless, but you will play the role of another Christ if you take some steps to share and lighten their burden.

"Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."
(Matthew 11:28)

Allow me to be a comfort to those worse off than myself, O Lord.

REPORT FROM CAPITAL

Every Editorial Writer Has Poet's Soul, Sometimes Shows It

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Behind many a newspaper editorial desk, cloaked in the anonymity of the all-embracing "we," sits a scrivener with the soul of a poet.

At least one such bard currently labors for the Washington Post and Times Herald, and this week he summoned the muses in a manner that I admired immensely.

Taking his text from Edward Lear, the limerick man, he administered a versified bludgeoning to the proposed design for the projected Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial.

In case you came in late on this controversy, I should explain that plans are afoot to monumentalize our 32nd President with an abstract arrangement of concrete slabs that would protrude from a prominent place in the capital.

Some critics have ridiculed the design as being reminiscent of Stonehenge, a prehistoric pile of stones located near Salisbury, England.

The Post editorialist suggested, therefore, that this type of memorial architecture be known as "Instant Stonehenge." In his view, however, it would more closely resemble "a neglected country churchyard."

This image aroused in him the dark suspicion that the design possibly was inspired by someone seeking to get revenge on the late president by creating "a sort of New Deal burial ground."

If such were the case, he continued, it might then be considered appropriate to have the slabs engraved, tombstone fashion, with epitaphs commemorating various New Deal measures that flopped.

For instance, he conjectured that a slab designating the National Recovery Administration might be inscribed as follows:

"Here lies beneath this pillar gray
"The late-lamented NRA.
"It lived and breathed and had its day
"But thank the Lord it went away."

Another slab, fancied the poetic editorialist, might immortalize the Agricultural Adjustment Administration thusly:

"The agency that's here interred
"Proposed to cut our crops a third,
"But every summer since it tried
"They've all increased and multiplied."

The editorialist ended his lampoon by proposing that the design be amended to include "an heroic reproduction" of Roosevelt's cigarette holder giving forth clouds of "derisory smoke."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

$3,647 From Trick Or Treat

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This week a check in the amount of $3,647 is being forwarded to UNICEF on behalf of Marin County's children.

This amount of money, over $3,600, can mean TOTAL eradication of malaria for 9,000 people and allow them to again become productive, or enough to save over 18,000 children from the blindness of trachoma, or a glass of milk for 5,100 children every day for a whole year.

We fully appreciate the part the I-J played in making this program a success with their editorial support and the picture.

Many thanks, also, to all parents and children who gave so generously of their time and money to make this last fall's trick or treat for UNICEF program the most successful ever conducted in Marin County.

Need Restudy Of District Powers

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter published in this column on Jan. 8, from Mr. Brandon, president of the Terra Linda Recreation District "to correct misstatements published in the Independent-Journal on Jan. 4," leads one to wonder at this board's proposal of action.

We are informed of the receipt of construction bids for the Terra Linda Recreation Complex, the lowest of which exceeds by $30,000, the amount of the bond issue voted by Terra Linda Recreation District residents. His letter disclosed that after consideration of some means to reduce or revise the recreation facilities to fall within the limit of the bond issue, the board instituted steps to increase the capital outlay by borrowing $30,000 to meet the lowest bid.

It would appear that this indebtedness would be reduced by monies obtained from the legal maximum 50c tax rate permitted this district. It is difficult to understand the process of reasoning that leads this board to the conclusion that it is quite logical to indebt these residents to $30,000 more than the bond issue authorized.

This could only mean one of two things. The first being a prolongation of the maximum tax rate, the second being possible insufficient revenue from the tax receipts to repay the loan and meet efficiently the operating costs of the recreation facilities.

It is not unlikely that the proposed plan of this board is legal, though it could be considered highly presumptive, sufficiently so, that the framework of the law that regulates a board of this nature should be re-examined, to determine the wisdom of permitting capital outlay in excess of stipulated maximum voted in a bond issue.

New Record For Christmas Seals

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The cooperation and assistance of the Independent-Journal greatly assisted this association's Annual Christmas Seal Campaign. You have helped to make this the most successful fund-raising campaign in the history of our organization.

Our sincere thanks, not only for the campaign publicity and promotion, but for your continued interest and support of this association's year around public information program to combat the contagious disease—tuberculosis.

Again, thank you.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County grand jurors were in agreement that the county should undertake an extensive building plan to provide adequate office space for its departments.

20 YEARS AGO

Right of free travel through the Codoni property at Point Reyes was granted the public in a decision by visiting Judge Benjamin Jones of Lake County. This gives access to the beach at Drake's Bay.

Dist. Atty. A. E. Bagshaw warned county supervisors that they're on the "shady" side of the law in allowing county equipment to be used on repair of roads not officially in the county system.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

JFK Faces Hard Sledding On New Program; Right Mood May Gain

IF PRESIDENT KENNEDY uses his fullest influence and expends his popularity as needed, he may well fare better at the hands of this conservative Congress than some are predicting.

It will not be easy going. This 87th Congress is more conservative than its predecessor and this second session of the 87th Congress is more conservative at the top than it was a year ago.

The new Speaker of the House, Rep. John W. McCormack Jr., is not an ardent New Frontiersman and will almost certainly be less responsive to the White House than the late Sam Rayburn. The Democratic party in the House chose a middle-road Southern conservative as Majority Leader and the Republican Party in the Senate chose the more conservative Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa over the more liberal Leverett Saltonstall to succeed Sen. Styles Bridges as chairman of its powerful Senate Policy Committee.

A left-of-center President confronts an appreciably right-of-center Congress. This means that if Mr. Kennedy is not to dissipate his leadership on peripheral matters, which can bring him only unproductive conflict, he must center his leadership on the essentials of his legislative program.

THE REAL MEASURE of a President's program is not the list of suggestions he makes in his State of the Union address. On this score Mr. Kenendy offered Congress a numerically ambitious agenda. But what will count will be the issues behind which he commits his full prestige.

It is evident that Mr. Kennedy is prepared to use the largest resources of the Presidency to win Congressional support:

—For a new five-year trade expansion act to work out with the European Common Market a mutual reduction of tariffs so that U. S. industry will be free to compete for access to prospering European consumers.

—For tax reforms long neglected by Congress which will, among other things, provide an 8 per cent credit to industry to modernize plants and machinery.

—For a $3 billion long-term fund for increased Latin American assistance as a part of the foreign aid program.

—For the purchase of a share of a new UN bond issue, which will rescue the United Nations from the financial brink and in the end reduce our disproportionate payments to the UN budget.

Mr. Kennedy will undoubtedly urge medical aid for the aged, but the propspects are very uncertain. He repeated his support for Federal aid to public schools. There is little indication that he will press very hard.

AT ITS CORE, as cited above, it seems to me that the President's program may well win the support of a coalition Democratic - Republican majority. The capstone of the Kennedy program—its most essential and constructive initiative—is the liberalized trade proposal. On this project the President has an existing public opinion on his side. The latest Gallup poll, for example, finds many more voters favoring lower tariffs than higher tariffs. It is noteworthy that the proportion of Republican voters supporting this view is slightly higher than Democrats.

I FIND a considerable difference in the mood of the President as reflected in this second State of the Union message compared with his mood of a year ago. Last January he described the nation's problems as "towering and unprecedented" and was appraising the tide of the cold war with excruciating candor. Then he had had no official responsibility.

This January Mr. Kennedy does have official responsibility for a year in office and now I think he takes an unjustifiably rosy view.

"Crises in the headlines today," he commented philosophically, "become mere footnotes tomorrow."

I see no such comforting crisis-footnotes in the making. Apart from America's superb economic recovery, which came largely from its own resources, the tide of crisis events is little different than it was a year ago. It seems to me that President Kennedy is truer to himself when he appraises the news as "likely to be worse before it gets better" than when he talks about some of today's dangers as tomorrow's postscripts.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Talk Cheap? It Runs $2 Minute When Supervisors Hold Meeting

TIME IS MONEY. Everywhere, that is, but seemingly in chambers of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

I've wasted some of my own valuable time in trying to prove that even among supervisors, time has its price.

With the aid of Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, or maybe we should reverse the order, a calculation was evolved some while back that $1 a minute was a fair price for deliberations supervisorial.

That was an absolute cut rate, down to the bone.

It has since been pointed out that supervisors are supposed to be working half-time. If that is true, our calculation of their rate per minute should be revised upward.

As I recall it the original Mitchell-Gould figger fumbling was based only on salaries of the officials involved. Pay of some has just gone up.

I believe my own pay was left out of account as an item too pathetic to mention. But after all, its mite should also go into the balance for where would the supervisors be without the I-J?

(No answer required or tolerated.)

Anyway, it is obvious that what with inflation, second thoughts and all, $2 is a present rock-bottom price for time before the supervisors.

So next time they horse around an hour and a half before reaching a vote that any idiot, or even a newspaper reporter, could have accurately forecast after the first two minutes ($4 as against $180) I hope they and their vocally freewheeling constituents will pause and reflect.

NOW AND THEN it has been brought to my notice that the time of those who only sit and wait likewise has value.

People attending daytime meetings of the supervisors often must absent themselves from business or incur costs of baby-sitter.

Twice within a few minutes the other day, our newest supervisor Peter Behr took notice of this. He was firm in opposition to a couple of requested continuances of planning cases where a great many people, all voters in Behr's district, had gone to much trouble and expense to attend.

This was mighty heartwarming to the public at large.

Then another very different situation arose. Here there were people similarly waiting, but the continuance was asked by a lawyer involved in a jury trial. Being himself a lawyer, Behr was firm this time in plumping for the continuance.

This proved there are limits to where time should be saved, and whose.

NOW LET ME break down and admit that this whole question of the time of supervisors is forever going to fall flat on its face for a reason summed up in a single word: Constituents.

We have five supervisors from five districts, with each district full of the constituents of one supervisor.

Every blessed time a swarm of these constituents descends on a supervisorial session, at least one supervisor is going to let them take up all of the $2-a-minute time they want. And no chairman, especially a benevolent Castro, is ever going to be consistently tough; he has constituents too, even if these ain't them.

So let's face it. At the supervisors, time however high-priced is seldom going to fly.

But it's wonderful how fast things ram through late in the day after all the constituents have gone home to dinner.

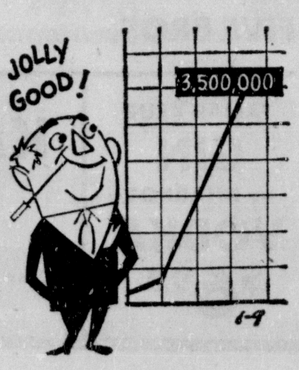
Note on the results achieved by eager-beaver censors: A United Press International dispatch from London discloses that since the British Courts okayed the public sale of D. H. Lawrence's controversial novel, "Lady Chatterly's Lover," the public has bought three and a half million copies of the book. The publishers admit that without all the front page hullabaloo they'd have considered themselves lucky to have sold 200,000.



Lord Moran, personal physician to Sir Winston Churchill, was asked what he did to keep his famous patient fit and hearty. "I watch his diet like a hawk," confided Lord Moran. "He eats and drinks twice what I allow him at virtually every meal. So, as I say, I watch him like a hawk —and then I order the same for myself."

Movie producer Billy Wilder suggests the chief reason for Marilyn Monroe's fabulous success: "That girl has curves in places where many girls don't even have places!"

Hilarita Zone Plan Opposed In Tiburon

Chamber To Tell Supervisors Of Unanimous Action

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted unanimously to oppose rezoning of the "temporary" Hilarita housing project from single family to apartment classification.

The vote will be told the board of supervisors which is considering a rezoning application from Marin County Housing Authority.

President James Murray said the chamber's vote in opposition to the reconstruction of the San Rafael Northwestern Pacific railroad tunnel has been sent to the supervisors, "Because we feel that the railroad should be entirely removed from the Tiburon Peninsula."

He also announced that the chamber's request for a legal opinion on the status of the railroad porperty "rumored to be leased by Milton M. Tonini to Carl O. Olsen, public relations counsel, Southern Pacific Railroad Co., had not been received yet."

The board of directors, at a special meeting Jan. 27 at 9 a.m. in the Tiburon Boulevard offices of Stuart Burt will investigate the feasibility of a "publicly owned district" to cope with problems concerning a harbor district, flood control district and parking district.

Murray announced that the Feb. 13 meeting speaker would be William Hendricks, public relations representative, Golden Gate Bridge District, "Who will answer questions on water transportation and rapid transit from the Tiburon Peninsula to San Francisco."

Committee chairmen for the coming year are:

Keith Morrison, activities; Kirby Attebury, Ernest Chamberlain, Race Week; William S. Johnstone, Stuart Burt, Morrison, business development; George Bitter, Howard E. Langford, Geldert S. Brown, Johnstone, Burt, finance; William H. Rafter, Burt, membership; Robert A. Sterling, program; Harold Sloat, transportation; Herbert P. Clark, athletic committee.

Cosmic rays crash into the earth's atmosphere at an estimated billion billion every second.

NOVATO SAVINGS CHIEF —Joseph B. Rice, 60 Bogey Lane, Ignacio, lifetime resident of Marin County and president of J. B. Rice Co., Inc., San Rafael, has been named president of the newly approved Novato Savings and Loan Association. The office is expected to open in March.

Firm Sick Leave Policy Is Requested

A firm policy on granting additional sick leave with pay to county employees was urged yesterday before the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr called for a decision on learning that "benevolence at the expense of the taxpayers" has been a frequent rule.

The issue arose over request by the office of the auditor-controller for an extra eight days' pay for one employee, Aletha Carter, who required this in order not to be "docked" in pay for the month of December. This was later granted on a motion by Behr, who said the immediate case shouldn't be made a victim, but a firmer policy should be shaped up.

"We might set up a period of service justifying extra pay," he said. "I certainly think the board should consider some definite policy for this, though only a minor drain, seems not a proper one."

"I agree that the board should take a stand," said Supervisor George Ludy. "This situation is unjust to the taxpayers."

Behr elicited that some department heads ask special consideration for ill employees, while others don't. He added that the injustice extends to departments where such requests weren't made.

Farm Advisor Kitchen Plan Gets Squeeze

Marin supervisors got hot yesterday because of a shrinking kitchen.

Actually the kitchen doesn't even exist yet. It is the "demonstration" unit planned for the civic center in quarters of Winston L. Engvall, county farm advisor, who wrote a doleful letter as to its current prospects.

Because of additional space requirements by the county schools department, reported Engvall, a gradual reduction has been made in plans for the kitchen so that instead of an original 1,260 square feet, it is currently planned for only 360 square feet.

Originally it was to have been a combined meeting room and demonstration kitchen with extensive equipment it was expected manufacturers would donate, but now it is to be only a meeting room with small stove and refrigerator plus shelves.

"I don't believe any manufacturer would supply such equipment without cost," said the letter. Engvall said the kitchen could be used by the county home advisor in her teaching program and in training volunteer 4-H leaders.

"This is fine work and a real kitchen is very much needed," said Supervisor William Gnoss, a long-time supporter of this project.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr indignantly said that the kitchen is "being squeezed out" and termed the program "tremendous, of great benefit."

The board seemed unanimous in sentiment that help should be given. Chairman Walter R. Castro asked for a full report, on which action could be based. Administrator Alan Bruce promised details next week.

DR. BARBOUR'S TALK CANCELED

A scheduled talk by Dr. Richmond Barbour at San Rafael High School tomorrow night has been cancelled, it was announced today.

Dr. Barbour, San Diego City Schools guidance director, is ill with influenza and will be unable to fill the engagement. The talk on child guidance was to have been sponsored by the Davidson, Laurel Dell, San Pedro and Short-E Street Parent-Teacher Assns. and the San Pedro Dad's Club.

Aside from his counseling duties, Dr. Barbour writes a daily column on child guidance which appears in the Independent-Journal. A representative of the sponsoring groups said it was hoped the talk may be rescheduled at a later date.

Supervisor Behr Declares Commute Books Out Of Date

"Anachronistic" was the term applied by Supervisor Peter H. Behr yesterday to the Golden Gate Bridge system of commutation books.

Behr told his fellow-supervisors that traffic delay at the toll plaza, a subject of complaint by the Mill Valley Commuters Club in a leter to the board, was due to the present book plan which should be discarded.

"Why don't they issue a monthly windshield sticker rather than the commute book?" asked Behr. "That would entirely eliminate stops."

"What would prevent people from going back and forth across the bridge 20 times a day?" asked Supervisor George Ludy.

"Just that people have better things to do," Behr retorted.

During discussion Behr disclaimed originality for his idea, saying it was merely a suggestion to substitute some commonly used plan which might even extend to issuance of a yearly license for bridge crossing.

"It isn't going to solve the bridge traffic problem but it would help a little," Behr concluded. "The book system appears anachronistic."

The club letter commended the board for its efforts to "keep alive the possibility of rapid transit" and commented that within the last year, Highway 101 traffic has practically reached the saturation point with back-ups frequent from the bridge to Waldo Tunnel or even farther north.

"A second bridge will be essential, especially if the Golden Gate Bridge can't carry rapid transit," said the letter, which also took issue with the Independent-Journal on the undesirability of return to ferries.

All board members seemed in favor of appointing a committee to see what could be done to improve conditions, but it was decided to await check-up by Administrator Alan Bruce on what can be done through existing machinery.

Even In Fog, Marinites Can Enjoy Discernment

Earlier this month Marinites both suffered and enjoyed an unusual amount of fog. The sufferers were those who had to drive through the dense, dangerous stuff.

The enjoyers were the stay-at-homes who could appreciate its wispy, ethereal beauty.

Our county's residents who are within distance of the Bay have been hearing a wide variety of fog horns.

It is not only the stationary fog horns along the Bay which pique our interest. It is the odd and unusual hoots of ships, perhaps on their way to or from Mare Island, that excites our curiosity.

What kind of ships are they? Off what dangerous and exotic coasts have they traveled?

There is a whole family of foghorns. Big deep voiced fellows, rather masculine females, and few throaty children.

To those who know, each hoot has a different and fascinating meaning.

The Banana Bows To Progress

Once more efficiency raises its stubborn, logical head, and another long tradition and utility goes the way of the ferries, the Mt. Tamalpais Railroad and the old kerosene can.

This time, out goes the bunch of bananas — so long a tempting, familiar sight in grocery stores, and so often a palate-tickling spectacle that made us buy bananas because the bunch looked so tempting.

Efficiency cannot grow bananas without the stem. So the stem now is being removed in the banana republics, and bananas will reach our markets in boxes, packaged for sale. If you're a banana-on-the- stem boff, you're partly to blame for the change, for the fruit companies ran a test.

Plantation boxing of bananas cuts down 14 manual operations and eliminates a lot of bruising—also the grocers' practice of giving slightly damaged fruit to hungry-eyed kids.

But bananas are coming to us by the box and not the bunch. First shipment of 55,000 boxes arrived from Costa Rica for the California trade—with a score of United Fruit Co. executives at dockside to greet them.

Maybe you do not like boxed bananas. You have two alternatives: Move to a banana republic, or grow your own bananas in Marin County, and eat them off the stems.

TELEPHONE SERVICE FOR THOSE IN TROUBLE

The SOS signal, the traditional call of ships in distress, is being used with success as the "call sign" for a telephone friendship service in Paris. The aim is to bring consolation to anyone in trouble.

For 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, a man and his wife talk patiently and sympathetically for anyone who dials their telephone number. They receive an average of 500 calls a month.

The fact that neither caller nor receiver reveal their identity has proven reassuring to people who are disheartened, frustrated, on the verge of suicide or otherwise desperate. They prefer to confide their troubles to someone who does not know them but who is willing to listen and give a word of encouragement.

You may not be in a position to show such unusual consideration for the desperate and hopeless, but you will play the role of another Christ if you take some steps to share and lighten their burden.

"Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."
(Matthew 11:28)

Allow me to be a comfort to those worse off than myself, O Lord.

REPORT FROM CAPITAL

Every Editorial Writer Has Poet's Soul, Sometimes Shows It

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Behind many a newspaper editorial desk, cloaked in the anonymity of the all-embracing "we," sits a scrivener with the soul of a poet.

At least one such bard currently labors for the Washington Post and Times Herald, and this week he summoned the muses in a manner that I admired immensely.

Taking his text from Edward Lear, the limerick man, he administered a versified bludgeoning to the proposed design for the projected Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial.

In case you came in late on this controversy, I should explain that plans are afoot to monumentalize our 32nd President with an abstract arrangement of concrete slabs that would protrude from a prominent place in the capital.

Some critics have ridiculed the design as being reminiscent of Stonehenge, a prehistoric pile of stones located near Salisbury, England.

The Post editorialist suggested, therefore, that this type of memorial architecture be known as "Instant Stonehenge." In his view, however, it would more closely resemble "a neglected country churchyard."

This image aroused in him the dark suspicion that the design possibly was inspired by someone seeking to get revenge on the late president by creating "a sort of New Deal burial ground."

If such were the case, he continued, it might then be considered appropriate to have the slabs engraved, tombstone fashion, with epitaphs commemorating various New Deal measures that flopped.

For instance, he conjectured that a slab designating the National Recovery Administration might be inscribed as follows:

"Here lies beneath this pillar gray
"The late-lamented NRA.
"It lived and breathed and had its day
"But thank the Lord it went away."

Another slab, fancied the poetic editorialist, might immortalize the Agricultural Adjustment Administration thusly:

"The agency that's here interred
"Proposed to cut our crops a third,
"But every summer since it tried
"They've all increased and multiplied."

The editorialist ended his lampoon by proposing that the design be amended to include "an heroic reproduction" of Roosevelt's cigarette holder giving forth clouds of "derisory smoke."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

$3,647 From Trick Or Treat

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This week a check in the amount of $3,647 is being forwarded to UNICEF on behalf of Marin County's children.

This amount of money, over $3,600, can mean TOTAL eradication of malaria for 9,000 people and allow them to again become productive, or enough to save over 18,000 children from the blindness of trachoma, or a glass of milk for 5,100 children every day for a whole year.

We fully appreciate the part the I-J played in making this program a success with their editorial support and the picture.

Many thanks, also, to all parents and children who gave so generously of their time and money to make this last fall's trick or treat for UNICEF program the most successful ever conducted in Marin County.

Need Restudy Of District Powers

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter published in this column on Jan. 8, from Mr. Brandon, president of the Terra Linda Recreation District "to correct misstatements published in the Independent-Journal on Jan. 4," leads one to wonder at this board's proposal of action.

We are informed of the receipt of construction bids for the Terra Linda Recreation Complex, the lowest of which exceeds by $30,000, the amount of the bond issue voted by Terra Linda Recreation District residents. His letter disclosed that after consideration of some means to reduce or revise the recreation facilities to fall within the limit of the bond issue, the board instituted steps to increase the capital outlay by borrowing $30,000 to meet the lowest bid.

It would appear that this indebtedness would be reduced by monies obtained from the legal maximum 50c tax rate permitted this district. It is difficult to understand the process of reasoning that leads this board to the conclusion that it is quite logical to indebt these residents to $30,000 more than the bond issue authorized.

This could only mean one of two things. The first being a prolongation of the maximum tax rate, the second being possible insufficient revenue from the tax receipts to repay the loan and meet efficiently the operating costs of the recreation facilities.

It is not unlikely that the proposed plan of this board is legal, though it could be considered highly presumptive, sufficiently so, that the framework of the law that regulates a board of this nature should be re-examined, to determine the wisdom of permitting capital outlay in excess of stipulated maximum voted in a bond issue.

New Record For Christmas Seals

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The cooperation and assistance of the Independent-Journal greatly assisted this association's Annual Christmas Seal Campaign. You have helped to make this the most successful fund-raising campaign in the history of our organization.

Our sincere thanks, not only for the campaign publicity and promotion, but for your continued interest and support of this association's year around public information program to combat the contagious disease—tuberculosis.

Again, thank you.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County grand jurors were in agreement that the county should undertake an extensive building plan to provide adequate office space for its departments.

20 YEARS AGO

Right of free travel through the Codoni property at Point Reyes was granted the public in a decision by visiting Judge Benjamin Jones of Lake County. This gives access to the beach at Drake's Bay.

Dist. Atty. A. E. Bagshaw warned county supervisors that they're on the "shady" side of the law in allowing county equipment to be used on repair of roads not officially in the county system.

JFK Faces Hard Sledding On New Program; Right Mood May Gain

IF PRESIDENT KENNEDY uses his fullest influence and expends his popularity as needed, he may well fare better at the hands of this conservative Congress than some are predicting.

It will not be easy going. This 87th Congress is more conservative than its predecessor and this second session of the 87th Congress is more conservative at the top than it was a year ago.

The new Speaker of the House, Rep. John W. McCormack Jr., is not an ardent New Frontiersman and will almost certainly be less responsive to the White House than the late Sam Rayburn. The Democratic party in the House chose a middle-road Southern conservative as Majority Leader and the Republican Party in the Senate chose the more conservative Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa over the more liberal Leverett Saltonstall to succeed Sen. Styles Bridges as chairman of its powerful Senate Policy Committee.

A left-of-center President confronts an appreciably right-of-center Congress. This means that if Mr. Kennedy is not to dissipate his leadership on peripheral matters, which can bring him only unproductive conflict, he must center his leadership on the essentials of his legislative program.

THE REAL MEASURE of a President's program is not the list of suggestions he makes in his State of the Union address. On this score Mr. Kenendy offered Congress a numerically ambitious agenda. But what will count will be the issues behind which he commits his full prestige.

It is evident that Mr. Kennedy is prepared to use the largest resources of the Presidency to win Congressional support:

—For a new five-year trade expansion act to work out with the European Common Market a mutual reduction of tariffs so that U. S. industry will be free to compete for access to prospering European consumers.

—For tax reforms long neglected by Congress which will, among other things, provide an 8 per cent credit to industry to modernize plants and machinery.

—For a $3 billion long-term fund for increased Latin American assistance as a part of the foreign aid program.

—For the purchase of a share of a new UN bond issue, which will rescue the United Nations from the financial brink and in the end reduce our disproportionate payments to the UN budget.

Mr. Kennedy will undoubtedly urge medical aid for the aged, but the propspects are very uncertain. He repeated his support for Federal aid to public schools. There is little indication that he will press very hard.

AT ITS CORE, as cited above, it seems to me that the President's program may well win the support of a coalition Democratic - Republican majority. The capstone of the Kennedy program—its most essential and constructive initiative—is the liberalized trade proposal. On this project the President has an existing public opinion on his side. The latest Gallup poll, for example, finds many more voters favoring lower tariffs than higher tariffs. It is noteworthy that the proportion of Republican voters supporting this view is slightly higher than Democrats.

I FIND a considerable difference in the mood of the President as reflected in this second State of the Union message compared with his mood of a year ago. Last January he described the nation's problems as "towering and unprecedented" and was appraising the tide of the cold war with excruciating candor. Then he had had no official responsibility.

This January Mr. Kennedy does have official responsibility for a year in office and now I think he takes an unjustifiably rosy view.

"Crises in the headlines today," he commented philosophically, "become mere footnotes tomorrow."

I see no such comforting crisis-footnotes in the making. Apart from America's superb economic recovery, which came largely from its own resources, the tide of crisis events is little different than it was a year ago. It seems to me that President Kennedy is truer to himself when he appraises the news as "likely to be worse before it gets better" than when he talks about some of today's dangers as tomorrow's postscripts.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Talk Cheap? It Runs $2 Minute When Supervisors Hold Meeting

TIME IS MONEY. Everywhere, that is, but seemingly in chambers of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

I've wasted some of my own valuable time in trying to prove that even among supervisors, time has its price.

With the aid of Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, or maybe we should reverse the order, a calculation was evolved some while back that $1 a minute was a fair price for deliberations supervisorial.

That was an absolute cut rate, down to the bone.

It has since been pointed out that supervisors are supposed to be working half-time. If that is true, our calculation of their rate per minute should be revised upward.

As I recall it the original Mitchell-Gould figger fumbling was based only on salaries of the officials involved. Pay of some has just gone up.

I believe my own pay was left out of account as an item too pathetic to mention. But after all, its mite should also go into the balance for where would the supervisors be without the I-J?

(No answer required or tolerated.)

Anyway, it is obvious that what with inflation, second thoughts and all, $2 is a present rock-bottom price for time before the supervisors.

So next time they horse around an hour and a half before reaching a vote that any idiot, or even a newspaper reporter, could have accurately forecast after the first two minutes ($4 as against $180) I hope they and their vocally freewheeling constituents will pause and reflect.

NOW AND THEN it has been brought to my notice that the time of those who only sit and wait likewise has value.

People attending daytime meetings of the supervisors often must absent themselves from business or incur costs of baby-sitter.

Twice within a few minutes the other day, our newest supervisor Peter Behr took notice of this. He was firm in opposition to a couple of requested continuances of planning cases where a great many people, all voters in Behr's district, had gone to much trouble and expense to attend.

This was mighty heartwarming to the public at large.

Then another very different situation arose. Here there were people similarly waiting, but the continuance was asked by a lawyer involved in a jury trial. Being himself a lawyer, Behr was firm this time in plumping for the continuance.

This proved there are limits to where time should be saved, and whose.

NOW LET ME break down and admit that this whole question of the time of supervisors is forever going to fall flat on its face for a reason summed up in a single word: Constituents.

We have five supervisors from five districts, with each district full of the constituents of one supervisor.

Every blessed time a swarm of these constituents descends on a supervisorial session, at least one supervisor is going to let them take up all of the $2-a-minute time they want. And no chairman, especially a benevolent Castro, is ever going to be consistently tough; he has constituents too, even if these ain't them.

So let's face it. At the supervisors, time however high-priced is seldom going to fly.

But it's wonderful how fast things ram through late in the day after all the constituents have gone home to dinner.

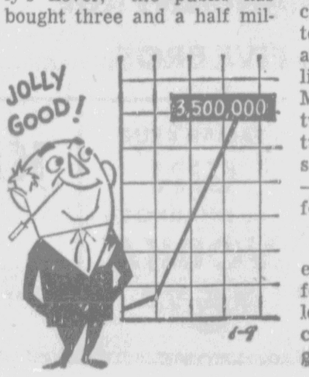
Note on the results achieved by eager-beaver censors: A United Press International dispatch from London discloses that since the British Courts okayed the public sale of D. H. Lawrence's controversial novel, "Lady Chatterly's Lover," the public has bought three and a half million copies of the book. The publishers admit that without all the front page hullabaloo they'd have considered themselves lucky to have sold 200,000.



Lord Moran, personal physician to Sir Winston Churchill, was asked what he did to keep his famous patient fit and hearty. "I watch his diet like a hawk," confided Lord Moran. "He eats and drinks twice what I allow him at virtually every meal. So, as I say, I watch him like a hawk —and then I order the same for myself."

Movie producer Billy Wilder suggests the chief reason for Marilyn Monroe's fabulous success: "That girl has curves in places where many girls don't even have places!"

Hilarita Zone Plan Opposed In Tiburon

Chamber To Tell Supervisors Of Unanimous Action

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted unanimously to oppose rezoning of the "temporary" Hilarita housing project from single family to apartment classification.

The vote will be told the board of supervisors which is considering a rezoning application from Marin County Housing Authority.

President James Murray said the chamber's vote in opposition to the reconstruction of the San Rafael Northwestern Pacific railroad tunnel has been sent to the supervisors, "Because we feel that the railroad should be entirely removed from the Tiburon Peninsula."

He also announced that the chamber's request for a legal opinion on the status of the railroad porperty "rumored to be leased by Milton M. Tonini to Carl O. Olsen, public relations counsel, Southern Pacific Railroad Co., had not been received yet."

The board of directors, at a special meeting Jan. 27 at 9 a.m. in the Tiburon Boulevard offices of Stuart Burt will investigate the feasibility of a "publicly owned district" to cope with problems concerning a harbor district, flood control district and parking district.

Murray announced that the Feb. 13 meeting speaker would be William Hendricks, public relations representative, Golden Gate Bridge District, "Who will answer questions on water transportation and rapid transit from the Tiburon Peninsula to San Francisco."

Committee chairmen for the coming year are:

Keith Morrison, activities; Kirby Attebury, Ernest Chamberlain, Race Week; William S. Johnstone, Stuart Burt, Morrison, business development; George Bitter, Howard E. Langford, Geldert S. Brown, Johnstone, Burt, finance; William H. Rafter, Burt, membership; Robert A. Sterling, program; Harold Sloat, transportation; Herbert P. Clark, athletic committee.

Cosmic rays crash into the earth's atmosphere at an estimated billion billion every second.

NOVATO SAVINGS CHIEF—Joseph B. Rice, 60 Bogey Lane, Ignacio, lifetime resident of Marin County and president of J. B. Rice Co., Inc., San Rafael, has been named president of the newly approved Novato Savings and Loan Association. The office is expected to open in March.

Firm Sick Leave Policy Is Requested

A firm policy on granting additional sick leave with pay to county employees was urged yesterday before the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr called for a decision on learning that "benevolence at the expense of the taxpayers" has been a frequent rule.

The issue arose over request by the office of the auditor-controller for an extra eight days' pay for one employee, Aletha Carter, who required this in order not to be "docked" in pay for the month of December. This was later granted on a motion by Behr, who said the immediate case shouldn't be made a victim, but a firmer policy should be shaped up.

"We might set up a period of service justifying extra pay," he said. "I certainly think the board should consider some definite policy for this, though only a minor drain, seems not a proper one."

"I agree that the board should take a stand," said Supervisor George Ludy. "This situation is unjust to the taxpayers."

Behr elicited that some department heads ask special consideration for ill employees, while others don't. He added that the injustice extends to departments where such requests weren't made.

Farm Advisor Kitchen Plan Gets Squeeze

Marin supervisors got hot yesterday because of a shrinking kitchen.

Actually the kitchen doesn't even exist yet. It is the "demonstration" unit planned for the civic center in quarters of Winston L. Engvall, county farm advisor, who wrote a doleful letter as to its current prospects.

Because of additional space requirements by the county schools department, reported Engvall, a gradual reduction has been made in plans for the kitchen so that instead of an original 1,260 square feet, it is currently planned for only 360 square feet.

Originally it was to have been a combined meeting room and demonstration kitchen with extensive equipment it was expected manufacturers would donate, but now it is to be only a meeting room with small stove and refrigerator plus shelves.

"I don't believe any manufacturer would supply such equipment without cost," said the letter. Engvall said the kitchen could be used by the county home advisor in her teaching program and in training volunteer 4-H leaders.

"This is fine work and a real kitchen is very much needed," said Supervisor William Gnoss, a long-time supporter of this project.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr indignantly said that the kitchen is "being squeezed out" and termed the program "tremendous, of great benefit."

The board seemed unanimous in sentiment that help should be given. Chairman Walter R. Castro asked for a full report, on which action could be based. Administrator Alan Bruce promised details next week.

Albanians call their country Shqiperia, the land of the eagle. Albania is slightly larger than Maryland, but has half as many people.

DR. BARBOUR'S TALK CANCELED

A scheduled talk by Dr. Richmond Barbour at San Rafael High School tomorrow night has been cancelled, it was announced today.

Dr. Barbour, San Diego City Schools guidance director, is ill with influenza and will be unable to fill the engagement. The talk on child guidance was to have been sponsored by the Davidson, Laurel Dell, San Pedro and Short-E Street Parent-Teacher Assns. and the San Pedro Dad's Club.

Aside from his counseling duties, Dr. Barbour writes a daily column on child guidance which appears in the Independent-Journal. A representative of the sponsoring groups said it was hoped the talk may be rescheduled at a later date.

Supervisor Behr Declares Commute Books Out Of Date

"Anachronistic" was the term applied by Supervisor Peter H. Behr yesterday to the Golden Gate Bridge system of commutation books.

Behr told his fellow-supervisors that traffic delay at the toll plaza, a subject of complaint by the Mill Valley Commuters Club in a leter to the board, was due to the present book plan which should be discarded.

"Why don't they issue a monthly windshield sticker rather than the commute book?" asked Behr. "That would entirely eliminate stops."

"What would prevent people from going back and forth across the bridge 20 times a day?" asked Supervisor George Ludy.

"Just that people have better things to do," Behr retorted.

During discussion Behr disclaimed originality for his idea, saying it was merely a suggestion to substitute some commonly used plan which might even extend to issuance of a yearly license for bridge crossing.

"It isn't going to solve the bridge traffic problem but it would help a little," Behr concluded. "The book system appears anachronistic."

The club letter commended the board for its efforts to "keep alive the possibility of rapid transit" and commented that within the last year, Highway 101 traffic has practically reached the saturation point with back-ups frequent from the bridge to Waldo Tunnel or even farther north.

"A second bridge will be essential, especially if the Golden Gate Bridge can't carry rapid transit," said the letter, which also took issue with the Independent-Journal on the undesirability of return to ferries.

All board members seemed in favor of appointing a committee to see what could be done to improve conditions, but it was decided to await check-up by Administrator Alan Bruce on what can be done through existing machinery.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED

Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary greeted the 18 Marin women who will join its ranks this year at a tea yesterday at the San Rafael home of Judge and Mrs. Joseph Wilson. Here Mrs. George Stempel Jr., membership chairman, checks new members, from left, Mesdames Francis Di Grazia of Kentfield, Kleve C. Johnson of Mill Valley and William Wieking Jr. of Corte Madera.

MRS. THOMAS CAGWIN of San Anselmo as sponsor pins a corsage on Mrs. Morris Katkov of Ross, a candidate for membership at the welcoming tea of the Sunny Hills Junior group. The new members will be given orientation and a tour at the San Anselmo home Jan. 24 given by the Sunny Hills board of directors. (Independent-Journal photos)

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Traveling Companions Will Entertain At Dinner Jan. 27

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Two couples, the Earll T. Rileys of San Rafael and the Fred Galbreaths of Kent Woodlands, who left for European travel together the latter part of August, flying first to Copenhagen and then going separate ways, to meet again at certain designated cities, have joined forces again, this time for a dinner party Jan. 27 at the Galbreaths' home.

They sailed aboard the Lurline from Los Angeles today.

MR. AND MRS. NORMAN BOURKE of San Rafael left today on their annual trek to the Monterey Peninsula for the Bing Crosby invitation golf tournament at Pebble Beach. They will stay at the Jade Tree Inn in Carmel. They will meet Peninsula friends and will be joined later by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchholz and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ela of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Buchholz, who formerly lived in Corte Madera, are now neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Bourke having moved into a new home on Mountain View Ave. with their two children. The three couples will remain after the tournament and the the men in the group will play golf on Monday at Pebble Beach.

A FAREWELL PARTY, which mushroomed was the one given recently for Mrs. Harry F. Meilink of San Rafael. Popular Metta Meilink, who was office secretary of the First National Bank of San Rafael, now the Crocker-Anglo Bank, is retiring after 10 years of service.

Mrs. Harry Carne, of the San Rafael bank, made arrangements for the party, a dinner at the Chateau. She had thought it was going to be just a small affair but everyone wanted to come. When the group gathered at The Chateau there were 69 guests to show affection for Metta and wish her "happy retirement." Represented were both San Rafael branches of the bank, and the Novato, Mill Valley and Kentfield banks. Before the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Warren Crane entertained at a cocktail party at their San Rafael home.

The employes gave Metta luggage as she plans to do much traveling now that she has the leisure and as she is a good photographer and will take many pictures on her trips, the bank gave her a money order for photo supplies.

VACATIONING in Hawaii for three weeks will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Lehman Jr. who recently moved from Kentfield to Kent Woodlands.

THE FIRST OF A series of informal gatherings being given by Mrs. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito will be her dessert party tomorrow before the musical program at the Sausalito Woman's Club. Mrs. Rossman is entertaining 30 guests.

The next gathering will be Jan. 25. It will be a continental breakfast at Mrs. Rossman's home preceding the meeting of the Garden Section of Sausalito Woman's Club.

MRS. EDWARD E. SHEV of Sausalito, Marin District chairman of the Wellesley Club of Central California, is taking reservations for the luncheon to be given in honor of Miss Virginia Vaughn Sides at the Cliff House in San Francisco Saturday. Miss Sides, assistant to the president of Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., will be in the Bay Area for the weekend. One purpose of her visit is to explain to alumnae and other friends of the college, the recent Ford Foundation grant of $2,000,000. Wellesley was one of eight liberal arts colleges awarded grants in the fall. All Bay Area alumnae and mothers of girls attending Wellesley are invited to the luncheon.

Miss Sides will be introduced by Mrs. George Culler of Mill Valley, vice president of the Wellesley Club of Central California. Also attending the luncheon will be Mrs. Shev, Mrs. Richard Hughes of Kentfield, Mrs. Samuel T. D. Anderson and Mrs. E. C. Prescott, both of San Rafael. Mrs. Prescott was graduated from Wellesly with the class of 1908.

Amicus Club Headed By SR Woman

Mrs. Russell G. Warden of San Rafael has been elected president of the Amicus Club and Mrs. Tony Boitano of Fairfax has been named ways and means chairman. The Amicus Club divides proceeds of its benefits between San Francisco, Oakland and Marin County and gave $250 this time to each for aid to retarded children. In past four years the group has donated $1,600 to Marin County ARC.

The recent donation was from proceeds of a luncheon, silent auction and sale of Christmas ornaments made by the members. The Marin County group will give a luncheon and fashion show in May to raise more money. There are only six members from here: Mrs. Boitano, Mrs. George Crawford of San Anselmo, and Mesdames Ernest Ongaro, Les Walsh, Otto Tretten and Warden of San Rafael.

The election took place at last week's meeting at the home of Mrs. Andrew Bartelme of San Francisco.

Del Mar Unit Sets Salad Luncheon Date

The Del Mar unit of the Reed District Parents Club will hold a fund raising salad, luncheon bridge at the Tiburon Peninsula Club Jan. 31 at noon.

In charge of arrangements for the affair is Mrs. Harry Winblad, Mesdames L. J. Keller and Robert Seitas will supervise decorations and Mrs. Craig Gilbert will be food chairman.

Reservations for the luncheon are being taken by Mrs. Lloyd Bird.

Old Problem

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine study of the problem of whether long life is hereditary has received government support totaling $17,583.

The subject of the researchers are the now aged offspring of 2,081 persons who were over 90 years of age during a related study more than 30 years ago.

Film, TV Panel Discussion Planned By 14th District

Panelists will discuss "Are Movies and Television Harming Our Children?" when the 14th District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers meets in Santa Rosa tomorrow morning.

Dr. Mitchell Soso, assistant superintendent for business and research at Santa Rosa City Schools, will moderate the panel whose members will be George Saleeby, chief of the Division of Probation and Delinquency Prevention Services for the California Youth Authority; Ruth B. Hedges, motion picture chairman for the CCPT; V. Dennis Kennedy, director of public relations for the Northern California Theater Assn.; and James Day, general manager of educational television station KQED.

The meeting will convene at 9:45 a.m. at the First Methodist Church in Santa Rosa. The panel is scheduled for 11 a.m.

Native Daughters President Will Be Visitor In Marin

Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor 231, Native Daughters of the Golden West, jointly with Fairfax Parlor 225 will greet Mrs. Alice D. Shea, grand president, on her official visit, which will be held at the Fairfax Women's Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Opening ceremonies will be conducted by Mrs. Doris Croker of Fairfax and initiatory rites will be performed by Mrs. Josephine Doyle of Tamelpa Parlor.

International Night Planned By Redwood High

A "family international night" honoring Marin exchange students and their American "families" will be given Feb. 2 in the Redwood gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Redwood American Field Service and the Experiment in International Living, the 7:45 p.m. program is open to the public.

Not a fund-raising event, the evening replaces Redwood's annual carnival. Entertainment will include a talent show and a documentary film on the AFS story. Candidates for the Experiment's summer program and the AFS program will be introduced.

Drying Petticoats

Petticoats dried on an open umbrella will keep their original shape longer.

Series Planned On County Government

The agenda has been announced for the county government seminar sponsored by Mill Valley women's groups with the 14th District of P-TA at the Tamalpais Union High School District office. The sponsoring Mill Valley groups are units of the American Assn. of University Women and League of Women Voters.

Open to the public, the seminar will run from 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. for eight meetings. Registrations are being taken by Mrs. Horace Schwartz of Mill Valley.

Dates, subjects and speakers are:

Jan. 23, "Role of the Appointed Administrator in County Government," Vera Schultz, speaker.

Jan. 30, "Planning and County Government," Mary Summers, speaker.

Feb. 6, "Tax Structure in Marin County," Bert Broemmel, county assessor, and Leon De Lisle, county auditor controller, speakers.

Feb. 13, "Related Services and the County Government" by panel, to be announced.

Feb. 20, "Role of the County Clerk in County Government," speaker to be announced.

Feb. 27, "Role of the County Superintendent of Schools," Richard Foster, superintendent of Jefferson District, speaker.

March 6, "Role of Law Enforcement in County Government," Gordon Misner, associate professor of police science and criminology at San Jose State College, speaker.

March 13, "Future Role of County Government," William Siegel, county counsel of Santa Clara County, speaker.

Tailored Look

Designer Normal Norell adds a daytime tailored look to evening clothes. His spring collection included floor length costumes with long-sleeved, button cuffed blouses topping dirndl-like skirts. The two joined at the waistline with a wide belt, which is Norell's 1962 trademark.

'FUNNEL' SILHOUETTE

Eleanora Garnett of Rome designs this two-piece black linen dress for spring, cut short and full, with collarless slit neckline and funnel sleeves. The outfit features a short, easy fitting skirt and is topped off with a bright red straw renaissance beret.

THIS SLIM AND EASY three-part wool ensemble made its debut when Eleanora Garnett unveiled her spring collection in Rome. The straight-lined black and white plaid coat with round, stand-up collar is lined in deep coral to match the unfitted two-piece dress. (UPI photos)

Styles Mix To Form New Designs In Furnishings

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

American home furnishings have at last become a melting pot of design influences. This is apparent today at the International Furnishings market in Chicago at the Merchandise Mart and the American Furniture Market where the newest furniture styles are now on display.

Italian and contemporary design are mixed in a buffet, and a breakfast utilizes Spanish and Italian features with Moorish arch overlays. Italian legs find their way to French chests and vice versa.

Regency, the English 1810 to 1830 period, is the most popular of the classic styles shown. Regency chairs have saber legs, and acanthus leaf motif goes to sofas, tables, benches.

Some upholstered pieces have been influenced by Spanish, Greek, English and French styles of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries.

A new upholstered group of 40 pieces by Paul McCobb with hight backed chairs and sofas, fabrics of woven nylon and textured vinyl in brilliant shades of raspberry, orange and apple green are shown for the first time. It hasn't been possible heretofore to reproduce such vivid shades in vinyl.

A typically updated American furniture group shows rush seats, antique trap hinges, cane inserts and plank effects. In one collection rattan is manipulated into square forms permitting curving and modeling, a new achievement.

White painted surfaces evident at last winter's show are back en masse with the full treatment— gilt, brush strokes, touches of color and a "distressed" appearance.

Apartment-sized furniture in traditional walnut finish adds interest, with drawer fronts in sections of orange, white and green, plastic table tops and cane on sofas.

Furniture the family can grow with includes double-decker beds with desk or dresser attached that may be used as twin beds with a desk leaf at the foot.

Window tables are long and low with benches that double as snack tables. Architectural pieces give the appearance of built-ins. Dinette tables have graduated from the dinette area and are larger, longer and more decorative.

The natural beauty of wood is dramatized. Old standbys such as walnut, cherry, mahogany, oak look good alone or used with inlays of other woods. Newer exotic favorites such as teak, rosewood, pecan, zebrawood, primavera are combined, too, for unusual effects. A swirl grained wood, "violin burl," used on fiddles for ages, is another addition to the exotic woods now used in furniture.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Little Youngster Tries Out Words With Puzzling Result

Small Joan was playing on the sidewalk. Workmen were laying pipe in the street near her. Joan was fascinated by their way of talking. She'd never heard profanity before. She listened carefully. She practiced swearing until she had the words down pat.

That afternoon she used them herself. Her mother was entertaining. During a lull in the conversation Joan came up with some choice d--ns and h---'s. There was a gasp, then a gale of laughter. Sweet little Joan, using such words! It was too funny! Joan enjoyed the attention.

The next evening at dinner Joan tried again. She expected laughter. Instead she got anger. She was scolded, whipped and sent to bed. Joan felt hurt and puzzled. Can you blame her? One day it was funny, the next day it was awful. Why were grownups so changeable?

I hope you're doing a better job than Joan's parents. You should try to be consistent. Then your children can learn faster than Joan is learning. Ideas of right and wrong are hard to understand at best. Many of our fine distinctions are not clear to youngsters. They require a lot of explaining and guiding.

If you add inconsistency to the picture, confusion is sure to follow. Not only should you try to be consistent from day to day, but also you should come to an agreement with your spouse, so you won't differ between yourselves. That may not be easy to do, but you can try. One sure way to produce a delinquent, rebellious teen-ager is for one parent to be extremely strict, and the other extremely indulgent.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"A psychologist told me that all I needed to do was to love my children deeply, and they would turn out all right? Do you agree?" — Mrs. W.W.

(A)—I do not. Love is necessary, but so are guidance and discipline. Love without guidance and discipline seems to produce self-centered, scatterbrained, irresponsible adults.

Publisher Sees Crisis Ahead In Industry

Mill Valley's Awareness Group heard a talk on "The View From Here" by Thomas F. Collison, Mill Valley, publisher, at its luncheon meeting Monday at The Gallery.

The first problem he discussed was the crisis in the publications industry.

"The communications industry is in one of the most catastrophic revolutions in the history of man," he declared. "Not since the invention of the printing press . . . has the world seen anything like it."

He went on to describe the disappearance of magazines and newspapers, such as the Los Angeles Examiner and Mirror, predicting there will be more "funerals" in the next five years.

Partly responsible, he explained, is the outdated machinery of publications which has to be constantly repaired at great cost and further creating a situation in which labor is "schooled in obsolescence."

"In Europe there were many processes employed that we haven't learned about or had access to until the last three or four years," he said.

He maintained that it is probably to late to do anything about it now but that the machinery companies and especially the U.S. Justice department could have done something about it by lifting the embargoes on foreign equipment.

"If the thesis is valid that American culture is dependent upon what we read," he emphathese hardships on the publication indutsry are germane."

Collison went on to discuss his conception of the differences between mere printing and publication, in which a definite campaign is waged to bring projects to fruition rather than waiting for them to develop.

He concluded by defining his position on a wide variety of subjects including the Pt. Reyes National Seashore, political parties, "Momism" and the evils of boys over the age of 10 being taught exclusively by women, and the inevitability of a thermo-nuclear war.

FAMILY FARE

Relaxation, Leisure Time Required By Bread-Winner

A wife may not be able to change the machine age or slow down the pace of big business but there's a lot she can do to keep her husband healthy and relaxed when he's off the job.

Her efforts in this area can make her life happier, too.

Plan a domestic "decompression chamber." At the end of the day a man needs a breathing spell, a time to unwind before playing with the children and listening to household problems. Try to give him a quiet half-hour of your attention after he steps in the door. Don't nag or chatter.

Encourage relaxation around the house whenever possible.

Plan an occasional overnight trip just for two of you to vary the routine of your lives. A change of scene can be very refreshing.

Don't go overboard on ambitious do-it-yourself projects. It's very easy to allow these to pile up, so that your husband is spending the majority of his leisure time as Mr. Fix-it.

Take over the household bills, if agreeable to your husband. Many wives handle most of the details of family budgeting.

Encourage him to find an absorbing hobby. Whether it's tinkering with a hi-fi set, teaching Sunday school, collecting stamps or birdwatching, hobbies provide a relaxing outlet for a man.

Consult the experts when trouble arises. Instead of stewing over problems, get them straightened out promptly. Doctors, lawyers, accountants and teachers are there to help you both and are worth the time and money to see them.

Watch your husband's diet and drink. If your husband is everweight help him to lose by planning meals. There are dozens of good cookbooks on this subject. And dwelling on physical care—use all your powers of persuasion to see that he visits the family doctor for regular checkups.

Help your husband to get regular exercise. This isn't easy for a busy man but it's very necessary If he can't find time for tennis, golf or bowling, try to get him out walking. It's probably the best exercise there is.

Encourage him to participate in strictly masculine activities, such as fishing or poker.

Speaker Takes Fairfax Club On A Visit To Saudi Arabian Camp

By PATRICIA ZINN

The customs, religious beliefs and dress of the Arabs of Saudi Arabia formed the topic of a talk given by Mrs. Darrell Eastman of San Anselmo yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club.

In telling of visits to the Arab camps, the speaker, whose late husband was an executive with an American oil company, lived for 10 years among the Saudi Arabians in the towns of Dhahran and Abqaiq on the Persian Gulf Coast.

The hospitality, kindness and tolerance of these people of the land of sand and sun where the temperature is an average of 135 degrees, was unfolded as she took members of the club along on an excursion into a camp.

At the outset, the speaker pointed out that you never just call or "drop in." You are always invited and of course always accept."

Mrs. Eastman went on to tell of driving over the desert to within 10 miles of the camp and meeting the little boys who act as scouts. They relay the message of your arrival. "After parking the car some distance from the camp we would walk to the fringe of the camp where the Arab men in their long flowing robes would be gathered in front of their various abodes which could be tents, palm-fronded or adobe huts." The speaker pointed out that the women were never seen on such an occasion. "In that country the women have no voice but they are respected and never abused."

"As the Arab men began to walk in our direction it was a signal for us to do likewise. Their first gesture upon meeting is a blessing or salutation from Allah. After this we would proceed to the tent where the rug is the sole furniture. We would always remove our shoes for the rug serves not only as a tablecloth but also as a bed or even a covering over head. Once seated, we were always first offered their most precious gift -- water. This is followed by the serving of coffee which for the Arabs is a formal ceremony.

The speaker went on to tell of the making of the coffee by the little boys from the coffee beans. She displayed the various bottles and coffee pots used by these peoples.

"The coffee is always served first to the host. Only the right hand is used in both eating and drinking for the left hand is believed to be unclean." Mrs. Eastman pointed out that one never refuses a cup of coffee and if you take a second cup you must always take a third. After the visitors have been served, the cups are passed always without washing, to those next in rank.

After coffee, the boys would bring in the food on a large tray. She went on to tell of sitting around the tray heaped with rice and topped with lamb, a goat or even chickens. "Always with the right hand we would simply reach down and scoop up the rice or tear off a piece of the meat."

After the meal, we would cleanse our hands either in water or with the sand. This was followed by the passing of the incense and the rose water.

"The rose water, said Mrs. Eastman, is a signal for the guests to arise and leave."

Mrs. Eastman was most fortunate to have the opportunity to visit the hut of the women and at this point she donned the mask, veil and garments of the Arabian women. "They were most fascinated by my nail polish and also embarrassed because I did not have my face covered."

The speaker, who has been around the world five times, concluded her remarks, with the most impressive Arab prayer at sunset.

Mrs. Eastman was introduced by Mrs. Paul Hammer, program chairman, and past president of the club.

Morris-Quintana Vows Exchanged At Point Reyes

Miss Fidela Quintana became the bride of Joseph Allen Morhis of Novato when they were recently united in marriage at the home of Judge D. R. Baty at Pt. Reyes Station.

The new bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Quintana of Campbell, and Mr. Morris is the son of Mrs. F. E. Morris of Denver, Colo.

For the ceremony, Miss Quintana wore an aqua blue satin dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Tony Quintana was matron of honor and brother of the bride, Tony Quintana was best man.

Other family members present at the wedding were the bride's brother, and sister, Roger and Aurora Quintana.

While Mr. Morris, Mate 1/C in the U.S. Navy, is on tour of duty, the bride will make her home in Novato.

Industrial Designer's New Home Described As Cave And Pavilion

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

GARRISON, N.Y.—High on a hill overlooking the beautiful Hudson River, Russell Wright, the industrial designer, has built a home that one observer calls "Part cave, part forest pavilion."

It is an experimental house where Wright, a widower, tests new materials, new ideas in construction, decoration and design, and which he occupies with daughter, Ann, 11, and a housekeeper-governess.

Wright's house is built alongside the cliffs of an old quarry and its 11 levels cling to the rugged terrain as if nature had planned the setting for the wood and glass structure.

Actually, Wright said when he gave us a tour of the home, he rearranged nature extensively. He diverted a stream so it would spill into the quarry to form a waterfall and swimming pool as deep as 20 feet in some places.

He also rearranged some of the outcroppings of rock, with the help of a derrick, block and tackle, construction crew and local stone masons.

Birch, hemlock and other trees were cleared to expose the jagged vertical quarry walls which, if you use your imagination, create the shape of a dragon. Hence, the 57-year-old designer's name for his home, "Dragon Rock."

Wright said he's been building the house for "four or five years," doing a lot of the work himself on weekends and vacations when he could get away from his office and other residence in Manhattan.

"I wanted the house to look part of the surroundings, yet contrast with nature occasionally," said Wright. "I like the contrast of the machine-made and the natural."

Nature is brought inside every room in the form of laminated butterfly, leaf and flower panels; in Hemlock needles embedded in green plaster walls; in the sound of the waterfall heard in every room; in the giant fireplace in the living room, formed with native stone of all sizes; in the weathered oak beams treated only with a preservative; in the stone steps and floor of the two-level living room and in the single spire of rugged red cedar trunk, two stories tall, which supports the major beam of the main house.

The Wright house consists of two units — a studio building which contains guest facilities and the designer's studio-bedroom, windowed on three sides for a maximum view of the woodland; and a main building, also divided into two parts — a den-balcony, bathrooms, two-level living room, dining room, and kitchen, and the "harem" quarters occupied by his daughter and the housekeeper.

His daughter's bath includes a sunken tub with water pouring from stone. It opens onto a terrace where there are barbecue facilities. The terrace in turns leads downhill to dressing rooms for the use of her and her playmates after a swim.

Wright said one of the masons who helped with the construction observed "Tihs is the only house I know where you can take a bath, step out and roast a chicken, and bring it back in to eat."

Wright said that about 3,000 hours of drafting went into the overall planning of the residence and that its interior will change frequently because "If you're working for clients and you're assigned a problem, you have to experiment, so you experiment on yourself."

He wouldn't say how much the experimental home had cost, "Although I know right down to the penny." But it would have to run into the six-figure category.

MARIN MEETING

Sweet Adelines To Gather From Three-State Region

Delegates from Northern California, Utah, and Idaho will gather at the quarterly meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Central Pacific Region, on Saturday at Bel Aire School in Tiburon.

Mrs. Fred Stewart of Fresno, regent of region 12, will preside at the meeting for which the Marin Chapter is hostess. Women representing 20 chapters as well as the regional officers will attend.

The "Marin-ettes," the Marin Chapter, are providing the facilities for the meeting which will be followed by a dinner and a novice quartet contest and show. The Sweet Adelines are an international organization devoted to singing "barbershop style" and the contest is planned to give members the opportunity to perform and be judged without the pressure of sanctioned competition.

Mrs. John D. Harding of Mill Valley is the chairman for the day. She will be assisted by Mrs. Frank C. Sutliffe Jr., president of the Marin Chapter, Mesdames James O. Mithun, Paul L. Brown, Kurtis Webb, Charles Estudillo, Clifford Reiquam and Robert Kreps, all of Tiburon and Mrs. John Rose of San Geronimo.

EIL Student To Address Club Meet

Margaret Deedy, representative for the Experiment in International Living who spent the summer in Sweden, will be the speaker for the Corte Madera Women's Club Tuesday at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Mrs. William Turner, chairman for the Experiment in International Living at Redwood High School, will be introduced also by Mrs. Harvey Warne, program chairman, for the 1:30 p.m. meeting.

Margaret Deedy is a Redwood High School graduate and is currently a student at the College of Marin.

Test To Determine Whether Cleaning Will Fade Garment

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Garments that lack colorfastness to drycleaning can be pre-tested, says Marjorie Mead, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist.

If the label does not say whether the garment can be dry cleaned or you have lost it, saturate a piece of white cheese cloth with water or dry cleaning solvent and rub the fabric. If any color is transferred from the fabric, you can be certain that drycleaning will cause removal of colored pigments. Color will become less intense.

WHAT DO 3 out of 4 DOCTORS RECOMMEND for TENSE, NERVOUS HEADACHES?

A Survey Also Reveals What Many Doctors, Themselves, Take When They Have Headache Pain.

New York, N.Y.— Medical reports confirm tense, nervous headaches are by far the most common kind and are caused by tension that presses on the nerves. But fortunately, one can get remarkable relief in minutes with a special tablet that not only relieves pain but also the emotional tension, mental fatigue and depression that usually accompany such headaches.

Tense, nervous headaches call for the stronger yet safer medication in Anacin®. A survey reveals 3 out of 4 doctors recommend the fast, pain-relieving ingredients in Anacin. In fact, many doctors themselves rely on this same type relief when they have a headache.

Anacin Tablets give fast, prolonged and — more complete relief than aspirin or buffered aspirin. You see, Anacin is different and contains special medication not found in aspirin or buffered aspirin. It's this extra medication that not only relieves pain, but also relaxes its tension and releases painful pressure on nerves.

Despite their strength and effectiveness—Anacin Tablets contain no narcotics, do not form a habit or leave one depressed. Anacin Tablets are so safe, they may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting or irritating the stomach.

See if the extra medication in stronger yet safe Anacin doesn't work better for you. Change to Anacin for fast, long-lasting and more complete relief.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED

MRS. THOMAS CAGWIN of San Anselmo as sponsor pins a corsage on Mrs. Morris Katkov of Ross, a candidate for membership at the welcoming tea of the Sunny Hills Junior group. The new members will be given orientation and a tour at the San Anselmo home Jan. 24 given by the Sunny Hills board of directors. (Independent-Journal photos)

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Traveling Companions Will Entertain At Dinner Jan. 27

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Two couples, the Earll T. Rileys of San Rafael and the Fred Galbreaths of Kent Woodlands, who left for European travel together the latter part of August, flying first to Copenhagen and then going separate ways, to meet again at certain designated cities, have joined forces again, this time for a dinner party Jan. 27 at the Galbreaths' home.

MR. AND MRS. NORMAN BOURKE of San Rafael left today on their annual trek to the Monterey Peninsula for the Bing Crosby invitation golf tournament at Pebble Beach. They will stay at the Jade Tree Inn in Carmel. They will meet Peninsula friends and will be joined later by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchholz and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ela of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Buchholz, who formerly lived in Corte Madera, are now neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Bourke having moved into a new home on Mountain View Ave. with their two children. The three couples will remain after the tournament and the the men in the group will play golf on Monday at Pebble Beach.

A FAREWELL PARTY, which mushroomed was the one given recently for Mrs. Harry F. Meilink of San Rafael. Popular Metta Meilink, who was office secretary of the First National Bank of San Rafael, now the Crocker-Anglo Bank, is retiring after 10 years of service.

Mrs. Harry Carne, of the San Rafael bank, made arrangements for the party, a dinner at the Chateau. She had thought it was going to be just a small affair but everyone wanted to come. When the group gathered at The Chateau there were 69 guests to show affection for Metta and wish her "happy retirement." Represented were both San Rafael branches of the bank, and the Novato, Mill Valley and Kentfield banks. Before the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Warren Crane entertained at a cocktail party at their San Rafael home.

The employes gave Metta luggage as she plans to do much traveling now that she has the leisure and as she is a good photographer and will take many pictures on her trips, the bank gave her a money order for photo supplies.

VACATIONING in Hawaii for three weeks will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Lehman Jr. who recently moved from Kentfield to Kent Woodlands. They sailed aboard the Lurline from Los Angeles today.

THE FIRST OF A series of informal gatherings being given by Mrs. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito will be her dessert party tomorrow before the musical program at the Sausalito Woman's Club. Mrs. Rossman is entertaining 30 guests.

The next gathering will be Jan. 25. It will be a continental breakfast at Mrs. Rossman's home preceding the meeting of the Garden Section of Sausalito Woman's Club.

MRS. EDWARD E. SHEV of Sausalito, Marin District chairman of the Wellesley Club of Central California, is taking reservations for the luncheon to be given in honor of Miss Virginia Vaughn Sides at the Cliff House in San Francisco Saturday. Miss Sides, assistant to the president of Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., will be in the Bay Area for the weekend. One purpose of her visit is to explain to alumnae and other friends of the college, the recent Ford Foundation grant of $2,000,000. Wellesley was one of eight liberal arts colleges awarded grants in the fall. All Bay Area alumnae and mothers of girls attending Wellesley are invited to the luncheon.

Miss Sides will be introduced by Mrs. George Culler of Mill Valley, vice president of the Wellesley Club of Central California. Also attending the luncheon will be Mrs. Shev, Mrs. Richard Hughes of Kentfield, Mrs. Samuel T. D. Anderson and Mrs. E. C. Prescott, both of San Rafael. Mrs. Prescott was graduated from Wellesly with the class of 1908.

Old Problem

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine study of the problem of whether long life is hereditary has received government support totaling $17,583.

The subject of the researchers are the now aged offspring of 2,081 persons who were over 90 years of age during a related study more than 30 years ago.

Amicus Club Headed By SR Woman

Mrs. Russell G. Warden of San Rafael has been elected president of the Amicus Club and Mrs. Tony Boitano of Fairfax has been named ways and means chairman. The Amicus Club divides proceeds of its benefits between San Francisco, Oakland and Marin County and gave $250 this time to each for aid to retarded children. In past four years the group has donated $1,600 to Marin County ARC.

The recent donation was from proceeds of a luncheon, silent auction and sale of Christmas ornaments made by the members. The Marin County group will give a luncheon and fashion show in May to raise more money. There are only six members from here: Mrs. Boitano, Mrs. George Crawford of San Anselmo, and Mesdames Ernest Ongaro, Les Walsh, Otto Tretten and Warden of San Rafael.

The election took place at last week's meeting at the home of Mrs. Andrew Bartelme of San Francisco.

Del Mar Unit Sets Salad Luncheon Date

The Del Mar unit of the Reed District Parents Club will hold a fund raising salad, luncheon bridge at the Tiburon Peninsula Club Jan. 31 at noon.

In charge of arrangements for the affair is Mrs. Harry Winblad, Mesdames L. J. Keller and Robert Seitas will supervise decorations and Mrs. Craig Gilbert will be food chairman.

Reservations for the luncheon are being taken by Mrs. Lloyd Bird.

Film, TV Panel Discussion Planned By 14th District

Panelists will discuss "Are Movies and Television Harming Our Children?" when the 14th District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers meets in Santa Rosa tomorrow morning.

Dr. Mitchell Soso, assistant superintendent for business and research at Santa Rosa City Schools, will moderate the panel whose members will be George Saleeby, chief of the Division of Probation and Delinquency Prevention Services for the California Youth Authority; Ruth B. Hedges, motion picture chairman for the CCPT; V. Dennis Kennedy, director of public relations for the Northern California Theater Assn.; and James Day, general manager of educational television station KQED.

The meeting will convene at 9:45 a.m. at the First Methodist Church in Santa Rosa. The panel is scheduled for 11 a.m.

Native Daughters President Will Be Visitor In Marin

Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor 231, Native Daughters of the Golden West, jointly with Fairfax Parlor 225 will greet Mrs. Alice D. Shea, grand president, on her official visit, which will be held at the Fairfax Women's Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Opening ceremonies will be conducted by Mrs. Doris Croker of Fairfax and initiatory rites will be performed by Mrs. Josephine Doyle of Tamelpa Parlor.

International Night Planned By Redwood High

A "family international night" honoring Marin exchange students and their American "families" will be given Feb. 2 in the Redwood gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Redwood American Field Service and the Experiment in International Living, the 7:45 p.m. program is open to the public.

Not a fund-raising event, the evening replaces Redwood's annual carnival. Entertainment will include a talent show and a documentary film on the AFS story. Candidates for the Experiment's summer program and the AFS program will be introduced.

Drying Petticoats

Petticoats dried on an open umbrella will keep their original shape longer.

Series Planned On County Government

The agenda has been announced for the county government seminar sponsored by Mill Valley women's groups with the 14th District of P-TA at the Tamalpais Union High School District office. The sponsoring Mill Valley groups are units of the American Assn. of University Women and League of Women Voters.

Open to the public, the seminar will run from 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. for eight meetings. Registrations are being taken by Mrs. Horace Schwartz of Mill Valley.

Dates, subjects and speakers are:

Jan. 23, "Role of the Appointed Administrator in County Government," Vera Schultz, speaker.

Jan. 30, "Planning and County Government," Mary Summers, speaker.

Feb. 6, "Tax Structure in Marin County," Bert Broemmel, county assessor, and Leon De Lisle, county auditor controller, speakers.

Feb. 13, "Related Services and the County Government" by panel, to be announced.

Feb. 20, "Role of the County Clerk in County Government," speaker to be announced.

Feb. 27, "Role of the County Superintendent of Schools," Richard Foster, superintendent of Jefferson District, speaker.

March 6, "Role of Law Enforcement in County Government," Gordon Misner, associate professor of police science and criminology at San Jose State College, speaker.

March 13, "Future Role of County Government," William Siegel, county counsel of Santa Clara County, speaker.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 17, the 17th day of the year with 348 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

There are no morning or evening stars.

On this day in history:

In 1806, the first baby ever born in the White House occurred when Martha Jefferson Randolph, daughter of President Thomas Jefferson, gave birth to a son.

In 1917, the United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark for 25 million dollars.

In 1944, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower assumed command of the Allied liberation forces of World War II.

In 1946, delegates to the security council of the United Nations held their first session in London.

A thought for the day: Roman lyric poet and satirist, Horace, once said: "Learn calm to face what's pressing."

'FUNNEL' SILHOUETTE

Eleanora Garnett of Rome designs this two-piece black linen dress for spring, cut short and full, with collarless slit neckline and funnel sleeves. The outfit features a short, easy fitting skirt and is topped off with a bright red straw renaissance beret.

THIS SLIM AND EASY three-part wool ensemble made its debut when Eleanora Garnett unveiled her spring collection in Rome. The straight-lined black and white plaid coat with round, stand-up collar is lined in deep coral to match the unfitted two-piece dress. (UPI photos)

Styles Mix To Form New Designs In Furnishings

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

American home furnishings have at last become a melting pot of design influences. This is apparent today at the International Furnishings market in Chicago at the Merchandise Mart and the American Furniture Market where the newest furniture styles are now on display.

Italian and contemporary design are mixed in a buffet, and a breakfast utilizes Spanish and Italian features with Moorish arch overlays. Italian legs find their way to French chests and vice versa.

Regency, the English 1810 to 1830 period, is the most popular of the classic styles shown. Regency chairs have saber legs, and acanthus leaf motif goes to sofas, tables, benches.

Some upholstered pieces have been influenced by Spanish, Greek, English and French styles of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries.

A new upholstered group of 40 pieces by Paul McCobb with hight backed chairs and sofas, fabrics of woven nylon and textured vinyl in brilliant shades of raspberry, orange and apple green are shown for the first time. It hasn't been possible heretofore to reproduce such vivid shades in vinyl.

A typically updated American furniture group shows rush seats, antique trap hinges, cane inserts and plank effects. In one collection rattan is manipulated into square forms permitting curving and modeling, a new achievement.

White painted surfaces evident at last winter's show are back en masse with the full treatment— gilt, brush strokes, touches of color and a "distressed" appearance.

Apartment-sized furniture in traditional walnut finish adds interest, with drawer fronts in sections of orange, white and green, plastic table tops and cane on sofas.

Furniture the family can grow with includes double-decker beds with desk or dresser attached that may be used as twin beds with a desk leaf at the foot.

Window tables are long and low with benches that double as snack tables. Architectural pieces give the appearance of built-ins. Dinette tables have graduated from the dinette area and are larger, longer and more decorative.

The natural beauty of wood is dramatized. Old standbys such as walnut, cherry, mahogany, oak look good alone or used with inlays of other woods. Newer exotic favorites such as teak, rosewood, pecan, zebrawood, primavera are combined, too, for unusual effects. A swirl grained wood, "violin burl," used on fiddles for ages, is another addition to the exotic woods now used in furniture.

Little Youngster Tries Out Words With Puzzling Result

Small Joan was playing on the sidewalk. Workmen were laying pipe in the street near her. Joan was fascinated by their way of talking. She'd never heard profanity before. She listened carefully. She practiced swearing until she had the words down pat.

That afternoon she used them herself. Her mother was entertaining. During a lull in the conversation Joan came up with some choice d-ns and h—'s. There was a gasp, then a gale of laughter. Sweet little Joan, using such words! It was too funny! Joan enjoyed the attention.

The next evening at dinner Joan tried again. She expected laughter. Instead she got anger. She was scolded, whipped and sent to bed. Joan felt hurt and puzzled. Can you blame her? One day it was funny, the next day it was awful. Why were grownups so changeable?

I hope you're doing a better job than Joan's parents. You should try to be consistent. Then your children can learn faster than Joan is learning. Ideas of right and wrong are hard to understand at best. Many of our fine distinctions are not clear to youngsters. They require a lot of explaining and guiding.

If you add inconsistency to the picture, confusion is sure to follow. Not only should you try to be consistent from day to day, but also you should come to an agreement with your spouse, so you won't differ between yourselves. That may not be easy to do, but you can try. One sure way to produce a delinquent, rebellious teen-ager is for one parent to be extremely strict, and the other extremely indulgent.

(Q)—"A psychologist told me that all I needed to do was to love my children deeply, and they would turn out all right? Do you agree?" — Mrs. W.W.

(A)—I do not. Love is necessary, but so are guidance and discipline. Love without guidance and discipline seems to produce self-centered, scatterbrained, irresponsible adults.

Publisher Sees Crisis Ahead In Industry

Mill Valley's Awareness Group heard a talk on "The View From Here" by Thomas F. Collison, Mill Valley, publisher, at its luncheon meeting Monday at The Gallery.

The first problem he discussed was the crisis in the publications industry.

"The communications industry is in one of the most catastrophic revolutions in the history of man," he declared. "Not since the invention of the printing press . . . has the world seen anything like it."

He went on to describe the disappearance of magazines and newspapers, such as the Los Angeles Examiner and Mirror, predicting there will be more "funerals" in the next five years.

Partly responsible, he explained, is the outdated machinery of publications which has to be constantly repaired at great cost and further creating a situation in which labor is "schooled in obsolescence."

"In Europe there were many processes employed that we haven't learned about or had access to until the last three or four years," he said.

He maintained that it is probably to late to do anything about it now but that the machinery companies and especially the U.S. Justice department could have done something about it by lifting the embargoes on foreign equipment.

"If the thesis is valid that American culture is dependent upon what we read," he emphathese hardships on the publication indutsry are germane."

Collison went on to discuss his conception of the differences between mere printing and publication, in which a definite campaign is waged to bring projects to fruition rather than waiting for them to develop.

He concluded by defining his position on a wide variety of subjects including the Pt. Reyes National Seashore, political parties, "Momism" and the evils of boys over the age of 10 being taught exclusively by women, and the inevitability of a thermo-nuclear war.

FAMILY FARE

Relaxation, Leisure Time Required By Bread-Winner

A wife may not be able to change the machine age or slow down the pace of big business but there's a lot she can do to keep her husband healthy and relaxed when he's off the job.

Her efforts in this area can make her life happier, too.

Plan a domestic "decompression chamber." At the end of the day a man needs a breathing spell, a time to unwind before playing with the children and listening to household problems. Try to give him a quiet half-hour of your attention after he steps in the door. Don't nag or chatter.

Encourage relaxation around the house whenever possible.

Plan an occasional overnight trip just for two of you to vary the routine of your lives. A change of scene can be very refreshing.

Don't go overboard on ambitious do-it-yourself projects. It's very easy to allow these to pile up, so that your husband is spending the majority of his leisure time as Mr. Fix-it.

Take over the household bills, if agreeable to your husband. Many wives handle most of the details of family budgeting.

Encourage him to find an absorbing hobby. Whether it's tinkering with a hi-fi set, teaching Sunday school, collecting stamps or birdwatching, hobbies provide a relaxing outlet for a man.

Consult the experts when trouble arises. Instead of stewing over problems, get them straightened out promptly. Doctors, lawyers, accountants and teachers are there to help you both and are worth the time and money to see them.

Watch your husband's diet and drink. If your husband is everweight help him to lose by planning meals. There are dozens of good cookbooks on this subject. And dwelling on physical care—use all your powers of persuasion to see that he visits the family doctor for regular checkups.

Help your husband to get regular exercise. This isn't easy for a busy man but it's very necessary If he can't find time for tennis, golf or bowling, try to get him out walking. It's probably the best exercise there is.

Encourage him to participate in strictly masculine activities, such as fishing or poker.

Declarer played a low trump from dummy at the first trick, won the trump return in his hand and wondered what to do about his low diamonds. He had already lost a spade and was sure to lose a heart. How was he to avoid the loss of two diamonds?

Only an expert would think of finessing with a singleton.

Naturally, East won with the king of clubs. West subsequently got the king of diamonds and the ace of hearts. Down one.

POOR EXCUSE: South tried to defend his strange finesse. "I could make the contract," he said, "if West had the king of diamonds or the king of clubs. I played him for the king of clubs rather than the king of diamonds. It was just a guess. Haven't you ever guessed wrong?"

It sounds logical until you examine the excuse more closely. You do have to find either the king of diamonds or the king of clubs in the West hand, but it's wrong to play the clubs ahead of the diamonds.

If you try the club finesse first and lose it, you cannot recover. If you begin by leading a low diamond toward dummy, you have the chance to find the king of diamonds in the West hand. If this chance goes sour, you can regain the lead and try the club finesse.

In short, you can try for both kings if you play diamonds first. You can try for only one if you play clubs first.

Answer: Bid one spade. You would double for a takeout if the opening bid were one club because you would be ready for any response. You are not ready for a club response.

Hedge Thief Reported In Ross

People who live on Woodside Way in Ross aren't going to tolerate hedge thieves.

John Sias, a Woodside Way resident, has reported four English laurels were dug up and hauled away Monday from a hedge recently planted by his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Hamilton.

Sias said he is offering $20 reward—the value of the laurels—for any information leading to apprehension of the thief.

Early Steel Pact Is Hoped For

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy administration is giving the old college try in its hope of changing the pattern of prime labor crises.

Americans are used by now to important labor-management negotiations going down to the final deadline for strike, with tension mounting over possible calamities to companies, workers and public alike. The suspense often takes a toll itself—in nerves, in bitterness, in money, in economic disruption.

In the upcoming steel contract talks, widely labeled this year as crucial, the administration is hoping to get a pact well in advance of the July 1 strike deadline. The public would doubtless be the gainer, especially if the hurried-up talks don't set off another inflationary wage-price spiral.

But even the well-wishers for the success of the administration effort, and they are many, wonder if the goals the President set in his news conference Monday can be reached, human nature being what it is.

The president wants the early pact to halt a buildup in steel inventories already under way and likely to get up steam if the talks later should appear headed for deadlock. Such a buildup could upset the time table of the current recovery, and a subsequent letdown could disrupt the economy.

It is only natural for both labor and management negotiators to want to use any tool they can to win their points. One traditional tool is an approaching deadline whose increasing nearness inspires concessions to avoid a strike. Neither side would want a strike if it could get in other ways the concessions on which it has set its heart.

While the administration strives to get the steel talks under way and hopes for an early pact, it is urging steel users to avoid piling up steel stocks. Their increased orders, apparently for a hedge against a possible strike, has sent steel output to its highest weekly volume since early April 1960.

It is to the steel users' advantage to avoid piling up stocks beyound their current needs, the Iron Age points out today. The metal-working weekly says this would ease pressure on the market, eliminate the cost of carrying heavy stocks, and help prevent a possible business decline in the final months of the year, which would hurt them along with many others.

But the magazine also notes that many steel users feel they can't afford to gamble on any evidence to date that there won't be a strike or a hike in prices as a result of it or of a pact averting it. Company executives feel they can't afford to be caught without steel.

Red China's Purchase Of Grain Is Revealing

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China's new purchases of grain from France brings the total bought in the West to six and a half million tons and shows that the food shortages of the past three years are continuing.

Another sign is the tone of propaganda broadcasts from Peiping. In past years, they have promised that shortages would be overcome by bumper harvests. This year's predictions are almost humble.

Western observers believe this shows that the Chinese commune system shares the blame with natural causes for the shortages. The Chinese cannot predict the weather, but they do know that the commune program, opposed by the peasantry, will again be in force throughout the nation, and that lower crop yields can be expected as a result.

The communes, which provide for pooling not only the peasants' lands and tools but their living accommodations, were introduced in 1958 with great fanfare. Their existence coincides with the period of food shortages.

The New China News Agency transmissions from Peiping abroad have contained no criticism of the communes, which are backed by Communist Party chief Mao Tze-tung, but they have mentioned them only in passing in connection with agricultural plans.

"So far the weather has been favorable," a recent New China report said. "Wheat in Shantung and Honan provinces, the two major wheat producers in the Yellow River Basin, is being tended with care and is doing well. These two provinces were plagued by droughts in the past three years."

No target amount of grain production was announced, although this is a usual Communist practcie. The 1960 goal was set at 275 million tons, but there was no announcement on what the harvest actually totaled. Western observers believe it fell many millions of tons short of the mark.

Peiping's grain purchases in the West, however, were ample proof of the shortages, and the fact that the deals continue shows there is no alleviation of them.

The French purchase was a private and relatively small transaction with the firm of Louis Dreyfus. According to business circles here, some of the grain will be used to fill a gap left by Australian shipments, which were lower than expected. Australia sent China 360,000 tons of barley last year, but may not be able to send any this year because of lower production.

Peiping's purchases from its third Western supplier, Canada, are running close to the pace of 1961, according to reports available here. Last year, Canada sold 1,720,000 tons of wheat and 620,000 tons of barley to China.

Persons With 'Drive' Not Always Best

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Snap judgements usually are bad, according to psychological researchers who have just completed an 18-month study of man's ability to make good decisions.

The research team also reported last night that persons with "drive" are no better at making decisions than less energetic ones.

The findings resulted from the first phase of a project designed to find ways of training people "to make sound decisions under all circumstances," particularly in the field of space exploration.

The research project is being carried out by ACF Electronics, a division of ACF Industries, and the Catholic University of America. It is divided into four phases.

Phase Two, already started, seeks to determine whether man can be trained to make good decisions at all times. Phase Three will deal with the effect of stress on decision-making ability and Phase Four will be concerned with eliminating extraneous data in reaching a decision.

The researchers put 202 Air Force officer training cadets at Catholic University through a multitude of tests to determine how well they could make decisions.

Some of the conclusions were:

1. Those who consistently made good decisions used all the time available to them;

2. "He men" make no better or worse decisions than the less masculine kind;

3. Adventurous persons will make decisions involving higher risks than the more plodding types will, but the adventurers don't always bet on long shots —they just bet more heavily on the favorites.

Speaker Takes Fairfax Club On A Visit To Saudi Arabian Camp

By PATRICIA ZINN

The customs, religious beliefs and dress of the Arabs of Saudi Arabia formed the topic of a talk given by Mrs. Darrell Eastman of San Anselmo yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club.

In telling of visits to the Arab camps, the speaker, whose late husband was an executive with an American oil company, lived for 10 years among the Saudi Arabians in the towns of Dhahran and Abqaiq on the Persian Gulf Coast.

The hospitality, kindness and tolerance of these people of the land of sand and sun where the temperature is an average of 135 degrees, was unfolded as she took members of the club along on an excursion into a camp.

At the outset, the speaker pointed out that you never just call or "drop in." You are always invited and of course always accept."

Mrs. Eastman went on to tell of driving over the desert to within 10 miles of the camp and meeting the little boys who act as scouts. They relay the message of your arrival. "After parking the car some distance from the camp we would walk to the fringe of the camp where the Arab men in their long flowing robes would be gathered in front of their various abodes which could be tents, palm-fronded or adobe huts." The speaker pointed out that the women were never seen on such an occasion. "In that country the women have no voice but they are respected and never abused."

"As the Arab men began to walk in our direction it was a signal for us to do likewise. Their first gesture upon meeting is a blessing or salutation from Allah. After this we would proceed to the tent where the rug is the sole furniture. We would always remove our shoes for the rug serves not only as a tablecloth but also as a bed or even a covering over head. Once seated, we were always first offered their most precious gift -- water. This is followed by the serving of coffee which for the Arabs is a formal ceremony.

The speaker went on to tell of the making of the coffee by the little boys from the coffee beans. She displayed the various bottles and coffee pots used by these peoples.

"The coffee is always served first to the host. Only the right hand is used in both eating and drinking for the left hand is believed to be unclean." Mrs. Eastman pointed out that one never refuses a cup of coffee and if you take a second cup you must always take a third. After the visitors have been served, the cups are passed always without washing, to those next in rank.

After coffee, the boys would bring in the food on a large tray. She went on to tell of sitting around the tray heaped with rice and topped with lamb, a goat or even chickens. "Always with the right hand we would simply reach down and scoop up the rice or tear off a piece of the meat."

After the meal, we would cleanse our hands either in water or with the sand. This was followed by the passing of the incense and the rose water.

"The rose water, said Mrs. Eastman, is a signal for the guests to arise and leave."

Mrs. Eastman was most fortunate to have the opportunity to visit the hut of the women and at this point she donned the mask, veil and garments of the Arabian women. "They were most fascinated by my nail polish and also embarrassed because I did not have my face covered."

The speaker, who has been around the world five times, concluded her remarks, with the most impressive Arab prayer at sunset.

Mrs. Eastman was introduced by Mrs. Paul Hammer, program chairman, and past president of the club.

Morris-Quintana Vows Exchanged At Point Reyes

Miss Fidela Quintana became the bride of Joseph Allen Morhis of Novato when they were recently united in marriage at the home of Judge D. R. Baty at Pt. Reyes Station.

The new bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Quintana of Campbell, and Mr. Morris is the son of Mrs. F. E. Morris of Denver, Colo.

For the ceremony, Miss Quintana wore an aqua blue satin dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Tony Quintana was matron of honor and brother of the bride, Tony Quintana was best man.

Other family members present at the wedding were the bride's brother, and sister, Roger and Aurora Quintana.

While Mr. Morris, Mate 1/C in the U.S. Navy, is on tour of duty, the bride will make her home in Novato.

Industrial Designer's New Home Described As Cave And Pavilion

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

GARRISON, N.Y.—High on a hill overlooking the beautiful Hudson River, Russell Wright, the industrial designer, has built a home that one observer calls "Part cave, part forest pavilion."

It is an experimental house where Wright, a widower, tests new materials, new ideas in construction, decoration and design, and which he occupies with daughter, Ann, 11, and a housekeeper-governess.

Wright's house is built alongside the cliffs of an old quarry and its 11 levels cling to the rugged terrain as if nature had planned the setting for the wood and glass structure.

Actually, Wright said when he gave us a tour of the home, he rearranged nature extensively. He diverted a stream so it would spill into the quarry to form a waterfall and swimming pool as deep as 20 feet in some places.

He also rearranged some of the outcroppings of rock, with the help of a derrick, block and tackle, construction crew and local stone masons.

Birch, hemlock and other trees were cleared to expose the jagged vertical quarry walls which, if you use your imagination, create the shape of a dragon. Hence, the 57-year-old designer's name for his home, "Dragon Rock."

Wright said he's been building the house for "four or five years," doing a lot of the work himself on weekends and vacations when he could get away from his office and other residence in Manhattan.

"I wanted the house to look part of the surroundings, yet contrast with nature occasionally," said Wright. "I like the contrast of the machine-made and the natural."

Nature is brought inside every room in the form of laminated butterfly, leaf and flower panels; in Hemlock needles embedded in green plaster walls; in the sound of the waterfall heard in every room; in the giant fireplace in the living room, formed with native stone of all sizes; in the weathered oak beams treated only with a preservative; in the stone steps and floor of the two-level living room and in the single spire of rugged red cedar trunk, two stories tall, which supports the major beam of the main house.

The Wright house consists of two units — a studio building which contains guest facilities and the designer's studio-bedroom, windowed on three sides for a maximum view of the woodland; and a main building, also divided into two parts — a den-balcony, bathrooms, two-level living room, dining room, and kitchen, and the "harem" quarters occupied by his daughter and the housekeeper.

His daughter's bath includes a sunken tub with water pouring from stone. It opens onto a terrace where there are barbecue facilities. The terrace in turns leads downhill to dressing rooms for the use of her and her playmates after a swim.

Wright said one of the masons who helped with the construction observed "Tihs is the only house I know where you can take a bath, step out and roast a chicken, and bring it back in to eat."

Wright said that about 3,000 hours of drafting went into the overall planning of the residence and that its interior will change frequently because "If you're working for clients and you're assigned a problem, you have to experiment, so you experiment on yourself."

He wouldn't say how much the experimental home had cost, "Although I know right down to the penny." But it would have to run into the six-figure category.

MARIN MEETING

Sweet Adelines To Gather From Three-State Region

Delegates from Northern California, Utah, and Idaho will gather at the quarterly meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Central Pacific Region, on Saturday at Bel Aire School in Tiburon.

Mrs. Fred Stewart of Fresno, regent of region 12, will preside at the meeting for which the Marin Chapter is hostess. Women representing 20 chapters as well as the regional officers will attend.

The "Marin-ettes," the Marin Chapter, are providing the facilities for the meeting which will be followed by a dinner and a novice quartet contest and show. The Sweet Adelines are an international organization devoted to singing "barbershop style" and the contest is planned to give members the opportunity to perform and be judged without the pressure of sanctioned competition.

Mrs. John D. Harding of Mill Valley is the chairman for the day. She will be assisted by Mrs. Frank C. Sutliffe Jr., president of the Marin Chapter, Mesdames James O. Mithun, Paul L. Brown, Kurtis Webb, Charles Estudillo, Clifford Reiquam and Robert Kreps, all of Tiburon and Mrs. John Rose of San Geronimo.

EIL Student To Address Club Meet

Margaret Deedy, representative for the Experiment in International Living who spent the summer in Sweden, will be the speaker for the Corte Madera Women's Club Tuesday at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Mrs. William Turner, chairman for the Experiment in International Living at Redwood High School, will be introduced also by Mrs. Harvey Warne, program chairman, for the 1:30 p.m. meeting.

Margaret Deedy is a Redwood High School graduate and is currently a student at the College of Marin.

Hostesses for the day are Mesdames Ernest McCutcheon and Nettie McClaren.

Test To Determine Whether Cleaning Will Fade Garment

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Garments that lack colorfastness to drycleaning can be pre-tested, says Marjorie Mead, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist.

If the label does not say whether the garment can be dry cleaned or you have lost it, saturate a piece of white cheese cloth with water or dry cleaning solvent and rub the fabric. If any color is transferred from the fabric, you can be certain that drycleaning will cause removal of colored pigments. Color will become less intense.

WHAT DO 3 out of 4 DOCTORS RECOMMEND for TENSE, NERVOUS HEADACHES?

A Survey Also Reveals What Many Doctors, Themselves, Take When They Have Headache Pain.

New York, N.Y. — Medical reports confirm tense, nervous headaches are by far the most common kind and are caused by tension that presses on the nerves. But fortunately, one can get remarkable relief in minutes with a special tablet that not only relieves pain but also the emotional tension, mental fatigue and depression that usually accompany such headaches.

Tense, nervous headaches call for the stronger yet safer medication in Anacin®. A survey reveals 3 out of 4 doctors recommend the fast, pain-relieving ingredients in Anacin. In fact, many doctors themselves rely on this same type relief when they have a headache.

Anacin Tablets give fast, prolonged and — more complete relief than aspirin or buffered aspirin. You see, Anacin is different and contains special medication not found in aspirin or buffered aspirin. It's this extra medication that not only relieves pain, but also relaxes its tension and releases painful pressure on nerves.

Despite their strength and effectiveness—Anacin Tablets contain no narcotics, do not form a habit or leave one depressed. Anacin Tablets are so safe, they may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting or irritating the stomach.

See if the extra medication in stronger yet safe Anacin doesn't work better for you. Change to Anacin for fast, long-lasting and more complete relief.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 17, the 17th day of the year with 348 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

There are no morning or evening stars.

On this day in history:

In 1806, the first baby ever born in the White House occurred when Martha Jefferson Randolph, daughter of President Thomas Jefferson, gave birth to a son.

In 1917, the United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark for 25 million dollars.

In 1944, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower assumed command of the Allied liberation forces of World War II.

In 1946, delegates to the security council of the United Nations held their first session in London.

A thought for the day: Roman lyric poet and satirist, Horace, once said: "Learn calm to face what's pressing."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Declarer played a low trump from dummy at the first trick, won the trump return in his hand and wondered what to do about his low diamonds. He had already lost a spade and was sure to lose a heart. How was he to avoid the loss of two diamonds?

South then hit on a master stroke—the only way to lose his contract. He led the club from his hand and finessed dummy's queen.

Only an expert would think of finessing with a singleton.

Naturally, East won with the king of clubs. West subsequently got the king of diamonds and the ace of hearts. Down one.

POOR EXCUSE: South tried to defend his strange finesse. "I could make the contract," he said, "if West had the king of diamonds or the king of clubs. I played him for the king of clubs rather than the king of diamonds. It was just a guess. Haven't you ever guessed wrong?"

It sounds logical until you examine the excuse more closely. You do have to find either the king of diamonds or the king of clubs in the West hand, but it's wrong to play the clubs ahead of the diamonds.

If you try the club finesse first and lose it, you cannot recover. If you begin by leading a low diamond toward dummy, you have the chance to find the king of diamonds in the West hand. If this chance goes sour, you can regain the lead and try the club finesse.

In short, you can try for both kings if you play diamonds first. You can try for only one if you play clubs first.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond. You hold:

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. You would double for a takeout if the opening bid were one club because you would be ready for any response. You are not ready for a club response.

Biology Teachers' Group Meeting Slated Tomorrow

Speakers from five Marin schools will address the Marin Assn. of Biology Teachers at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Room 211 of Redwood High School, Gordon Chan, president, announced today.

Those who will speak on the subject, "The Advantages of National Science Foundation Institutes," are Leon Bennett of Tamalpais High School; Walter Benson, Santa Venetia Junior High School; Steve Bruff, College of Marin; Norman Goldstein Jr. of Drake High School; and Pat Wilson of Katharine Branson School.

Questions and answers are invited and refreshments will be served, Chan said. There also will be a tour of Redwood High's biological laboratories.

Final Exams Underway At College Of Marin

If students of College of Marin seem to have that distant look in their eyes, it's just because they are thinking of exams.

Today final examinations started. They will run through Jan. 26. After a semester break of one week, the spring semester will begin Feb. 5.

Hedge Thief Reported In Ross

People who live on Woodside Way in Ross aren't going to tolerate hedge thieves.

John Sias, a Woodside Way resident, has reported four English laurels were dug up and hauled away Monday from a hedge recently planted by his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Hamilton.

Sias said he is offering $20 reward—the value of the laurels—for any information leading to apprehension of the thief.

Early Steel Pact Is Hoped For

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy administration is giving the old college try in its hope of changing the pattern of prime labor crises.

Americans are used by now to important labor-management negotiations going down to the final deadline for strike, with tension mounting over possible calamities to companies, workers and public alike. The suspense often takes a toll itself—in nerves, in bitterness, in money, in economic disruption.

In the upcoming steel contract talks, widely labeled this year as crucial, the administration is hoping to get a pact well in advance of the July 1 strike deadline. The public would doubtless be the gainer, especially if the hurried-up talks don't set off another inflationary wage-price spiral.

But even the well-wishers for the success of the administration effort, and they are many, wonder if the goals the President set in his news conference Monday can be reached, human nature being what it is.

The president wants the early pact to halt a buildup in steel inventories already under way and likely to get up steam if the talks later should appear headed for deadlock. Such a buildup could upset the time table of the current recovery, and a subsequent letdown could disrupt the economy.

It is only natural for both labor and management negotiators to want to use any tool they can to win their points. One traditional tool is an approaching deadline whose increasing nearness inspires concessions to avoid a strike. Neither side would want a strike if it could get in other ways the concessions on which it has set its heart.

While the administration strives to get the steel talks under way and hopes for an early pact, it is urging steel users to avoid piling up steel stocks. Their increased orders, apparently for a hedge against a possible strike, has sent steel output to its highest weekly volume since early April 1960.

It is to the steel users' advantage to avoid piling up stocks beyound their current needs, the Iron Age points out today. The metal-working weekly says this would ease pressure on the market, eliminate the cost of carrying heavy stocks, and help prevent a possible business decline in the final months of the year, which would hurt them along with many others.

But the magazine also notes that many steel users feel they can't afford to gamble on any evidence to date that there won't be a strike or a hike in prices as a result of it or of a pact averting it. Company executives feel they can't afford to be caught without steel.

Red China's Purchase Of Grain Is Revealing

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China's new purchases of grain from France brings the total bought in the West to six and a half million tons and shows that the food shortages of the past three years are continuing.

Another sign is the tone of propaganda broadcasts from Peiping. In past years, they have promised that shortages would be overcome by bumper harvests. This year's predictions are almost humble.

Western observers believe this shows that the Chinese commune system shares the blame with natural causes for the shortages. The Chinese cannot predict the weather, but they do know that the commune program, opposed by the peasantry, will again be in force throughout the nation, and that lower crop yields can be expected as a result.

The communes, which provide for pooling not only the peasants' lands and tools but their living accommodations, were introduced in 1958 with great fanfare. Their existence coincides with the period of food shortages.

The New China News Agency transmissions from Peiping abroad have contained no criticism of the communes, which are backed by Communist Party chief Mao Tze-tung, but they have mentioned them only in passing in connection with agricultural plans.

"So far the weather has been favorable," a recent New China report said. "Wheat in Shantung and Honan provinces, the two major wheat producers in the Yellow River Basin, is being tended with care and is doing well. These two provinces were plagued by droughts in the past three years."

No target amount of grain production was announced, although this is a usual Communist practcie. The 1960 goal was set at 275 million tons, but there was no announcement on what the harvest actually totaled. Western observers believe it fell many millions of tons short of the mark.

Peiping's grain purchases in the West, however, were ample proof of the shortages, and the fact that the deals continue shows there is no alleviation of them.

The French purchase was a private and relatively small transaction with the firm of Louis Dreyfus. According to business circles here, some of the grain will be used to fill a gap left by Australian shipments, which were lower than expected. Australia sent China 360,000 tons of barley last year, but may not be able to send any this year because of lower production.

Peiping's purchases from its third Western supplier, Canada, are running close to the pace of 1961, according to reports available here. Last year, Canada sold 1,720,000 tons of wheat and 620,000 tons of barley to China.

Persons With 'Drive' Not Always Best

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Snap judgements usually are bad, according to psychological researchers who have just completed an 18-month study of man's ability to make good decisions.

The research team also reported last night that persons with "drive" are no better at making decisions than less energetic ones.

The findings resulted from the first phase of a project designed to find ways of training people "to make sound decisions under all circumstances," particularly in the field of space exploration.

The research project is being carried out by ACF Electronics, a division of ACF Industries, and the Catholic University of America. It is divided into four phases.

Phase Two, already started, seeks to determine whether man can be trained to make good decisions at all times. Phase Three will deal with the effect of stress on decision-making ability and Phase Four will be concerned with eliminating extraneous data in reaching a decision.

The researchers put 202 Air Force officer training cadets at Catholic University through a multitude of tests to determine how well they could make decisions.

Some of the conclusions were:

1. Those who consistently made good decisions used all the time available to them;

2. "He men" make no better or worse decisions than the less masculine kind;

3. Adventurous persons will make decisions involving higher risks than the more plodding types will, but the adventurers don't always bet on long shots —they just bet more heavily on the favorites.

FRANK HOWARD ALLEN & SON

$19,950 TO $30,900

$1,000 Down — $19,950 — Novato
The low down payment makes this 3 bedroom, 2 bath home available to service personnel. It's a large lot (quarter acre) on a quiet cul de sac, near school. Door from master bedroom to level yard.

Good Construction — $25,950 — San Rafael
The man who built this was a master craftsman, built the home for himself, so it's done well. Three bedrooms, 2 baths, dinette in kitchen. Fireplace, view, close to both elementary and high schools. Wall-to-wall carpeting, living room drapes. Nice garden includes hothouse.

Commercial — $27,500 — Corte Madera
A 5-room ark, in need of paint and some repair, is on this commercial land. Almost a half acre of valuable property, at Corte Madera Creek, with easy access to Highway 101. Ideal for boat launching, with bay access. A-257.

Danish Modern Early Colonial — $29,250 — Loma Verde
Either decor is well-suited to this immaculate home which adjoins the Marin Golf and Country Club. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths ,den, family dining room, terrace off living room. Well-landscaped with lawn ,professionally-selected plants, trees; paths, play-yard. Completely fenced, private. Nice wooded outlook.

Roomy — $29,500 — Fairfax
With 4 bedrooms and 3 baths, there's plenty of room here for a large family. Large dining room, den downstairs with built-in bookcases on 3 walls. View across the valley and over Sleepy Hollow to the mountain beyond.

Money's Worth — $29,950 — Corte Madera
These desirable features are here: entrance hall, family-room with glass doors to completely level yard, part of which is arbored and protected for outdoor entertainment; immaculate, large kitchen; 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, (large master bedroom with huge closet). In addition, the owner has created a second story in his garage to provide workroom-office space. Close to shopping.

Substantial — $30,500 — Strawberry Pt.
Well-built two-story home; sliding glass doors from large living room to two patios: one, a covered, completely walled "outdoor room," the other a large concrete patio the width of the house. Airy feeling established by two-story glass wall with stairs suspended against it. Large kitchen, den; 2 baths, 3 bedrooms. Neighborhood of nice homes.

Doc Is Desperate — $30,900 — Kentfield
This Kentfield listing of salesman Doc's hasn't sold yet; the owners have moved, send anxious letters — all with the same message: "Sell!" And, frankly, it's a good buy. Large (2,600 sq. ft.) good neighborhood, grand view. 3 large bedrooms, 2 baths, fireplaces in both rumpus room and living room; nice kitchen, deck. Call Doc in our San Anselmo office to see it.

Spanish Class Starts Monday In Sausalito

A class in conversational Spanish for beginners and intermediates will be started Monday at 8 p.m. at the Bayside School library in Sausalito, Charles E. Merrill Jr., chairman of the People-to-People Committee of Sausalito, announced today.

Class demand, Merrill said, has been stimulated by the many visitors during the past months from Chile and Vina Del Mar, Chile, Sausalito's sister city.

Mrs. Charles Dean Edwards of Sausalito will teach the class to be given over a 10-week period, each Monday. A fee will be charged. Registration will be held immediately prior to Monday's class at the school at Nevada and Water streets.

The Arcade Building, built in 1827-28 in Providence, R. I., is the sole survivor of many such "temples of trade" built in America during the Greek Revival period. The building's 12 columns each weigh 12 tons.

Education Board Applications In

Four applications for the county board of education to replace Theodore V. Cole, who resigned in December, have been received by the board, it has been announced.

Harry N. Press, chairman of the selections committee, said a choice would be made by the Feb. 5 meeting of the board.

All applicants for the post are from the Novato area, Press said. The committee would not divulge the names of applicants as a matter of policy, he said. Serving with Press on the selections committee are Robert S. Randolph and Mrs. Alce Ann Rust.

Poem Recitation To Aid Library

Florence Locke, interpreter of drama and poetry, will recite Hermann Hagedorn's poem, "The Bomb That Fell on America," at 8 p.m., Feb. 2, in Mill Valley's Old Mill School.

The performance will benefit the school libarary.

Miss Locke of Bolinas, is literary director for the Browning Society in San Francisco.

Cal-Vet Bond Savings Told By Treasurer

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California will need to sell less than 100 million dollars annually in Cal-Vet bonds for the next 10 years to meet the demand for veteran farm and home loans, Bert A. Betts, state treasurer, has announced.

Betts said this is less than half the annual requirement at the present time. Primarily, the demand for veteran loans has decreased and is expected to continue to decrease.

Betts pointed out that the reduction over the next 10 year period will amount to almost a billion dollars.

"This will be of invaluable aid to the credit of California," he decalred. "It will be a big help in meeting our future bonding requirements and in maintaining a low interest cost on our water, school and building program bonds."

In addition, the state treasurer pointed out that "the efficient administration of the Cal-Vet program by Director Joseph Farber has brought administrative costs down to the lowest in the history of the program, approximately three tenths of one percent.

Tam Sanitation

Directors of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District discussed amendment of an ordinance to make changes in fee schedules Monday night and then adjourned to Jan. 24, to continue the discussion. No action was taken, according to Chairman Richard P. Bouvard.

Graduation Prayers Come Under Fire

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A faculty committee at Sacramento State College is looking into the customary practice of saying prayers at the beginning and end of commencement exercises.

A petition with 14 faculty signatures protesting the prayers as distasteful was received last spring.

The committee appointed to investigate has sent questionnaires to all 500 faculty members.

The questionnaires ask whether the faculty would like to see the prayers abolished.

"We're just making sure," said committee member Charles F. Howard. "We probably won't change anything unless an overwhelming majority of faculty members want to."

"I think," he added, "that the overwhelming majority will oppose any change."

Howard said the prayers are usually non-sectarian.

The idea of using satellites for communication was suggested by Arthur C. Clarke, a British science writer, as early as 1945.

4-H CLUB EVENT

The 12th annual Marin Mounted 4-H Club Junior Horse Show will be held on Feb. 24 and 25 at the Circle V Ranch at Fairfax, it was announced today.

There is no admission charge to the event which will offer competition in 24 events utilizing both English and western riding styles. Silver trophies will be awarded for first place in each event. Contestants must be under 18 years of age.

Judging the English division of this year's event will be H. T. Schaps of Auburn. Don Dodge of Sacramento will judge the western division.

Officials of the show are Beverly Mager, manager; Gerry Buckley, secretary; Tom Lowe, treasurer; Gene Lockhart, steward; Tom Balzarini, ring master.

Among competitive events scheduled are hunters, open jumpers, barrel jumping, hunt seat equitation, trail horses, stock horse dry work, pleasure horses and bareback riding.

Last year, 257 horses were entered in the two-day competition. It is the largest junior horse show staged in Northern California other than the Junior Grand Nationals, according to the sponsors.

Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

HOME FOR HAPPY SHOPPERS

If you like to shop in a friendly store and still receive the very highest quality foods at the best possible savings—you'll enjoy shopping at Drake. We won't try to figure out which came first the customer or the smile—but our staff are all smiling . . . and our customers, too. We enjoy serving the people who visit our store . . . and, somehow, we get the idea that they enjoy shopping in our store. Why not come in and see if you can find out why?

Cal-Vet Bond Savings Told By Treasurer

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California will need to sell less than 100 million dollars annually in Cal-Vet bonds for the next 10 years to meet the demand for veteran farm and home loans, Bert A. Betts, state treasurer, has announced.

Betts said this is less than half the annual requirement at the present time. Primarily, the demand for veteran loans has decreased and is expected to continue to decrease.

Betts pointed out that the reduction over the next 10 year period will amount to almost a billion dollars.

"This will be of invaluable aid to the credit of California," he decalred. "It will be a big help in meeting our future bonding requirements and in maintaining a low interest cost on our water, school and building program bonds."

In addition, the state treasurer pointed out that "the efficient administration of the Cal-Vet program by Director Joseph Farber has brought administrative costs down to the lowest in the history of the program, approximately three tenths of one percent.

Tam Sanitation

Directors of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District discussed amendment of an ordinance to make changes in fee schedules Monday night and then adjourned to Jan. 24, to continue the discussion. No action was taken, according to Chairman Richard P. Bouvard.

4-H CLUB EVENT

The 12th annual Marin Mounted 4-H Club Junior Horse Show will be held on Feb. 24 and 25 at the Circle V Ranch at Fairfax, it was announced today.

There is no admission charge to the event which will offer competition in 24 events utilizing both English and western riding styles. Silver trophies will be awarded for first place in each event. Contestants must be under 18 years of age.

Judging the English division of this year's event will be H. T. Schaps of Auburn. Don Dodge of Sacramento will judge the western division.

Officials of the show are Beverly Mager, manager; Gerry Buckley, secretary; Tom Lowe, treasurer; Gene Lockhart, steward; Tom Balzarini, ring master.

Among competitive events scheduled are hunters, open jumpers, barrel jumping, hunt seat equitation, trail horses, stock horse dry work, pleasure horses and bareback riding.

Last year, 257 horses were entered in the two-day competition. It is the largest junior horse show staged in Northern California other than the Junior Grand Nationals, according to the sponsors.

Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

Spanish Class Starts Monday In Sausalito

A class in conversational Spanish for beginners and intermediates will be started Monday at 8 p.m. at the Bayside School library in Sausalito, Charles E. Merrill Jr., chairman of the People-to-People Committee of Sausalito, announced today.

Class demand, Merrill said, has been stimulated by the many visitors during the past months from Chile and Vina Del Mar, Chile, Sausalito's sister city.

Mrs. Charles Dean Edwards of Sausalito will teach the class to be given over a 10-week period, each Monday. A fee will be charged. Registration will be held immediately prior to Monday's class at the school at Nevada and Water streets.

The Arcade Building, built in 1827-28 in Providence, R. I., is the sole survivor of many such "temples of trade" built in America during the Greek Revival period. The building's 12 columns each weigh 12 tons.

Education Board Applications In

Four applications for the county board of education to replace Theodore V. Cole, who resigned in December, have been received by the board, it has been announced.

Harry N. Press, chairman of the selections committee, said a choice would be made by the Feb. 5 meeting of the board.

All applicants for the post are from the Novato area, Press said. The committee would not divulge the names of applicants as a matter of policy, he said. Serving with Press on the selections committee are Robert S. Randolph and Mrs. Alce Ann Rust.

Poem Recitation To Aid Library

Florence Locke, interpreter of drama and poetry, will recite Hermann Hagedorn's poem, "The Bomb That Fell on America," at 8 p.m., Feb. 2, in Mill Valley's Old Mill School.

The performance will benefit the school libarary.

Miss Locke of Bolinas, is literary director for the Browning Society in San Francisco.

Graduation Prayers Come Under Fire

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A faculty committee at Sacramento State College is looking into the customary practice of saying prayers at the beginning and end of commencement exercises.

A petition with 14 faculty signatures protesting the prayers as distasteful was received last spring.

The committee appointed to investigate has sent questionnaires to all 500 faculty members.

The questionnaires ask whether the faculty would like to see the prayers abolished.

"We're just making sure," said committee member Charles F. Howard. "We probably won't change anything unless an overwhelming majority of faculty members want to."

"I think," he added, "that the overwhelming majority will oppose any change."

Howard said the prayers are usually non-sectarian.
